Pioneers of Cass County Enjoy the Anniversary at Family Home Near This City.

The sixtieth wedding anniversary of Mr. and Mrs. Charles L. Jean, pioneer residents of Cass county was observed very quietly on Thursday at the family home southwest of this city, the homestead that they have occupied for many years and where their family had been reared.

The life of this estimable couple is a part of the history of this section of Cass county, where their forebears had been early day settlers, in the community where they are now rounding out long and useful lives.

Anna Jane Snyder, daughter of William and Elizabeth Snyder, was born October 13, 1859, at Plattsmouth, where her parents were then residing, while Charles L. Jean, son of Nelson and Mary Jean, was born at Springville, Indiana, on September 19, 1854, being brought by his parents when two years of age to the territory of Nebraska where they arrived in 1856 and settled in the vicinity of Plattsmouth and made their home since that time.

On September 14, 1879, Miss Snyder and Mr. Jean were married and at once started housekeeping on the farm and have since made their home there. In the long years of happy wedded life they have been loved and honored figures in the community, giving freely of their efforts to make this a better place to live and gathering around themselves a large circle of warm friends. In social and religious life both Mr. and Mrs. Jean have been active figures.

Their children, who rejoiced with the parents in the happy event of their anniversary were Dr. Frank C. Jean, Greeley, Colorado, William Jean, Omaha, Nelson Jean, Donna, Texas, Mrs. Edith Lloyd, Albuquerque, New Mexico, and Mrs. Nellie Spangler of this city.

The anniversary was observed at the home with a charmingly arranged buffet supper, the table centered by a large bouquet of pink roses and with tapering white candles adding their beauty to the scene.

The living room of the home was enhanced by the color motif of white and lavender, featuring white and lavender gladioli, a gift of the Myrard Golden Rod Study club, of which Mrs. Jean was a member for a great many years.

Guests attending outside of the family were Mr. and Mrs. J. E. Emery, Omaha, Mr. and Mrs. George W. Snyder, Plattsmouth and Rev. and Mrs. Paul Dick of Mynard.

Music Theme Carried Out at Auxiliary Meet

Plans Made for Picnic and Participation in Mardi Gras Night at the Korn Carnival

The September music theme of the American Legion Auxiliary was very ably carried out at Friday's meeting of the local unit held at the home of Mrs. A. H. Duxbury. Associate hostesses were Mesdames Dave Pickrel, Max Vallery and Frank Rice.

Highlighting the business portion of the meeting were convention reports by the various delegates, the making of final plans for Sunday's joint Legion and Auxiliary picnic at Holly's cabin on the Platte, this being the second year of holding the joint picnic by the two organizations.

The ladies also arranged to appear as a group in the Mardi Gras parade at the Korn Carnival Thursday night, attired in the costumes of nations allied with the U. S. in the World war and now associated together through the medium of the international group, FIDAC, with which both the Legion and Auxiliary are associated. The costumes were worn at the recent Fidac party of the Legion and Auxiliary, providing a very colorful setting.

The Auxiliary will also co-operate with the Legion in the preparation of a float for Friday's parade.

Musical Program

A most enjoyable musical program followed the business session. This being the anniversary of our national anthem, "The Star Spangled Banner," the program was centered around this and other patriotic selections.
