Ladies of St. Paul's Groups Consolidated

Ladies Guild Will Comprise the Former Auxiliary and Ladies' Aid Societies.

A joint meeting of the ladies organizations of the St. Paul's Evangelical and Reformed church was held Wednesday at the church to take up the matter of reorganization under the new church constitution just recently ratified by the local church.

Under the new plan there will be one organization to cover the women's activities, this following the federation plan now adopted in a large part of the churches.

The meeting Wednesday launched the Ladies Guild as the organization will be known, and the following officers were named:

President—Mrs. Frank Horsak.

Vice-President—Mrs. P. A. Meisinger.

Secretary—Mrs. Otto Pitz.

Treasurer—Mrs. George Klingner.

The newly elected officers are to meet in executive session at the parsonage on Wednesday afternoon at 2:30 and will prepare for the work of the new group that has just been launched.

On Thursday afternoon at 2 o'clock the Ladies Guild will hold their first business session at the church and all members are urged to be in attendance.

RETURN FROM CAMP

The Citizens Military Training Camp for 1939 was closed at Fort Crook on Wednesday after a month of useful training for the youth of Nebraska, western Iowa and South Dakota. This month has been filled with mornings devoted to military drill that had aided the boys attending in their mental and physical development, useful hours of instruction and the sports and recreational periods which have added to their enjoyment and effective training.

This year the attendance at the camp was not as large as usual but the boys that had made application and were approved found a wonderful month that had benefited them in every way. Lester Reeves, serving his third year, was a sergeant in Co. D, while Bud Baker of this city, was a sergeant in Co. A, of the student battalion. Stephen Devoe and Theodore Libershal were in the basic group at the camp. Devoe being in Co. A and Libershal assigned to Co. B and also played in the CMTC band which is always a feature of the camp activities.

Edward Smith, senior in the high school for 1940 and captain of the school basketball team, returned home Thursday afternoon. He has been on the west coast, accompanying his aunt, Mrs. John Marquette, of Lincoln, and has spent a great deal of the summer there with relatives and friends. He visited for the greater part of the time at Los Angeles and San Diego, having a very fine time and one long pleasantly to be remembered.

Funeral of Mrs. Geary is Held at Murray Church

Large Number Attend Services for Resident of Murray for the Past Nineteen Years.

Thursday afternoon at the Presbyterian church at Murray was held the funeral services for Mrs. C. D. Geary, resident for many years of the community. It was a fine tribute to Mrs. Geary in the large number that filled the church for the last rites.

Rev. Neil Stewart, pastor of the church, brought the message in the sermon of comfort and the tribute to the memory of the departed lady. During the services a trio composed of the Meade sisters, Mrs. Olin Morris, Miss Lois E. Meade and Miss Flora Belle Meade, gave several of the old hymns that had been favorites of the departed. Mrs. G. H. Gilmore served as the accompanist.

Following the services at the church the body was taken to Omaha where the interment was at the Forest Lawn cemetery, the Sattler funeral home of this city being in charge of direction. The pall bearers were from among the old friends and neighbors, they comprising A. W. Leonard, John Blotzer, Joe Saffarik, Arthur Wetenkamp, Dan Hoshchar, J. V. Pittman.

The following obituary of Mrs. Geary was given by Rev. Stewart: Hannah Sarah Hartung Geary was born near Westington Springs, South Dakota, April 27, 1888 and passed away at her home near Murray, Nebraska, August 8, 1939, age 51 years, 3 months and 12 days.

She was united in marriage on August 3, 1910 with Clarence D. Geary. There were no children born to this union. Mrs. Geary has resided in Cass county almost twenty-six years, of which nineteen years were in or near Murray.

Mrs. Geary is survived by her husband, Clarence D. Geary, of Murray; her mother, Mrs. Myra J. Hartung, also two brothers, Walter A. and Albert W. of Omaha, Nebraska.

Mrs. Geary was a faithful member of the United Presbyterian church of Murray, taking an active part in the various organizations of the church.

One of her most outstanding characteristics was her unselfish service for others, in the home, the church and the community. By this she will be remembered.

VISIT IN OLD HOME

Mrs. Frank E. Schlater and daughter, Miss Alice, of Denver, were visitors over night at the farm home of Mrs. Edward Fitzgerald and family west of Mynard. Mrs. Schlater being a sister of Mr. Fitzgerald. While here they stopped for a short call at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Henry Mauzy, neighbors for many years of the family during the residence in Plattsmouth. Miss Alice is the only one of the family at home now as the others are all married. She is engaged with the telephone company at their offices. They are returning to Denver after stopping at Omaha to visit E. H. Schulhof, a cousin, at the St. Joseph hospital.

ENTERTAIN AT FEED

From Saturday's Daily—Last evening a very pleasant stag party was held at the Wehrlein "shack" near the Platte river where a group of some ninety of the friends of the Wehrlein family, from this city and Omaha gathered. The occasion was a steak "feed" and those attending vouch that it was a real feast with the tender and delicious steaks prepared by the mastery hand of George Saxon, well known stockman and farmer. A large group from the Omaha live stock exchange were here to join the local people in the toothsome feast.

From Friday's Daily—George J. Jaeger, superintendent of the Burlington Refrigerator Express Co., car shops here, returned this morning from a trip to Chicago. Mr. Jaeger was called to that city to attend to some company business for a short time.

EDDIE SCHULHOF BETTER

One of the really pleasing pieces of news for the day is that E. H. Schulhof, popular resident of this city, a patient at the St. Joseph hospital at Omaha since April, is very definitely on the way to recovery and gaining each day. Mr. Schulhof is now able to take food and has shown very rapid improvement in the past week that is very encouraging.

ROBERT RUMMEL

William Rummel of this city is at the Methodist hospital at Omaha where he is undergoing treatment and will have an operation for the removal of a cataract from one of his eyes. This has bothered Mr. Rummel for some time and it is hoped the treatment will result in some permanent relief.

Funeral of Mrs. Ada Ferris Here Thursday

Long Time Resident of County Laid to the Last Rest in Eight Mile Grove Cemetery.

Thursday afternoon at the Horton funeral home funeral services were held for the late Mrs. Ada Myrtle Ferris, who had passed away on Tuesday at the home of her daughter, Mrs. Carl Dooley after an illness of a week.

There was a very large number of the old friends from this city and near Murray and Mynard where she had resided and had a large acquaintanceship, present at the services.

Rev. J. W. Taenzler, pastor of the First Christian church had charge of the services and brought a message of comfort to the members of the bereaved family circle in the loss that had come to them.

During the services Mrs. Hal Garnett and David Robinson were heard in three selections from the old hymns, "Beautiful Isle of Somewhere," "Sometime We'll Understand," and "Jesus Lover of My Soul," Mrs. O. C. Hudson being the accompanist.

The interment was at the Eight Mile Grove cemetery where others of the family are at rest. The pall bearers were selected from the old friends and neighbors and comprised: W. R. Young, Glen Boedecker, W. L. Seybert, Earl Lancaster, Walter Steinkamp and G. E. Nickles.

CARD OF THANKS

We gratefully wish to acknowledge the many kindnesses given our loved mother and grandmother in her last illness and for the words of sympathy and helpfulness in the time of her death. We wish to thank the friends and neighbors, those taking part in the funeral service and those sending the floral remembrances.—The children and grandchildren of Mrs. Ada Ferris.

Corn Pack at Norfolk Plant is Best in Years

High Quality of Corn Found and Furnishes Employment to 220 Persons at This Time.

The Norfolk Packing company, one of Plattsmouth's leading industries which has been situated here for the past seven and one-half years and which has afforded employment to hundreds of local citizens, is at the height of its busiest time of the summer season—that of canning sweet corn. Around sixteen hundred acres of sweet corn, which has been grown in Mills, Fremont, and Pottawattamie counties, Iowa, and Sarpy, Otoe, and Cass counties, Nebraska, have produced good sturdy, and well-filled ears of sweet corn. The 1939 sweet corn crop is such that it exceeds that of any other crop of the previous years since the local plant's arrival in Plattsmouth in 1932, reports E. H. Bernhardt, vice-president and manager of the local plant. The quality of the corn has been especially pleasing to the farmers of Nebraska and Iowa, whose yields and returns have made them feel the sweet corn crop is "the" crop to raise in future years.

The corn season at the factory started the first of August and the canning of this vegetable will remain in process during the month. Six thousand cases of corn alone, which means about 150,000 cans a day, are canned by the 220 employed persons at the present. A total average of seventy people work steady, which means the year around, at the plant. The factory runs from twelve to fourteen hours daily, and its products are sold in the territory west of Des Moines, Iowa; Texas, Oklahoma, Kansas, and Missouri comprise some of the states that are favored with the products of this well known factory. "The Norfolk Packing company has created for itself a reputation of serving the country with the finest quality canned vegetables—such that their products are very much in demand at the present," said Mr. Bernhardt in an interview Friday afternoon. Among the numerous products that are canned and sold by the local plant are peas, tomatoes, pop corn, sweet corn, pork and beans, hominy, red beans, kidney beans, lima beans, beets, carrots, tomato soup, vegetable soup, peas and carrots combined, chile beans, spinach, pumpkin, and spaghetti.

Five departments, all in operation at this time, make up the working staff of the local plant. These are: 1. The husking, cutting, and trimming department; 2. The canning department; 3. The warehouse department; 4. The shipping department; and 5. The office department. The office department comprises Mrs. William Nelson, Mrs. Marcella Rubie, Misses Florence Leamy and Anna Knieke, Lester Thimgan and John V. Svoboda.

The process and manner of canning the sweet corn is very interesting. From the time the corn is taken out of the trucks in the loading and unloading dock to the time it is shipped away it has gone through a number of machines. The corn is unloaded generally by two men and placed on the belt, where it carries it to the huskers, machines each operated by one man. As it leaves the huskers, it is carefully sorted by the women so as not to contain any husks. From the washing barrel it runs on the west-side belt where these women take out and clean the bad ears before they are run through the silker and cutter. A little device called the rubber cuts the bad ends off the corn cob. The cutter which takes the kernels off the cob, is operated by two women. The kernels are then run to the mixing room, a department that is solely run by one woman. Following the mixing process the corn is ready to be canned in the filling room. In the canning department the plant had installed a new high-speed machine capable of sealing 170 cans a minute. The cans are then strapped and placed in crates, which are taken to the cooking room and placed in retorts. Seventy minutes is the amount of time necessary to cook this vegetable. Following this process the cans of corn are labeled and put into cases. Twenty-four No. 2 cans comprise a case while forty-eight No. 1 cans comprise another case. On the top of each can is sealed a code number, which represents the content, and date of canning. At the conclusion of the canning process the cases are taken to the warehouse where they are disposed of in due time to the hundreds of satisfied customers.

Following the corn season the factory will begin canning tomatoes—the latter part of August or the fore part of September, it was reported.

Plan Sunday Feature for the Korn Karnival

Mass Religious Services From All Parts of the County on Sunday, September 24th.

One of the tentative plans for the forthcoming King Korn Karnival that is being outlined at this time is that of a mass Sunday afternoon service on Sunday, September 24th, in which churches over the county will be invited to join.

The tentative program is for a parade of the various Sunday schools and churches to the platform where the open air services will be held if the weather permits. It is hoped to have several floats in the parade as well as bands, representing churches and Sunday school groups and every church and its units in the county are invited to attend and take part.

It is hoped to have a chorus from the Callahan church at Murdock here for the meeting as well as a boy's quartet from the Father Flanagan home at Boys Town to take part.

FILES BANKRUPTCY

Two bankruptcy petitions, those of Leonard James McLaughlin, Cass county farmer; Stella Mae McLaughlin, housewife, Cass county, were filed Friday in federal court at Lincoln. McLaughlin lists assets of $790.75 and debts of $4,184.34 of which $2,312.34 are unsecured. Principal unsecured creditors being H. A. Crozier, assignee, Weeping Water, $1,354.34 Farmers Union, Elmwood, $360; Dr. O. E. Liston, $250; Sophia McLaughlin estate, $200.

His wife's petition shows assets of $105 and debts of $2,502.34 of which $1,952.34 are unsecured. Among unsecured items are listed the Crozier indebtedness, $1,354.34, and certain other items duplicating those of the Leonard McLaughlin petition.

INJURES THREE FINGERS

The thumb, first, and second fingers on the right hand of Joseph M. Hiber were severely lacerated Wednesday forenoon at Fort Crook. While about his duties working with a plane, he accidentally placed his fingers too close to the tool and as a result a large portion of the tips of his thumb and second fingers were cut off, with the first finger being badly lacerated. He was immediately rushed to the St. Joseph hospital in Omaha where the wounds were dressed and the patient sent on his way.

THRILLS SPECTATORS

John C. Brittain Friday afternoon gave onlookers a real thrill when he scaled the steeple of the First Presbyterian church to replace several shingles that were destroyed two weeks ago during the severe electric storm when the church was struck by lightning. The place where the work was to be done was very difficult to reach and to a less experienced man might have proven fatal. One of the parts of the task was to climb a twenty foot ladder resting on a ledge only a few inches wide.

Busy Season Ahead for the Drum Corps

State Legion Convention and State Fair Competition in Lincoln Highlights on Schedule

The American Legion Junior Drum Corps that has done much to advertise Plattsmouth throughout this territory since it was organized several years ago, has a busy season ahead, with scheduled appearances at a number of fairs and celebrations. Two of the appearances most looked forward to are in Lincoln, first at the department convention of the Legion Tuesday, August 29, when they will participate in the afternoon parade and evening prize competition, and again on the following Sunday, when they attend Veterans' day at the state fair to participate in the parade at 12:30 and take part in evening competition.

The convention competition will be held at the University stadium; and state fair competition in the field opposite the grandstand.

Some of the best junior corps in the state, including Kearney, several times champions, are entered at the department convention. The number to take part at the state fair has not yet been determined, as August 21 is the deadline date for entering.
