If the county commissioners, notwithstanding the advice of County Attorney Travis against doing so, refuse to keep the Louisville free wagon bridge in repair, the matter will be properly attended to by the people of Louisville and precinct.

We give THE WEEKLY JOURNAL to understand that Frank Eckols of Louisville is not the only grain buyer who handles corn pretty lively at present. W. H. Mangan, our new grain buyer, took in the other day from two to six o'clock p. m., sixty loads of shelled corn. How is that for high?

Opposition is the life of trade. This time at Louisville. For four years past no grain of any amount was handled at Louisville, because we had but one buyer, and as he had elevators at South Bend and Cedar Creek he received his share of grain anyway. Today it is altogether different. On account of having two railroads and two buyers, the streets are full of teams hauling grain from all directions, and people who for years found a market in different places close by come now to Louisville. So mote it be.

DIED—Augusta Tank, oldest daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Henry Bluma of College Hill, Tuesday, June 7th, at 5 p. m., age 18 years and 7 months. Deceased was sick during the winter with la grippe. This was followed by severe cold and she has been a sufferer ever since. She was apparently getting better lately, but a relapse called her to her final home, where pain and suffering are no more. The funeral took place Thursday, at 11 o'clock a. m. from the German Lutheran church, of which she was a devoted member. A large concourse of sympathizing friends followed the remains to their last resting place in the cemetery. To Mr. and Mrs. Bluma we extend our heartfelt sympathy. C. S.

Ex-Councilman B. F. Madsen of Omaha has been found guilty of soliciting a bribe from O. H. Ballou to further the ordinance (1891) granting certain franchises to the Ballou Company in the city of Omaha. The penalty is a fine and imprisonment in a cell. O. H. Ballou testified in the case, in the latter part of March, 1891, and was called by Madsen's committee on gas and electric lights, to return to the council for action on the ordinance. Madsen told him that these things had to be done; that he had been offered $1,000 by the other side to vote against the ordinance. Ballou replied that his company had no money and did not intend to pay for getting the ordinance passed. April 1 he called on Madsen again and asked him if he felt the same way as before with respect to receiving money. Madsen said he did. Ballou then determined to play a trick on him and handed him what purported to be a check for $1,000. The check bore the name of no particular bank, was written on blank paper and with a fictitious signature attached. Madsen took the check and gave the ordinance and report of the committee to Ballou. Madsen then went into another room, and Ballou left the house with the ordinance and report. He took them to Councilman Donnelly, who promised to return them to the council. Ballou had no conversation afterward with Madsen with regard to the check.

THE WEEKLY JOURNAL this week will be permanently enlarged. Eight columns are to be added to the oldsize. Taking into consideration the difference in the size of the type and style of make-up, people will observe that hereafter THE JOURNAL will be the LARGEST as well as the BEST weekly in Cass county. Considerable work has been done for the WEEKLY recently and it has a much larger number of patrons, and all of the best class of farmers, than any other newspaper. Advertisers who desire to ask for the country trade can not place their announcements in any other paper which will yield so large returns as in THE WEEKLY JOURNAL. Copy for advertisements must be at this office not later than Wednesday noon to insure its insertion this week.

The Children's Day program as printed in THE JOURNAL was given at the M. E. church last evening before a large and appreciative audience, and each of the little folks more than creditably performed their parts.

Mr. Charles D. Grimes is a candidate for the city attorneyship at the hands of a democratic mayor, yet he publicly proclaims his intention of doing what he could for republicans and their newspapers. Mr. Grimes is yet a young man and may learn in time that he is too young to make a success in politics by attempting to gain office through democratic sources by a compact with the opposition press.

While W. S. Briggs, wife and child were out riding yesterday evening the horse became frightened, ran away and Mrs. Briggs was severely bruised. Little damage was done to the buggy and Mr. Briggs and the child escaped injury. Dr. Cook attended the injured lady.

OMAHA'S STAMP COLLECTOR.

Albert E. Gay, the acquitted suspect, has been stuffing an Omaha Bee reporter with yarns about his mistreatment while under arrest and complaining about the Plattsmouth officers not giving him a chance to hold receptions in the Riley hotel parlors. The officers showed Mr. Gay all reasonable courtesies, and all of them are also convinced that he is one of the robbers of the postoffice.

Nebraska people are more prosperous today than ever before in the history of the state, if the state treasurer's office is authority. This assertion is based upon the fact that more money has been taken in at that office during May than any previous month. The sum of $458,000 was received, nearly all from county treasurers. This large amount was nearly all taken in after the 15th. Several counties have not las, so the conclusion is arrived at that altogether the month of May has been one of prompt payment, denoting prosperity throughout the state. While money has been paid in promptly it has also been paid out almost as rapidly. School apportionment warrants amounting to $320,000 are being paid, and $300,000 general fund warrants are to be called in as fast as the accountants can compute the interest due.

Death of Mrs. Elizabeth Betts.

Saturday night, in the eighty-seventh year of her age, Mrs. Elizabeth Betts, mother of Mrs. Walter J. White, died at the home of the latter. She was suffering from no disease. Life's machinery was simply worn out and quit running. The funeral services were held this morning at the White residence and Rector H. B. Burgess officiated. The mortal remains were taken to Rulo this morning over the M. P. railroad and laid beside those of her late husband, Mrs. Betts was the widow of the Rev. Thomas Betts, at one time rector of the Episcopal church of Plattsmouth, and the mother of Rev. George Betts of Louisville, Ky. The family of the venerable woman who has now gone to get the reward of the righteous have the sympathy of all in their bereavement.

About fifty members of the Weidmann and Kroehler families and intimate friends assembled at the Weidmann residence last evening to witness the uniting in marriage of Elizabeth, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Geo. P. Weidmann, and Frederick, son of Constable and Mrs. Fred Kroehler. Judge Ramsey officiated. There were quite a number of nice presents. Mr. Kroehler, jr., is well and favorably known in this town, and is a member of the B. & M. force here. The bride had just completed her twenty-fourth year and started in today the new year as mistress of her own home in the Dovey house on Elm street. A magnificent supper was served by the mothers of the bride and groom. Here's the congratulations of THE JOURNAL.

Did you ever see a presidential nomination fall as flatly on a community as that of Harrison on this?

With the right man and a plain, outspoken platform the democrats can carry the country this year for president and for congress.

Some Foolish People

Allow a cough to run until it gets beyond the reach of medicine. They often say, "Oh, it will wear away," but in most cases it wears them away. Could they be induced to try the successful medicine called Kemp's Balsam, which is sold as a positive guarantee to cure, they would immediately see the excellent effect after taking the first dose. Price, 50c and $1. Trial size free. At all druggists. d&w
