LET US ELECT A POSTMASTER.

Congressman Bryan Did Not Vote-8, P. Vanatta is Indicted at Council Bluffs -Jones' Horse and Buggy at Eagle-Other Notes.

Is Still Unsettled

Billy Annin sends the following from the national capital: "Mr. Bryan has been greatly worried over the delay of the postoffice department in filling the Plattsmouth and Pawnee City postoffices. He was certain immediately after his return from the west that his wishes would be at once respected. He urged upon Postmaster-General Bissell the necessity for prompt action and was so well satisfied with the situation that be wired to Plattsmouth that everything was lovely and the goose was hanging in an altitudinous position, so to speak. Somehow or other. and I wouldn't pretend to intimate that anyone knows how, the postmaster-general suddenly became disinclined to act with that promptitude on the cases which Mr. Bryan's anxiety would have fully warranted. The postmaster-general must have received some kind of a tip about something and from somewhere, but where it came from is the mystery. Two subsequent visits of the member from the First district failed to hurry up the matter in the least. Perhaps Mr. Bryan's remark on the veto, in which Mr. Cleveland was not referred to in terms of deep affection, to speak mildly, may have had something to do with the case."

Bryan Did Not Vote. Billy Annin says: "A change of thirteen votes on the motion to pass the Bland seigniorage bill over the president's veto would have given the requisite two-thirds majority Wednesday. More than that number of advocates of the bill were absent and not voting and among these were Representatives Bryan, McKeighan and Kem. Mr. Bryan was out of the city. He had learned of the agreement between Mr. Bland and Mr. Tracey for a three days' discussion of the bill and was caught napping. While attending a wedding at Culpepper court house the bill was passed up and rushed through under the gavel of Speaker Crisp. Mr. Mc-Keighan was said to have been sick, but it is understood he left the city and his request for leave of absence on account of important business was presented to the house Thursday. Mr. Kem was also indisposed. The three republican members of the delegation were present in their seats and recorded on the motion. Mr. Bryan is greatly annoyed at the situation in which he found himself when he returned to Washington last Thursday. That one of the shining lights on the free silver side of the question should have been absent on this momentous occasion will naturally subject him to criticism. He accordingly rose in his seat Thursday morning in the house and explained that he had been away and was absent because he supposed that the bill would not have been considered so soon and no opportunity offered for debate. Otherwise, said Mr. Bryan, he would certainly have been on hand and cast his vote for the passage of the bill over the president's veto."

Last Saturday evening about nine o'clock as George Reichart was crossing the B & M. track just below Mrs. McIntire's residence he was startled by hearing a man cry for help. He back. There he met a farmer from over near Springfield who said he had been stabbed in the back by a couple of fellows who undertook to hold him up for his money. He said that he was driving along slow and just as he got t the foot of the hill two men sprang out of the weeds, one taking the horse by the bits while the other told him to hold up his hands. Instead the farmer struck at the robber and as he did so he was stabbed in the back with a pocket knife. They drove on to the Rock Island depot where an examination of the wound was made, which proved to be an ugly gash about one and one half inches long, but not deep enough to do much damage. No report was made to the officials and the foot-pads went their way unmolested. -Louisville Courier-Journal.

BY A PARTISAN VOTE

Mr. Hawkins Declared a Councilman Solely on Those Grounds.

With Right and Justice On His Side, He Proposes That the Courts, and Not a Partizan Council, Shall Settle the Question.

The would-be short-term councilman from the Fifth ward, Mr. Hawkins, must needs feel very small. Shortly after the sample election ballots were distributed about the city, Mr. Hawmechanics in attendance from different kins sallied into the city clerk's office cities in Illinois, Mi-souri, Iowa and and informed the clerk that the "balthis state. G. W. Rhodes, superin- lots were correctly printed, and that Mr. Slater and himself were the candidates for the long term and Messrs. Tutt and Bates for the short term." The arrangement suited him perfectly, but now he has changed his whistle wonderfully. At the polls Mr. Slater beat him almost two to one, while Mr. Tutt had almost the same majority M. J Paradise, Hannibal, Mo.; R. W. over Bates. But Mr. Hawkins, however, suddenly discovered a route by which he might steal into the council. The poll lists showed that he had received nine more votes than Mr. Tutt. To the ordinary fair-minded man this Reardon, E. S. Greusel, R. T. Smith, fact could not entitle him to a place in the council, as Mr. Tutt was opposed Helps, the latter of this city, of the B. to Mr. Bates, but not so with Hawkins; he declared himself elected to the short will probably be in session until Friday. I term, (an office for which he was not a candidate) so he pushed the button and the republican majority in the present council did the rest. Mr. Tutt proposes to test the trampling on of his rights in the courts, and if simple justice is done Usurper Hawkins will be told to take an immediate sneak.

Mr. Tutt Will Contest.

Mr. Jno. D. Tutt, the gentleman whom the voters of the Fifth ward fairly elected last Tuesday to represent them in the city council for the coming year, does not propose that the present shall deprive him of his office. Mr. sion of such talent as well as two such | Tutt will contest the partisan award of the seat to Mr. Hawkins, which was made by the council Monday night, and will look to the courts for justice. He firmly believes, and he is backed by almost every fair-thinking man, as well as all the lawyers, in the town, that he was honestly elected and he intends to parted from his home in this city Sun- use all honorable means to secure the seat, and also show the present countime last summer the marshal took a cil that a partisan majority cannot take prisoner to Washington who had be- from him his honest rights in the premises.
