Over in the lowa bottoms there lives a woman named Bacus who several years ago adopted little Johnny Parker, an orphan who is now about ten years old. It is reported that last week this woman, for the reason that the boy was unable to "keep up with" the corn-planter, beat him brutally. So fearful was the boy's punishment that the neighbors notified the boy's uncle, a Mr. Birdsall of Pacific Junction, and he will prosecute the woman.

SAMPLE FARMS AND FARMERS OF CASS COUNTY.

J. C. Hurlout, who fives five and a half miles southeast of Greenwood, recently sold his farm, and now leases the east half of section 21, has made a comfortable livelihood marketing his crops when the prices suited him. He has not experimented in feeding his corn to boughten cattle or hogs. He prefers to take the market price for corn rather than run any risk feeding cattle and hogs. This year he has put in 40 acres of wheat, 40 acres of oats, 40 acres of millet and 165 acres of corn His crop looks reasonably well.

H. C. Wright, who resides two miles south o. Greenwood, on section 8, of Greenwood precinct, owns 80 acres, upon which he has resided for twentyone years. He has had hard luck, having twice had his residence and all its effects burned out, but is not discouraged. He now has good buildings, an orchard of fifty bearing trees and an artificial grove of an acre. His first orchard was all killed by borers because he put too much mulching about his

W. W. Clark, living on section 26, part of his farm lying in 23, of Salt Creek precinct, was one of the early settlers of his neighborhood, having bought this land twenty years ago. He has a nice home and many home comforts. He has an orchard of nearly 600 trees, most of which are seventeer years old. He also has an extensive grove, having 2,000 ash, 1,000 elm and a less number of maple and cottonwood. His water works system is Murdock will be the best grain during the raid made by grasshoppers

Augustus Thimghan, residing on section 34, of South Bend precinct. settled on an 80 acre homestead here 26 years ago, and has added two eighties to his possessions since. He was born in Germany, but has many Yankee ideas. He has a fine orchard, a natural as well as an artificial grove of timber, has his farm well stocked, has a good home, a fine barn first-class granary, cribs, stock and machinery sheds, keeps a stock of bees, and is up to the times in every particular. His windpump has self-regulating attachments by which tanks in his house, Wolfe who have departed for their feed lot, barnyard and pasture are kept supplied with water, and never overflow. He is supplied with all the convenience of independent living, and is in well-to-do circumstances. Life has been a success with him.

James Crawford, a near neighbor of Mr. Thimghan, lives in a lovely little nook along the shady banks of Pawnee creek, owns the northwest quarter of section 34, where he and his family live in comfortable seclusion. Mr. Crawford was county commissioner several years ago, and is well known in the county. He affects instrumental music and belongs to the Wabash band -as also does his stalwart son. His home looks like that of a townsman, and the house is surrounded by a fine grove, with flowers and ornamental trees, shrubs and plants in abundance. Mr. C. don't believe in working himself to death for a few dollars.
