IN AND AROUND THE TOWN.

Dr. B. F. Brendel, of Murray, was in the city last Thursday.

Mr. and Mrs. Mark White, of Eagle, are in the city visiting with the latter's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Fred Stadelmann.

Wm. Drain, a former resident of Plattsmouth, was severely injured in Omaha on Tuesday by falling down an elevator shaft.

Geo. W. Harshman, of Avoca, sustained an injury to one of his eyes several days ago, and has gone to an Omaha hospital for medical treatment.

Clyde Shultz, a Grand Island murderer, after two trials and convictions, was landed in the pen at Lincoln last Friday to serve a twenty years' sentence.

J. R. Moore and wife, who have been visiting their niece, Mrs. J. C. Eikenbary, in this city for a week past, departed for their home at Danville, Iowa, Friday.

Treasurer-elect Unruh filed his official bond in the sum of $20,000 at the city clerk's office last Friday. His bond is signed by Messrs. S. Waugh, J. M. Patterson, C. H. Parmele and H. N. Dovy.

Hezekiah Strong of Nehawka was in the city last Monday. He reports that his little boy, whose eyesight was all but destroyed some two weeks ago by the spilling of concentrated lye onto his face, is on the road to recovery.

The Western insurance company of Toronto has adjusted the loss by the burning of Dr. A. Shipman's residence, paying the sum of $1,122. The Home Fire of Omaha, which had a policy on the building, will adjust their loss next week.

A chattel mortgage covering twenty-seven locomotives just purchased by the Missouri Pacific was filed with the county clerk last week by the Baldwin locomotive works of Philadelphia. The amount to be paid is $294,058.—Lincoln Journal.

Henry Renkin was bound over to the district court at Nebraska City last week in the sum of $600 on a charge of embezzlement. Renkin is cashier of the defunct Farmers' bank of Palmage, and is accused of the embezzlement of $15,000.

The city assessors have decided to include bicycles in their list of taxable property this year, and people who own wheels will be called upon to pay their share of the expense of government. This is equitable and just. Vehicles of all kinds are taxable property.

"Tip" Straw, a Missouri Pacific employe at Nebraska City, was held up by a gang of tramps last week and relieved of a small sum of money. Tramps also stole three coats from a caboose of a Missouri Pacific freight train. Five of the gang were arrested and Straw identified one of them as the man who held him up.

The local B. & M. shops are putting on new men quite regularly of late. The force of flue-welders were again put on in the blacksmith shop Friday, and the planing mill is also taking on an occasional workman. With anything like a fair business next summer the railway company will surely increase its force quite considerably.

The Rock Island railway company is enforcing the anti-drink rule among its employes with a great deal of vigor, and even employs spotters to watch them and report the men off duty. One young man who protested stoutly that he never drank was shown a photograph which exhibited him in the act of drinking beer, and he instantly collapsed.

Matt Gering of Plattsmouth has recently discovered why it was that he was not appointed United States district attorney for Nebraska when he had a monopoly on endorsements. Matt has frequently been denominated the silver-tongued orator, and somehow or other Cleveland cannot tolerate anything with the ring of silver about it.—Lincoln News.

Hon. John C. Watson of Nebraska City has just returned from the east. He says the report that work had stopped on the great anti-trust distillery at Terre Haute, Ind., in untrue and doubtless was originated by the trust. The contractor is under bonds to have the building completed by July 1, and at that date the plant will be ready to compete with the whisky trust.

The small boy with the sling-shot is again at large. Monday a large iron slug, propelled by one of those bothersome weapons, crashed through a large window pane at H. N. Dovey's residence and barely missed one of the members of the family, while only a few seconds later a second slug struck the roof. A hasty search failed to unearth the lad responsible for the damage.

A Nebraska City husband has brought suit for divorce on the ground that his wife would not mend his trousers or sew buttons upon his shirt. If it is ever judicially determined that this is sufficient ground for divorce in Nebraska it will give well-meaning but patchless and buttonless husbands a powerful lever to secure their rights and their patches and buttons.—Lincoln News.

Will Predue, a farmer near Cambridge, hired a man to work on his farm. The man stole his wife's affections and finally the two skipped out together. Predue obtained a warrant for their arrest, but when the twain were found and professed to love each other with a love that could not be measured, he relented, withdrew the suit, paid the costs, gave them his blessing and went home.

WEeping WATER NOTES

From the Republican
Mrs. David Miller came out from Plattsmouth Saturday and spent the Sabbath with her husband.

J. W. Sperry, a few days since, added to his collection of war relics the ball (a grape) with which General Lyons was killed. It was loaned to him by a friend in Lincoln.

Geo. Harshman, sr., while nailing up a barbed wire fence, received a severe injury to one of his eyes, caused by a staple pulling out and striking the ball. He went to Omaha for treatment.

Elmer Wilcox met with a painful accident Saturday afternoon. He was riding a bicycle in Fred Gorder's implement house and fell off, running a sharp knife into his hand, cutting it badly. He went to Dr. Thomas' office and had the wound dressed.

Fred Gorder has been a resident of Weeping Water for more than ten years, he voted for county seat removal and against the court house bonds, and if we remember rightly, he did not give Herrmann very enthusiastic support twice when he wanted to be the democratic treasurer of Cass county. If our new mayor is a Plattsmouth man, the News can find lots more of the same sort in this part of Cass county.

See Brown and save money this year on your wall paper, paints and oils.

One of the most shocking murders and suicides known in that section of the country for years was committed near Hiawatha, Kansas, Sunday. James T. Watkins, a wealthy and highly respected farmer of Brown county, shot and fatally wounded his wife and then took poison himself, from the effects of which he died soon after. Watkins has not been living with his wife for some time on account of domestic unpleasantness. Sunday morning he went to her house before anyone was up and shot her twice. The woman at last accounts was dying. It is the supposition that Watkins had brooded over his family troubles until his mind had become deranged.

Omaha ain't in it with me now when it comes to prices on wall paper, and it is the same way with drugs, paints and oils.

BROWN'S PHARMACY.

A very clever scheme to effect a wholesale escape from the penitentiary was nipped in the bud last week. It appears that some seven of the convicts, with the notorious Doc La Motte of Omaha as their leader, had succeeded in sawing through the bars at the bottom of their cell doors, so that they could at a moment's notice easily pry aside the bars sufficiently to afford an aperture large enough to let them escape from their cells. The scheme comprised the overpowering of the right guard, whereby they expected to gain possession of keys that would enable them to get out. The project would doubtless have led to a desperate effort to escape had not one of the crowd informed the penitentiary officials of the situation.

Can you afford to throw away a dollar? If you can't, get my prices on wall paper and save a dollar.
