A nationally known scientific method. No under straps or cumbersome arrangements and absolutely no medicines or medical treatments.

Wisconsin, and to this union were born nine boys and four girls, three boys and one girl dying in infancy. His wife predeceased him in death in 1933, and also one daughter, Mrs. Lee Brown, with whom he was making his home.

He leaves to mourn his passing, six sons, William, Wallace, Elmer, Jack, Bert and De Forest, all living in the vicinity of Weeping Water.

Two daughters, Mrs. Ella Cook and Mrs. Jennie Dawson, both of Gandy, Nebraska, and one brother, James Philpot, of Gandy. Thirty-one grandchildren and forty-four great-grandchildren, together with a host of friends.

Mr. Philpot with his wife and two oldest sons, William and Wallace, traveled from Illinois to Cass County, Nebraska, in a covered wagon, in 1872, and settled on a farm seven miles northeast of Weeping Water.

During the passing of the years, he acquired several farms in this country and a large ranch in Logan County, where he spent much of his time for a number of years.

He helped to organize the home school district No. 80 in this county and was a member of the school board for several years. He took an active interest in the welfare of the First National Bank of Weeping Water and was the president of that institution for several years. He was one of the oldest of the pioneers left in this community, and the oldest member of Euclid Lodge No. 97, A. F. & A. M. at the time of his death, being a 32nd degree Mason.

The changes which have been wrought in this country of ours since Mr. Philpot's birth are almost incomprehensible, and no one was more interested in those changes than he. He liked to sit and talk about the difference between the conditions during his childhood days and was keenly alert to the changes taking place during the passing of the years.

During his lifetime he saw the country grow from virgin prairie to a land filled with transportation facilities by land, air and water—which exceeded the highest dreams of the pioneers. Telephones, telegrams and cablegrams circle the globe, and from the prairies have risen homes filled with luxurious mechanical devices, and connected by telephone, rural mail delivery, radio and good highways. He liked to talk about them. Since the death of his wife and his daughter he has spent much time away from Weeping Water with his daughters at Gandy, but he was always delighted to get back "home" to visit with his friends. On account of the infirmities of age, during the past year he has been confined to the hospital most of the time and death came as a relief to his suffering.

The funeral, which was in charge of the Masonic lodge, was held at the Congregational church in Weeping Water Sunday afternoon, July 16. Rev. G. S. Hunt preached the funeral sermon. Victor Wallack sang "They are Going Down the Valley, One by One," accompanied by Miss Katherine Ellis at the pipe organ.

Interment was made in Oakwood cemetery, with six of his grandsons acting as pallbearers.

Out of town relatives who attended the funeral were Mr. and Mrs. Adam Cook, Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Cook, Dwight Cook, James Philpot, Mrs. Jennie Dawson and daughter and Charles Dill, all of Gandy; Mr. and Mrs. Williams, Mr. and Mrs. Harry Chittick, all of Pawnee City; the Misses Amy and Mimi Wright, of Nebraska City; Mr. and Mrs. Roy Barrett and son, of Havelock; Mr. and Mrs. Ed Wright and son, Mr. and Mrs. Lloyd Knight, Dewey Barrett, Mr. and Mrs. Will Rapp and family, all of Omaha; Mr. and Mrs. Al Rau and family, of Walthill; Mr. and Mrs. Grant Didering and family, of Council Bluffs; Lawrence Colbert and daughter, of Hastings, and Mrs. Albert Snell, of Riverdale, Nebraska.
