COWIN BRINGS SUIT.

The Celebrated Winch Divorce Suit Assumes a New Phase.

MYNARD GETS A POSTOFFICE.

And Col. D. S. Draper Claims to Have Already Been Commissioned to Read the Postal Cards-High School Changes-Local Notes.

Brings Suit for Attorney's Fees.

Gen. J. C. Cowin, the well-known Omaha attorney, arrived in the city last evening, and the train on which the general arrived brought Seth F. Winch, also of Omaha. It will be remembered by readers of THE JOURNAL that Mr. Winch several years ago commenced divorce proceedings against his wife in the district court of Cass county. Mrs. Winch is a resident of Providence, R. I., and it was the intention to obtain the divorce without publicity. Service of the legal papers upon Mrs. Winch was had by publication in a newspaper at Weeping Water, and the notice falling under the eye of an acquaintance of Mrs. Winch's—a young man working in the sewing machine factory at Weeping Water—the paper containing the notice was sent to Mrs. Winch at Providence. Mrs. Winch retained Attorney Haldeeman and made preparations to contest the case, and in course of time the case was called in district court, and after a rather exciting trial, a divorce was granted to Mrs. Winch, together with a generous slice of Seth's earthly possessions. Two weeks afterward Mr. Winch was married to another woman at Council Bluffs.

During the contest in the courts Gen. Cowin acted as counsel for Winch, and personally conducted the case before the district court. And now he wants his pay—some $2,400—and has commenced an action to recover that amount. The object of his visit to this city was to obtain depositions from parties here relative to the amount and value of his services, and it is just probable that when the litigation is at an end Mr. Winch will conclude that a Cass county divorce is a rather expensive affair.

A New Postoffice at Mynard.

Intelligence was received in this city today to the effect that the postal authorities had decided to establish a postoffice at the town of Mynard, four miles south of this city on the line of the Missouri Pacific. Daniel S. Draper, one of Cass county's democratic war horses, will be the postmaster, and he has forwarded his bond to Washington and will have the office in running order at an early date.

The establishment of a postoffice at that point will have the effect of decreasing the receipts of the local office to a certain extent, as nearly everyone living in that neighborhood are patrons of the Plattsmouth office.

A Violent Son.

Last Sunday, says the Weeping Water Eagle, the home of S. Obenalter was the scene of a desperate battle between father and son. The facts as near as can be ascertained are: that young Obenalter was chastising one of his younger brothers for some trifling matter, when the father appeared on the scene and interposed his objections. This seemed to anger the brutal boy, who left his little victim to chastise his parent for his interference. When Simon saw him make a dash for him with a club he picked up a chair and held it in front of him. The boy took hold of the chair and pinioned his father against the wall with it, pounding him on the head in the mean time with the club. The cries of the old gentleman brought him assistance, or we might be writing his obituary instead of this notice. His head is demoralized from the effects of the blows. The boy has left for parts unknown, while peace and Simon once more rule the family mansion on the Wabash.

Iowa Farmer Murdered.

Last night a man named James Owens shot and killed Seneca Noble, an old and influential farmer, living about eight miles southeast of Hamburg. It seems that James Owens married Mr. Noble's daughter about six months ago, much against the father's wishes. The union has never been a happy one, they having numerous quarrels. About a week ago the young wife sought protection in her father's house. Last night Owens came to Noble's home to get his wife, but the father interfered in his daughter's behalf, when Owens drew a revolver and fired, the shot killing him instantly. He then fired the second shot, which took effect on Mr. Noble's son, but not dangerously. Owens gave himself up to the authorities.

They Are Not Pleased.

About two dozen of the bravest warriors of the g. o. p. have a lusty kick coming on the action of the sheriff in appointing "school boys" as deputies during the present term of district court. After talking republicanism for years and working for the success of the ticket twice a year it causes them to feel very sad to be overlooked when the plums are being distributed. Monday morning before the opening of court the usual crowd of faithful and truly good were on hand looking out for a soft snap with little work and big pay accompaniments. And as a matter of right and justice, heads of families and tax-payers should have the preference when public work is to be given out.

Making More Room.

During the past few weeks the board of education has been confronted with a condition that requires additional school room at the central building, all the lower rooms being filled to their full seating capacity. Now they have decided to use the hall on the ground floor for another school room for primary grades, and are having it fitted up with seats and laying a new floor. Another teacher will be required to preside over the new room.

March is going to be a cold and stormy month if we are to believe Weather Prophet Hicks, which, it is safe to say, few people do. The weather he assures us will be pleasant till the 8th, but from the 7th to the 11th storm and tempest will rage. Within 24 hours of 6 p. m. on the 14th, storms of marked energy will be passing the central parts of the continent, heavy easterly gales will rage on the Atlantic coasts and a sweeping blizzardous wave will bear down from north and south. Thunder, rain and hail will suddenly give place to extremes of cold. Great cold will dominate most parts of the northern hemisphere from 20th to 24th. The last regular storm period of the month will be from 25th to 29th. The month will end with general cold weather.

"Am I Married or Not?"

asked Mr. A., despondently "I declare, my wife is so nervous and irritable that I don't stay in the house a moment longer than I can help. My home isn't what it used to be." "Mrs. A. is suffering from some functional derangement, I presume," said B. "Yes, she has been an invalid for years." "Exactly. Her experience is that of my wife, but she was cured by Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription. Get this remedy for Mrs. A., and the happiness of your home will soon be restored." Mr. B. was right. For pro-lapsus, painful periods, irregularities—in short, all "complaints" peculiar to the female sex—the "Favorite Prescription" is a sovereign specific.

Rupture, or hernia, permanently cured, or no pay. For pamphlet and references address, World's Dispensary Medical Association, Buffalo, N. Y.

A Card of Thanks.

IN AND AROUND THE TOWN.

According to word received by the railroads, the ice has gone out of the Platte and other western rivers, and no damage has been done. Last year when the ice went out it cost the railroads in Nebraska about $200,000 to repair the damage, the Union Pacific alone suffering nearly $50,000 damage. It will be a year Friday since the ice went out of the Platte, sweeping away the Columbus and other bridges, forming gorges and inundating thousands of acres.

The city of Plattsmouth is to be congratulated in the choice which ex-City Attorney Polk made when he turned the defense in the tax suit of the C. B. & Q. vs. the city over to Messrs. Beeson & Root.

Postmaster F. E. Helvey of Nebraska City has sent his resignation to the department at Washington, to take effect April 1. Mr. Helvey will assume the secretaryship of the Nebraska Live Stock Commission company, with headquarters at South Omaha, as soon as relieved. His resignation has caused a scramble among democratic aspirants for the place.

Col. Mayfield, editor of the Elmwood Echo, has been experimenting with chicken culture, and finds that the man who attempts to run a poultry farm in connection with a corn-fed weekly will have to work nine nights a week and then find his finest roosters associating with common farm stock and acquiring low diseases which carry them off at an early age.—Lincoln News.

THAT NICARAGUA CANAL.

If the United States is to go into the Nicaragua canal business it should be as the owner of the canal or not at all. Representative Doolittle of Washington is talking more sensibly than any other man in public life just now as to the duties, responsibilities and powers of this government on the isthmus. His contention that the United States has the right to construct the canal alone and that the exercise of that right will not be resisted by any foreign power is reasonable. His assertion that it would be no sacrifice of the principle of the Monroe doctrine if we should allow any other power disposed to do the work to go in and do it is more open to question, but is worthy of consideration.

The indications appear to be good for the defeat of the Morgan bill making this government the guarantor of $100,000,000 of Nicaragua canal bonds. The Doolittle proposition is much more sensible. For $100,000,000 we could build the canal and have it. Guaranteeing the payment of a like amount in bond, we could pay twice the cost of the canal in principal, interest and litigation and have nothing but an added experience to that we have already gained in Union Pacific.

The Scandinavian system of regulating the liquor traffic, known as the Gothenburg system, is the next plan that will be vigorously attempted in the United States. Prohibition and high license have each been tried in different sections of the country, and for brief periods, without finally solving the liquor question. The Gothenburg system is now likely to be tried, first perhaps in Massachusetts. This system eliminates the possibility of personal profit from the sale of liquor, and throws many restrictions around it. The income is used for various public purposes, and the sale of liquor is under the direct supervision of responsible men of high character. Social reformers in every part of the country are giving it close study with reference to our American conditions. An ardent believer in this system is Dr. E. R. L. Gould, who is one of our foremost students of social subjects, and who last year went to Norway to make a personal study of this system. Dr. Gould writes in the March number of the Forum a definite explanation of how it would work when applied to American conditions.
