IN AND AROUND THE TOWN.

F. M. Young, sr., of Rock Bluffs precinct shipped two car loads of fat steers to the South Omaha stock yards via the M. P. Friday.

Bishop Bonacum of Lincoln was in the city for a few hours Friday in conference with Father Carney, pastor of the local Catholic church.

Dr. T. P. Livingston and wife returned home on Tuesday from a stay of eight weeks in Philadelphia, where the doctor has been attending medical lectures, etc.

Monday morning's Bee says that Carl T. Sheeley, editor of the Chronicle at Madison, was poisoned by eating potted ham, and is a very sick man. Mr. Seeley is a son-in-law of Thos. Mitchell of this city.

The Glenwood (La.) Opinion was somewhat stale last week. It failed to contain any mention derogatory to the Plattsmouth free ferry, as is its usual custom. It is hoped the Opinion will do better this week.

Mail clerks running out of Lincoln are busy weighing all mail which passes through their hands. The government has all mails weighed every four years and this is Nebraska's year. The weighing process will continue for thirty days.

A new time-card is booked for next Sunday on the Burlington. The only change so far contemplated is in the arrival of No. 92, which now arrives here at 12:10 p. m. According to the new card it will arrive thirteen minutes later.

THE JOURNAL has secured the services of Mr. J. W. Johnson, who will act as canvasser and collector throughout the county. JOURNAL subscribers can rest assured that all transactions made through Mr. Johnson will be acceptable to its proprietors.

The Fremont sarsaparilla makers are beginning to advertise in a sensible way, but we must protest against a picture of General Grant. He didn't invent the remedy, and he wasn't cured by it, and he makes no mention of sarsaparilla in his memoirs.—Walt Mason.

Church Howe isn't going to sleep in his race for the congressional nomination. He is averaging over a speech a day and as proof that he is after the nomination, he is confining his labors solely to the First district. Church is all right, but he won't do as a congressman.

United States Marshal Frank E. White sold the old Mosher property on the corner of Thirteenth and G streets Thursday to satisfy a judgment obtained in the federal court against Mosher, Outcalt and Hurlbut for $5,000. The Coldwater National bank of Coldwater, Mich., was the purchaser, and $1,750 was the price paid. The bidding was not very vigorous.—Lincoln Journal.

Weeping Water had a narrow escape the other day from gaining a new inhabitant (the first in several summers) as the following from the Eagle will explain: "A Chicago lady dropped in here a week or two since, rented a building and prepared for going into a notion business. A few days since her husband telegraphed her to pack up and take the first train to Chicago, as he had bought a business there again."

The Plattsmouth News says that Rock Bluffs has the oldest cemetery in the county; that it was laid out in March 1856. We are of the opinion that the old forgotten cemetery southwest of Louisville a mile was about the first cemetery in the county. It was laid out during the great gold rush of '49, and where more than one unfortunate who died on the plains was buried. And we are sorry to say that this grand old village of the dead is sadly forgotten and neglected, it being in a big stock pasture.—Elmwood Echo.

Nelson Murray and Will Gillespie, the two grain buyers at Mynard, furnished a rather interesting entertainment for a few minutes Thursday afternoon and the small audience present appeared to enjoy it immensely. Murray had finished cleaning out a box car in order that it could be filled with grain. Gillespie appeared on the scene and claimed the car and upon Murray's stout refusal, grabbed a big bolt and made known his intention of having it anyway. To offset Gillespie's bolt, Murray picked up a board and after knocking Gillespie down, proceeded to give him an awful thrashing. When the process was finished Murray withdrew from the scene to wash the gore from his hands, and while absent Gillespie, with some assistance, pushed the car to his place of loading and had it well-filled by the time of Murray's return. War was again threatened at this juncture, but bystanders interfered. With her new postoffice and fistic exhibitions every day, Mynard will soon become famous.

HAVELOCK HAPPENINGS.

Charles Langston has gone to Muncy, Kan., where he will visit friends for a couple of weeks.

Jack Palmeter says he is supposed to be dead, at least politically, and doesn't seem much put out over it, either.

F. B. Holmes, J. E. Longston and J. L. Roeder attended the Catholic dance and fair at Plattsmouth Friday evening.

Miss Mollie Ballance of Plattsmouth was visiting with Miss Donnelly the first of the week, and returned home Wednesday afternoon.

A daughter was born to the house of George Kroehler on Wednesday morning last. Mother and daughter doing well. Dr. Ballard attended.

Havelock should re-organize her old ball team and teach the Lincoln pirates how to play ball, also to wipe the earth with the Plattsmouth sports on the Fourth of July.

The members of the fire company employed at the shops were docked one hour for the time they were away. This has led to several resignations from the department, among them being Chief McGuire.

At a fire meeting held Wednesday evening the resignation of H. M. McGuire as chief was received and accepted with regret. An election to fill the place chose C. W. Corum by a majority of two votes over John Rhoeder. Harry gave up the position because it interfered with his work. He served many years in the department at Plattsmouth and holds a diploma testifying to five years of faithful and efficient service.

Omaha ain't in it with me now when it comes to prices on wall paper, and it is the same way with drugs, paints and oils.

It has long since been said that trying to do business without advertising is like winking at a pretty girl in the dark. You know what you are doing, but no one else does.—Elmwood Echo.

Can you afford to throw away a dollar? If you can't, get my prices on wall paper and save a dollar.

BROWN'S PHARMACY.

Try us for light harness. We use the very best of leather and employ only first-class workmen. The prices will please. FRED GORDER & SON, Plattsmouth.

Did Not go to Denver.

Sheriff Eikenbary has received intelligence from Denver which warrants him in believing that he has located the man who stole Liveryman Jones' horse and buggy some three weeks ago. The report published in Polk's News that the sheriff had gone to Denver after the man was erroneous. The sheriff will await further developments before taking any chance of going on a wild-goose chase.

Consumption, Bronchitis, Catarrh, and all diseases of the respiratory organs are of like germ origin, and it is only lately that they have been successfully treated. In Heliolum by steam inhalation, American scientists have succeeded, where Koch and Pasteur failed, in perfecting a cure that cures.
