Vice-President and General Manager of Lincoln Telephone Co., Talks of New Building Here.

The local Rotary club Tuesday had the pleasure of having as their guests a group of the officials of the Lincoln Telephone & Telegraph Co., from the head offices at Lincoln.

Mr. Agee gave a very interesting story of his recent visit to Washington, D. C., where as the chairman of a committee of the independent telephone companies he had appeared before the congressional committee to seek amendments to the wages and hours bill to give relief to the smaller telephone companies of the country.

Mr. Agee also discussed the matter of the erection of a new building for the telephone company here in Plattsmouth and the installing of a new system of automatic phones in the territory.

It was immaterial to the company as to the installing of the new plant as they could operate the present plant as well unless the community itself decided the change was wished.

WELLS GO DRY

There is a great many of the wells on farms over this section of Cass county that have been failing to produce enough water to supply the needs of the farms and especially where there is stock to be watered.

Many of the farmers are compelled to seek aid from other farmers with heavier flowing wells in order to keep their cattle and stock supplied with necessary water.

A new well is being sunk at the farm owned by the Plattsmouth State bank northwest of this city, occupied by the Charles Tasler dairy. On the Becker place west of the city owned by John H. Becker, it is found necessary to have the well sunk deeper in hope of securing a better supply. The water level seems to have been reaching a new low level in many of the places over the county.

HAS ATTRACTIVE SHOP

The Cozy barber shop of Arnold Lillie on Main street, opposite the Journal, has just been redecorated and presents one of the most attractive places in the city and one that will compare with barber shops in any other city in the state.

The ceiling and upper portion of the walls have been finished in the tones of light tan, blending with the shades of darker brown on the sidewalls and against which the white mirrors show up brilliantly. New flooring in the tones of the tans has been placed and adds much to the general appearance of the shop.

Oxford Wins an Extra Inning Ball Game Sunday

Score of 11 to 10 for Ball Hurlers From Southwest of the City Ault Gets Homer.

The Oxford baseball club, composed of young men from southwest of this city and west of Murray came to town Sunday afternoon and trimmed the local Merchants baseball team by the score of 11 to 10 in a great thirteen inning struggle.

The game was one in which Floyd Thieroff started with twenty-six strikeouts but costly bobbles at critical times allowed the victory to slip away despite his fine work in the box.

The Oxford team was paced by their battery, Henry Vinduska in the pitcher's box and Lester Vinduska, who was behind the bat. The two accounted for six of the Oxford runs, while Les Vinduska had five hits out of seven visits at the plate. H. Novak and Ernest Hild each had two bingles for their batting average.

"Chuck" Ault, local first sacker, started at the bat for the Merchants, having three out of five at the plate, one of the hits being a home run that also scored Svoboda.

The Oxford team in the opening stanza acquired a three run lead and led into the fifth when the Merchants stepped out to take the lead only to be tied up by Oxford.

Through the inning the two teams toiled and it was in the late of the afternoon when with two down Oxford placed the winning run over the plate and the game was finished.

The box score of the game was as follows:

ENJOIN STATE OFFICIALS

LINCOLN, Sept. 19 (UP)—District Judge John L. Polk granted a temporary injunction late yesterday against Governor R. L. Cochran and other state officials restraining them from diverting any of the $50,000 in surplus oil inspection fees for advertising the state.

The injunction, to run until November 6 when arguments on the case will be heard, was obtained on the appeal of George I. Craven, attorney for the Power Oil company and ninety-two other petroleum dealers.

Craven said the oil dealers were not opposed to collection of excess fees up to $50,000 and use of the excess to finance the state's new advertising commission.

Bible School Lesson Study!

Sunday, September 24th By L. Neitzel, Murdock, Neb.

Isaiah: Foretelling the Birth of the Messianic King" Isaiah 7:14; 9:1-7; 11:1-5.

In this lesson we have Isaiah not only as a prophet foretelling, but also as an Evangelist who, after foretelling what is to come, goes further and tells the world the good news—that is, the consequences of the coming of Christ. This involves the doctrine of the incarnation, that is the assumption of the human nature by Jesus Christ. This doctrine is a mystery which cannot be explained; it belongs in the realm of faith; here the believer does not ask the reason why, but takes God's word for it.

We believe in the immaculate conception of the virgin, Mary. We can only say: "The Word was made flesh, and dwelt among us, and we beheld his glory, the glory as of the only begotten of the Father—full of grace and truth." (St. John, an eyewitness).

This was the work of the prophet, telling his people and the world of the great love of God in giving the world a savior, some 700 years in advance. They lived by faith in hope of the things that were to come. (Hebrews 11:1).

In the fullness of time, God sent his son, Immanuel, "God with us." Now God dwelt among men. The titles of the Saviour are of great significance, as an analysis will prove. His name shall be called "Wonderful."

(a) His conception cannot be explained; it's of a nature to excite wonder, marvelous; (b) His life was unique, uncomparable; (c) His teaching; (d) His death. Counselor—in the life of man, he is wisdom to us, he does advise, gives good counsel.

"Mighty God," as such he is identical with the Father. Thomas says, "My Lord and my God." Mighty to redeem the human race; mighty to overthrow the powers of darkness, to restore man into the image of God. (See II Cor. 3:18). Everlasting Father, or "Father of eternity"—the ancient days, Jesus Christ, the same yesterday, today and forever. (Heb. 13:8). As Father—tender, loving, providing. (See Ps. 103:13). Prince of Peace; as such he has reconciled the wrath of God. He brings peace to the individual—that is God's method. One by one, men are saved. It is a slow process, but effectual. He is conquering the nations today, by saving the individual, that is by putting the leaven into the meal, until the whole lump is leavened. (See Matt. 13:33).

The consequences of the coming of Christ will bring about great changes
