Arranging for Opening of King Korn Carnival

Committees Work Out Final Details as the Opening Date of Big Event Drawing Near.

The chairmen of the various committees of the King Korn Carnival met last evening at the Hotel Plattsmouth to arrange for the completion of detail work of the program and parades.

It has been arranged that the flower show of the Carnival will be held in the Elks building on Sixth street and that the historic and old settlers headquarters will be in the east room of the Journal building. The corn palace this year will be in the Anheuser-Busch building at 4th and Main street where a larger space will be made available for the use of the show.

The office of the McMaken Co., on South Sixth street with the collection of Indian and other antiques of the late Col. H. C. McMaken, will also be open during the days of the show.

Rest rooms will be arranged in the Elks and the Bates building at Fifth and Main streets.

Chairman Barnard of the Farmers day committee, has contacted a large group of the residents of the nearby communities and is leaving to them the arranging of their own parade groups, following the custom of the past years and which has been so successful. It is expected that a very large display of horses will be in evidence and special features this year will be a colt show at Third and Pearl streets, as well as a horse pulling contest on the lots south of the Soennichsen stores.

Flower show activities will be in charge of Mrs. John Woest and Mrs. L. W. Egenberger as co-chairmen and with others of the club are working out a very effective program. The excellent summer has provided many very attractive flowers for the showing.

The pageant committee of the carnival that includes the coronation, are now getting their final plans for the coronation of the king and queen on the opening night of the carnival at the platform on Main street between Fourth and Fifth street.

The band committee has lined up a fine showing of bands and which will also include the champion Auburn Junior drum and bugle corps, bands from Glenwood, Nebraska City, Syracuse, Elmwood, Weeping Water, Louisville and the Plattsmouth band and drum and bugle corps.

The parade committee have received the assurance of a large group of floats for the merchants and school children's parade on the Friday of the Carnival. All who can be urged to prepare floats and get in touch with the committee. Anyone who wishes advice of float construction may contact John Alwin who is helping on this feature.

Shrader Family Holds Reunion at Old Home

One of the Large Pioneer Families Enjoy a Gathering at Home Once Occupied by Parents.

On Sunday, August 27th at the home of Mrs. Lucy Wolfe, on the farm south of this city, members of the family of the late Mr. and Mrs. George W. Shrader, with their descendants, gathered to celebrate the annual family reunion. In this beautiful home, so rich in the memories of childhood days and family associations.

In the past years it had been only the immediate family of the Shraders that gathered here, but in the passing years many of the children had gone on and on this day the children, their children, grandchildren and great grandchildren were at the old family home.

All of the members of the family had come with well laden baskets and which provided the means of a lovely and much enjoyed cafeteria dinner served out on the spacious lawn and beneath the friendly old trees that had given the members of the family in their youth shelter from the summer sun and today stand as monuments of the long past years.

The members of the group enjoyed a delightful program that had been arranged and given by the members of the group, as well as visiting among the members and renewal of the ties of kinship and friendship.

The family had with them Wyatt Hutchison and family, relatives of the family through the family of the late Mrs. Shrader, the only relatives of the original family in Nebraska.

The members of the reunion party had the pleasure of remembrances in pictures of members of the family back in old Virginia, hence the parents had come, and it is hoped that these may be here for the reunion in 1940 and that all of the family may be together. Mrs. Wolfe had met these relatives on a visit east and this was a very delightful remembrance for her.

It was voted at the business session, presided over by Mrs. Don Rhoden, that the next year's reunion be held at the same place. The officers chosen were: Mrs. Lulu Wolfe, president; Mrs. Georgia Creamer, vice-president; Lester Shrader, secretary; Mrs. Don Rhoden, chairman social committee and Mrs. Wolfe and Mrs. Raymond Mayfield as assistants.

The meeting will be on the first Sunday in August next year.

There were eighty-two in attendance, the following being present: Mrs. Lulu Wolfe, Mr. and Mrs. Alex Rhoden, Mr. and Mrs. Don Rhoden, Mrs. Georgia Creamer, Mrs. Alma Yardley, Mr. and Mrs. Homer Shrader, Mr. and Mrs. Robert Rea, Mr. and Mrs. Elmer Yardley and family, Mr. and Mrs. Will Hutchison, Wyatt Hutchison, Richard Chriswiser, Mr. and Mrs. Greeley Bell and family, Mr. and Mrs. Glen Kaffenberger, Mrs. Harry Albin, Mr. and Mrs. R. C. Linville, Alex Campbell, John Nottelman, Shrader Rhoden, Plattsmouth; Charles Shrader, Juanita Shrader, Wanda Shrader, Angeline Shrader, Dixie Shrader, children of Mont Shrader, all of Cedar Creek; Mr. and Mrs. Floyd Gauer, Mr. and Mrs. Will Oliver, Louisville; Mr. and Mrs. Omar Yardley, Ashland, John Chriswiser and family and Mrs. Richard Chriswiser of Nehawka; Mr. and Mrs. C. A. Bourne, Hastings; Mrs. Max Boe, Alameda, California; Mrs. Isabell Gerlach and family of North Bend; Mr. and Mrs. A. B. Cline and family, Ashland; Mr. and Mrs. Raymond Mayfield and family, Mr. and Mrs. Ray Ehlers and family, Mr. and Mrs. Lester Shrader, Weeping Water.

Teachers of County Start School Year

County Superintendent Lora Lloyd Kieck Organizes Teachers at Institute Held Here.

The rural schools of Cass county are opening this week and the teaching force at work in the carrying out of the educational program as outlined for the year.

The annual meeting and institute of the teachers was held here at the court house on Saturday under the direction of County Superintendent Lora Lloyd Kieck, with approximately 100 of the teachers present. The program was strictly along educational lines and embraced a large field of subjects pertaining to the teaching profession.

Among the outstanding features was Miss Ruth Ann Smith, of Chicago, reading specialist, who gave a fine demonstration of this line of educational endeavor, Miss Chloe Baldrige, director of rural education in the office of the state superintendent, who discussed the plans of the state department for the rural schools, Calvin Reed of the Peru state teachers college, who discussed the plans for course work, the first meeting to be held here on September 16th. Mr. Reed is to introduce a class work in test and measure which will be given as a credit to the teacher in her or his advanced work.

The problem child in the school and the home was discussed by the representatives of the federal child welfare department.

A most interesting talk was given by Superintendent James Softly of the Avoca school system.

Rev. Paul Dick, of the U. B. church at Myrard, was present and demonstrated the Fullerton system of music instruction and from his five years of experience gave a very fine talk on the work of the teachings in the school.

Miss Lucille McCue, superintendent of Furnas county, was here and gave a very instructive talk on the school work and which was much appreciated by the teachers.
