Burt and Cass Shake Hands.
 Three prisoners escaped from the Burt county jail at Tekamah on Sunday night by prying loose two iron bars. The deputy jailer caught the last one as he dropped from the window, but the prisoner broke away, only to be caught again eight miles north of town. Another was caught Monday morning and the sheriff is now scouring the country for the third man, Fred Barton by name and a barber by trade, who was imprisoned for burglary of a barber shop at Craig.
 At the meeting of the Associated Charities last Sunday afternoon, a step was taken in the right direction in the appointment of an executive board, whose business it shall be to find out the worthiness or unworthiness of the persons applying for help, thus preventing any imposition being practiced upon the society. The purpose of the organization is not to make people dependent upon it who are able to take care of themselves, but to aid those who, by reason of sickness or misfortune, are suffering for the necessities of life. The public has been very generous in donations for this work, and the society proposes to see the worthy ones helped thereby. The reports last Sunday showed that about twenty-five families were receiving aid. The clothing committee reported a need of more apparel, especially for children. Shoes also are greatly needed. Anything left with H. J. Straight or Benj Hemple at the court house will be taken care of and used in this work. The next meeting occurs on Sunday, Jan. 14, at 3:30 p. m.
