Local Legion Team Forfeits to Syracuse

In Exhibition Contest However the Pickup Local Team Wins by
Score of 5 to 1.

Thursday afternoon the Syracuse Junior Legion baseball team with their manager Bob Pickering, came up to play their closing game with the local Legion Juniors and found that they had a forfeited game to carry home as the locals had several of their players at work and unable to play. Manager Johnson forfeited the game to Syracuse who are now in the first place in the district.

The Syracuse boys had come to play ball and with Ault and Hayes supplementing the Legion team, an exhibition contest was staged, the locals were the winners by 5 to 1 from their guests.

Joe Noble was the moundsman for the Plattsmouth and played a fine game of ball as he allowed but one hit and Syracuse scored their run after Burely reached first on an error in center. The fielding of Parriott and Martin featured the game.

Hayes was the leader in the hitting and scoring, having two hits, one a home run, scored twice and had but no official two times at the plate. Ralph Hitt had one hit at two times at bat, a double.

Plattsmouth scored first in the second when Favours scored on the hit of Chovancec.

The merry-go-round for Syracuse, however, really broke down in the fourth when Ault was safe on an error and advanced to second to score on the double of Hitt, who scored with Hales on his homer.

4-H CLUB ACHIEVEMENT DAY

The members of the Just So 4-H club entertained their mothers and friends at their Achievement Day Friday afternoon at the home of their leader, Eleanor Giltes.

A regular business meeting was held with Jane Hitt presiding. In response to roll call each member answered with some interesting sidelight concerning the national organization of 4-H clubs. Seven members who have completed the requirements in this learning to sew project will receive achievement certificates.

A reading, "Wanted—a Girl" was given by Jane Hitt. Two piano selections were given by a guest, Mary Jean Hatt, who is a member of the Tip Top Cookers 4-H club.

Eileen Aylor demonstrated "Cotton Materials and Their Use," and a team demonstration on "Patterns" was given by Betty Schubeck and Mary Hitt.

4-H club yells by the members were led by the cheer leader, Eileen Aylor. The girls then sang two popular club songs, "4-H Pastoral" and "4-H Will Shine." The 4-H song, "Dreaming" was sung by Eleanor Giltes.

Awards for perfect attendance were presented to Mildred Loveless and Betty Schubeck by their leader. Honorable mention was received by Mary and Louise Miller who had missed only one of the ten meetings.

At the conclusion of the program mothers of the members and other guests gave comments concerning 4-H club activities.

Refreshments were served by Eleanor Giltes and the assistant leader, Ruth Ann Hatt, and the club members.

Out-of-town guests from Nehawka were Miss Evelyn Wolph, who is an outstanding 4-H club leader in the state; and four active 4-H members, Violet Hadley, Alice Wolph, Margie Ruth and Virginia Pollard.

Judging of the articles made by the girls was done by Miss Virginia Trively who won both state and national honors in 4-H judging contests in 1934.

The results were as follows:
Work Boxes—Mildred Loveless, 1st; Mary Hitt, 2nd; Louise Miller, 3rd.

Pin Cushions—Jane Hitt, 1st; Mildred Loveless, 2nd; Mary Miller, 3rd.
Needle Cases—Mildred Loveless, 1st; Mary Hitt, 2nd; Eileen Aylor, 3rd.

Kitchen Towels—Jane Hitt, 1st; Louise Miller, 2nd; Mary Miller, 3rd.
Hot Pad Holders—Eileen Aylor, 1st; Jane Hitt, 2nd; Mary Hitt, 3rd.
Stocking Darns—Jane Hitt, 1st; Betty Schubeck, 2nd; Mildred Loveless, 3rd.

Aprons—Jane Hitt, 1st; Betty Schubeck, 2nd; Eileen Aylor and Mildred Loveless, tied for 3rd.

WIN FROM FORT CROOK

From Saturday's Daily—
The Timm's Tavern Travelers last evening won a softball contest from the Fort Crook team by the score of 12 to 7, the game being a twilight affair at Athletic park. Turner hurled a very fine game for the local team.

"STITCH IN TIME"

Gwen Burton was hostess to the "Stitch in Time" learning to sew 4-H club when the girls worked on needle books and examined equipped sewing boxes and other illustrative material.

The program committee announced a nice program.
Joan Krapp demonstrated "Cutting," Alice Lanum "Machine Stitching," Doris Midkiff "Folding the Towel."

Ice cream, cake and iced tea were enjoyed by the girls.

"The Stitch in Time" 4-H club did not let the heat hinder their attending the meeting with Norma Lee Thoren Tuesday afternoon, July 11. Portfolios were demonstrated and several were partially made. In these little baskets the girls will put their best samples.

Roll call was answered by "My Idea of a 4-H Girl."

The following program was presented by the program committee: "Chop Sticks" Mary Lou Taylor and Joan Krapp; "ance, Donna Jean Embury; "Little Willie," Norma Lee Thoren; "Winkles, Blinks and Nods" Bonnie McVey; "An If for Girls," Aileen Doeden; "The Duel," Gwen Burton.

The kitchen hand towels were placed as follows:

Ages 10-13: Aileen Doeden, 1st; Joan Krapp, Mary Lou Taylor, 2nd; Billie Jean Midkiff, 3rd.

Ages 7-10: Alice Wolph, 1st; Suzanne Yeiser, 2nd; Norma Lee Thoren, 3rd.

Mrs. Thoren, Mrs. Doeden and Larry, Mrs. Edwards, Doris Anderson and Ramona Doeden of Elrod, South Dakota, were guests.

Bonnie McVey demonstrated the "chain stitch," Aileen Doeden "cross stitch" and Gwen Burton "blanket stitch."

Patterns were cut for the pot holders.

Norma Lee and her mother served refreshments.

The next meeting will be with Velma, Relda and Ruth Edwards when roll call will be "Uses of the Holder." Suzanne Yeiser will tell us of "Keeping a 4-H Girl's Clothes Trig and Trim" and Gwen Burton will tell us how to "Keep Stockings in Repair." Lois Lyons will demonstrate "The Stocking Darn."

MANY WEEK END WEDDINGS

The marriage market at the court house took an upward stride Saturday afternoon and evening with five licenses being issued by Judge A. H. Duxbury and who officiated at three of the ceremonies.

Marvin Raymond Johnson of Saroville, Nebraska, and Miss Marguerite Helen Blake, of Weeping Water, were one of the happy couples married by Judge Duxbury at his office. Mr. and Mrs. Charles S. Blake, Jr., the former brother of the bride, were the witnesses.

Ray E. Overstreet, Jr., of Omaha and Vesta E. Hickey, of Lincoln, also sought the services of Judge Duxbury to perform the wedding ceremony, the young people being accompanied by friends from Omaha.

Rev. J. C. Lowson was called upon to read the marriage lines for John Willard Bryan and Janice M. Petersen, both of Omaha, the wedding being held at the First Methodist church.

Frank Morocco and Ella Vera Gelsler, of Omaha, were united in marriage at the office of Judge Duxbury Saturday evening. Joe and Lena Babinato, friends of the bridal couple attending the ceremony as witnesses.

BATTLES HOT WEATHER

With the general trend of the public for air conditioning, Bob White, local taxi operator, is one jump ahead of the others. Bob has constructed a home made air conditioner in the front of his car under the dash. Here ice is stored and wind driven over the ice and bringing to the car and its occupants a cooling relief. It makes a ride in the taxi a real treat.

CASS COUNTY CANNERS

The "Cass County Canners" 4-H club had an interesting meeting with Eileen Christwiser Thursday afternoon, July 13.

Special reports were given on "Preserves, Marmalades, Conserve, Jams, Butters," by Mary Krecklow; "Pickles and Relishes" by Dorothy Tyson; "Fallures in Pickle Making and How to Avoid Them," Eda Tyson; "The Vegetable and Fruit Budget" was discussed by Bretha Krecknow and club members.

A demonstration, "Dill Pickles" was given by Dorothy Tyson and "Harvesting and Storing Apples" by Helen Grant.

Mary Krecklow presented "Conservation" questions.

The following placings were made: Green beans: Doris Anderson, 1st; Irene Tyson, 2nd; Eda Tyson, 3rd.

Yellow Beans: Irene Tyson, 1st.
Cherries: Irene Tyson, 1st; Helen Grant, 2nd; Eileen Christwiser, 3rd.
Pickles: (Dill) Eda Tyson, 1st. Bread and Butter: Doris Anderson, 1st.

Pictures were taken of the group. Plans were made for Achievement Day Thursday afternoon, July 20 at 2:30 at the home of our leader, Evelyn Wolph. Plans were also made for attending judging school at Lincoln Tuesday, July 18. We believe that judging school is one of the finest helps in our 4-H work and have always felt that a day spent receiving this help is most worth while.

Robert Christwiser, who is a member of the Garden club, told of his club work. Delicious refreshments were served by Eileen and her grandmother.

Shirley Mae Kitchen, of Lincoln, was a guest.

Imogene Pollard was hostess to the Cass County Cannery last Thursday afternoon. Eileen Christwiser reported on "Selection of Foods."

Menus were discussed and the afternoon was devoted largely to judging menus. After keeping menus one week several of the girls found that they were lacking in whole grains. Jelly was an interesting subject and the following placings were made in jellies:

Gooseberry: Virginia Pollard, 1st; Mary Krecklow, 2nd.
Chokecherry: Margie Ruth Pollard, 1st.

Raspberry: Eileen Christwiser, 1st. Cherry: Marie Anderson, 1st.
Refreshments of ice cream, cake and iced tea were served by Imogene and her mother, Mrs. Oren Pollard.

The Cass County Cannery and Nehawka Swift Stitcheers held a food, ice cream and lemonade sale on the streets at Nehawka Saturday evening. The girls are earning money for Seward Conservation Camp and Camp Brewster.

PRaises GOOD WORK

Everyone who has driven through Plattsmouth has noticed the Ofe service station on U. S.-75. It is distinctive not only because of the attractiveness of the station but because of the unbusiness of the name.

Many an auto accident victim has some to know the name of Ofe, and the boys who work in the Ofe station. Equipped with Red Cross paraphernalia for treating accident victims, the station has three men who took the first aid course and a pickup truck available for highway duty.

Twice in the last two weeks the Ofe boys have gone out on serious accidents. They are known all up and down the highway, frequently arrive before the doctors.

Dr. R. P. Westover created interest in Red Cross first aid work in Plattsmouth about two years ago and it was he who conducted the course. Ofe county has stations equipped to handle accident victims, but they haven't become as well known as the Ofe boys as yet. This is a service of the Red Cross that is well worth while.—Nebraska City News-Press.

Children at the Crossroads

In the Bag
"Well, then, Judge, if you insist that Floyd is innocent of stealing my watch," Floyd's aunt was saying, "I will have to hold you responsible for its loss and expect you to pay for it."

"Yes," chimed in his uncle, "that watch was valuable, and if you don't pay for it, next election time it will be just too bad for you."

"We've told you over and over," Auntie took up the refrain, "that there was no one else in the room where I left it that Sunday Floyd and his folks were out except Floyd. Even his father and mother believe that he stole the watch and hid it, but we can't convince you. Nobody else but Floyd could have taken it."

The evidence was conclusive, but Floyd and the judge had talked the matter over quite thoroughly during an hour and a half on his first visit to court. If the statement of four adults were true, it was pointed out to the boy, he surely must have taken the watch. Nevertheless Floyd was so straightforward and so emphatic in his denials that the judge began to doubt that he had stolen the jewel.

The parents were requested to bring Floyd back to the office in about three days, at which time the details were carefully reviewed. Privately the four grown-ups were given the opinion that Floyd did not steal the watch; but that if he had stolen it, he since had had a complete lapse of memory. Uncle and aunt were embittered, father was disappointed that the judge had not wrung a confession from his son; but mother, like most mothers, displayed some confidence in her boy's honesty and integrity.

The disappearance of the watch, the judge concluded, would ever remain a mystery, and dismissed it from his mind.

Six months thereafter the uncle and aunt came into the office and, in tears, apologized for their conduct toward Floyd and the court. They had just received a letter from the seed house to which they customarily sold seeds, saying that a beautiful ladies' wrist-watch had been found in one of the sacks of beans they had shipped. If it was theirs, the seed company would be glad to return it by insured parcel post.

Auntie then remembered that on the morning of the Sunday Floyd and his parents visited the farm, her husband had asked her to hold the sacks as he filled them with beans. Taking off her wrist-watch to prevent any possible injury to it, she had placed it in her apron pocket, from which it slipped into a bag of beans, and lay, unharmed and unnoticed, until the seed house employee found it.

Often, not seldom, a judge must decide between the word of an adult and that of a child. Misunderstandings such as this so easily occur that parents, teachers and judges should hesitate to accuse a child of theft. In known cases, parents and police officers have brutally whipped boys to force confessions, only to learn later, much to their sorrow, that the youngsters never committed the transgressions for which they were so outrageously punished.

NAGGING BACKACHE

May Warn of Disordered Kidney Action. Don't Neglect It!

Modern life with its hurry and worry, irregular habits, improper eating and drinking, exposure, contagion, strains, keeps doctors busy, hospitals crowded. The after effects are disturbing to the kidneys and oftentimes people suffer without knowing that disordered kidney action may cause the trouble.

After colds, fever and similar ills there is an increase of body impurities the kidneys must filter from the blood. If the kidneys are overtaxed and fail to remove excess acid and other harmful waste, there is poisoning of the whole system.

Symptoms of disturbed kidney function may be nagging backache, present headache, dizziness, getting up nights, swelling, puffiness under the eyes—a feeling of nervous anxiety and loss of strength and energy. Other signs of kidney or bladder disturbance may be burning, scanty or too frequent urination.
