Last Monday morning as H. C. Christensen and John Finkle who are employed on the road near Ashland were going to work, Mr. Finkle driving his car, they crashed with a A. W. Moore, operator for the Burlington, who lives at Plattsmouth and frequently drives home for over night, and was returning to his work at Ashland. The impact was so severe that both cars were overturned with resultant injuries to all occupants, H. C. Christensen being the most dangerously injured. He was so severely cut with flying glass that it was feared he might bleed to death. First aid treatment was given and he was hurried to the Bryan Memorial hospital in Lincoln for treatment. The bleeding was so profuse that the heart was affected, and a transfusion was necessary. Herman Rauth, a brother-in-law, and Roy Embery providing the blood, after which the patient revived slightly and he is given a slight chance to recover. Mr. Finkle while somewhat bruised and cut was not seriously injured. A. W. Moore, who was driving the other car, was badly bruised, especially on one shoulder. He was able to return to work the following day. Mr. Moore was driving a new Chevrolet which an Ashland dealer was endeavoring to sell him, and had given it home the night before and was returning with it to his work when the accident occurred.

Merchants Win a Double Header Here

Win Excellent Game From Oxford Team and Take Nightcap from Nelson Auto Parts 11-5.

The Plattsmouth Merchants Sunday played and won a double-header before one of the best crowds of the very successful baseball season.

In the first game the Merchants shut out the Oxford outfit 5-0, in which the Platter ace Floyd Thierolf and "Hank" Vinduska tangled in a pitchers duel. "Terry" gave up but one safe hit which was a lone single in the next to the last inning. "Hank" pitched a good game, but he did not have the support that Thierolf enjoyed.

Defeat Nelsons 11-5
The victorious Merchants took on the A. C. Nelsons from Omaha in the nightcap and whipped them 11 to 5, a game that was more of a hitting affair. Floyd Thierolf, still warm from his first victory, started the Platters off by pitching two innings, and then Ray Schafer sent in John Jacobs to the mound and he too found little difficulty in subduing the automen.

The locals had a big fifth inning in which they scored enough runs to win the game in this frame. Doubles by Hayes and Chovanec, singles by O'Donnell, Jacobs and Ault made up six runs on five hits, and the downfall of Hank Ludwig and his baffling curve.

Every Merchant in the lineup of the two games played excellent ball and there were only two errors made the entire afternoon.
