

IN AND AROUND THE TOWN.

Mrs. Wm. Morrow, of Murray, left on Tuesday over the Burlington for Peoria, Ill., to attend a convention of the Modern Woodmen of America.

Ten sacks of flour were donated to the Associated Charities last Thursday for distribution among the needy by one of our genial and whole-souled business men.

Miss Grace Wiles returned last Tuesday to her studies at the Cotner university at Lincoln, after a holiday visit out in the precinct with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Thos. Wiles.

John Earhart, one of Louisville precinct's staunchest democratic farmers, was in the city yesterday and called at these headquarters. He had just returned from Omaha after having undergone treatment at the hands of Dr. Gifford for a weak eye.

Barney McGinn, the man who murdered Ed McKenna in Omaha last July, was sentenced Friday by Judge Scott to be hanged on April 6th—just one week prior to the date fixed by Judge Chapman for the execution of Harry Hill in this county.

Editor Sherman, of THE PLATTS-MOUTH JOURNAL, went to Washington last week to accept the position of private secretary to Congressman Bryan, leaving the paper in charge of his son and Mr. Mann, who are looking well after its interests.—Nehawka Register.

Judge Chapman has sentenced Harry Hill, the Cass county murderer, to be hanged April 13th, also "to pay the costs of this prosecution." If Hill is not executed until he gets money enough to pay the costs of prosecution, he will die of old age.—Nebraska City News.

J. H. Haldeman has no little ones of his own to care for, but he has a lively interest in some who are not blest with an abundance of the substantial of life. He went to the meat market this morning and purchased a quarter of beef, to be distributed among the needy.—Weeping Water Eagle.

Miss Mary Tighe of Platts-mouth should have been credited with the honor of being the most popular lady and receiving the prize for the same at the dance on the evening of Dec. 8th. Miss Maggie Tighe of Manly getting the credit for the same through an error at the time.—Weeping Water Eagle.

Stephen A. Davis is home from a short trip throughout western Nebraska. He visited several cities and reports that the status of business in Platts-mouth is as good as in any of the towns he saw. He paid some attention to the condition of the growing wheat, and says that everything points toward a big crop of that cereal.

The state teachers' convention closed its annual session at Lincoln Friday and the Platts-mouth delegation returned home on Saturday. The officers elected for the ensuing year were as follows: President, Chancellor James H. Canfield of the state university of Nebraska; secretary, Miss-Eolean Clark Fremont; treasurer, W. H. Skinner, Nebraska City.

Chief Justice Maxwell of the state supreme bench was in the city Friday, called hither by the death of Mrs. Horning, on Thursday, at the farm homestead south of the city. Mrs. Horning and the wife of the chief justice were sisters. The judge was unable to stay for the funeral, which occurred Saturday, and left for the state capital Friday night.

An interesting case has just been tried in the district court of Saunders county. Swan Nelson, formerly a prominent grain dealer in that county, now of Cherokee, was sued by Betty Oleson for breach of promise and seduction. In the meantime Nelson married the daughter of a prominent farmer near Wahoo. After a hard fought legal battle, lasting four days, the jury gave Miss Oleson $2,000.

The Lincoln physicians are camping hot on the trail of Mr. Ah Sam, a Chinese medicine-mixer, and have caused the arrest of the Celestial on the charge of practicing medicine without having obtained a permit from the state board of health—one of the requirements of the statutes. A Chinese doctor in Omaha came to grief by the same method, and the chances are much in favor of Ah Sam going the same road.

An attempt was made a few days ago to wreck a Union Pacific passenger train near Valverde, Colo. The train was running about twenty miles an hour when the engineer saw that the switch at Valverde was turned. He reversed his engine just as the train struck the switch. A bar of iron had been wedged in the frog of the switch. It is thought that it was a bold attempt at train-wrecking, with a view of robbery.

Billy Kinnear, a hackman, who was sentenced some time ago to fifteen months' imprisonment in the penitentiary for robbing a passenger at Lincoln, Thursday had his sentence commuted by the governor. He was arraigned in company with one Tracy, who was arrested for the same offense. Kinnear turned state's evidence against Tracy, who was convicted. Kinnear was sentenced with him, but it was understood that he was to be pardoned for turning state's evidence. He has been in the pen for about six months.

Doc Lamont, alias Blanchard, who was taken to the penitentiary Thursday morning from Omaha, came near escaping from the county jail Wednesday night. After supper he concealed himself behind a table and on a bench that was next to the wall. All the cells are closed at once by a lever and Lamont was supposed to be in his cell. Thursday morning he was discovered on top of the cell house trying to cut his way out through the roof.

The meeting of the Associated Charities held last Sunday afternoon in the Presbyterian church was unusually well attended. Reports from officers and committees show the work to be in a very flourishing condition. A committee was appointed to wait upon the city council to secure, if possible, employment on the streets for the idle men who are willing to work, even at small compensation. Another committee was solicited to wait upon the county commissioners to secure more fully their co-operation in the work of caring for the poor.

During the past week Harry Hill, the murderer confined in the county jail under sentence of death, has made frequent requests of the jailor and guards that they furnish him a razor, in order that he might shave himself. But his requests have been refused, because it was feared that he might conclude to relieve the sheriff of a disagreeable job, and shave himself a trifle too deep. John Kuiney, the barber, was called to the jail on Sunday morning to perform the tonsorial operation for Mr. Hill, but even then the authorities would not take any chances, and securely hand-cuffed the condemned man before the razor was allowed to touch his face.

Col. Poke's case of tremors over those blanks for the sheriff's office was out of order. The colonel happened to notice a JOURNAL attache Thursday going into the sheriff's with an arm load of bundles and he grew premature and insisted in his sheet of last week that the bundles contained blanks for the sheriff. Out of the seven bundles, five were for other county officials, and the remaining two, while they were for the sheriff's office, were the final delivery of a job, the first of which was printed almost two months ago. Col. Poke should be the last man on his earth to institute a baseless attack on Sheriff Tighe, for without the sheriff's generosity the colonel would not be able to sport a time-piece. Further comment is not for the present necessary on the latter score.

An Omaha saloonkeeper deliberately locked the door of his house the other morning, set fire to the place and burned himself and three members of his family to death. The coroner has not yet held an inquest, but it is suspected that the man was driven insane by the warfare over saloon publications between the two morning papers, and in his frenzy at being unable to find out in which paper it was legal, committed the awful deed.
