

WCTU Members Hold Memorial Service Monday

Business Meeting and Memorial Program Held at Home of Mrs. R. B. Hayes Monday.

The local unit of the Woman's Christian Temperance Union met Monday afternoon at 2:30 at the home of Mrs. R. B. Hayes. A good attendance, around fifteen in number, was seen. Preceding the "Memorial Program," which was the main part of the meeting, a short business meeting was held, Mrs. R. B. Hayes, president, presiding.

Miss Olive Gass served as chairman of the program which served as a memorial for two of its outstanding and long members—Miss Elizabeth Spangler and Miss Minnie Nickum.

In memory of Miss Nickum, who was called to her heavenly home recently, the consecration hymn was sung as a fitting description of her character. Mrs. Pearl Mann, one of Miss Nickum's most valued friends, spoke on the life of the Masonic Home resident.

Miss Spangler, by her devotion and service for the W. C. T. U., has made a record that will probably never be equaled. As treasurer of the W. C. T. U. for twenty-three years, the present members all paid grateful tribute to her by singing her favorite song, "Win Them One By One," and the scripture that she loved very dearly was given—that of the twenty-third psalm, this being given in unison. Mrs. Flora B. Arn; Mrs. Julia Troop, past president, and Mrs. Robert B. Hayes, present president, all gave short talks describing and depicting the life of one so faithful to the order and one who will be considerably missed in the work of the W. C. T. U.

Miss Olive Gass read a letter of condolence to the W. C. T. U. on the loss of Miss Spangler from the union by Mrs. Emma Olson of Weeping Water. Mrs. Olson, who had been a frequent visitor and attendee at the meetings of the organization, was a very close friend of Miss Spangler.

The Memorial Program was closed with the singing of the song, "Blessed Be The Tie That Binds," and the pronouncement of the W. C. T. U. benediction.

The afternoon climaxed with the serving of a covered-dish luncheon by those present.

RETURNS TO WYOMING

Mrs. Harold Albert returned to her home in Green River, Wyoming last evening following a week's vacation and visit in this city and in Lincoln. During her stay in Plattsmouth she was a guest of her brother-in-law and sister, Mr. and Mrs. Arnold Lillie as well as her husband's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Phillip Albert. Mrs. Albert, formerly Miss Esther Oldenbruns, spent the major portion of her time in Lincoln with her brothers and sisters. Before her marriage Mrs. Albert was a clerk in the Knorr's Variety store.

RETURNS FROM DUTY

Following two weeks of duty at Fort Crook where he served as first lieutenant in the dental reserve corps of the U. S. army, Dr. W. V. Ryan returned home to resume his usual dental activities. He, therefore, desires to let the public know that his offices are now open and in full operation in caring for his patrons.

PEST CONTROL OFFICE CLOSED

Activities of the Emergency Pest Control office came to an end Tuesday, August 15th, with the closing of the office at Weeping Water, following the resignation of R. N. Johnston, who has been acting agricultural agent and emergency pest control agent in Cass county the past eight months. Mr. Johnston is leaving the extension service to go into the commercial field, having accepted a position with the A. A. Nixon Feed company, and will probably be located in Omaha in the future.

Since the shut-down of Farm Bureau activities on June 8th, an emergency pest control office has been maintained in Weeping Water in order to have supervision over the distribution of federal grasshopper bait materials to farmers and to give help on other pest control work. As yet no plans have been made to take care of the materials on hand at the mixing plant in Nehawka but all arrangements will be made by federal agents cooperating with the county board of commissioners.

The date of the hearing in district court on the Cass County Farm Bureau appropriation, occasioned by the filing of an appeal opposing the payment of the claims of the Farm Bureau for operating expenses, has been set by Judge Wilson for Monday, August 21st.
