NEED THE TROOPS.

Indiana Sheriffs Say Force Will Be Neces sary to Subdue Strikers. Indianapolis, Ind., June 2 .- A telegram was received at the governor's office Friday night from Sheriff Leming and Judge Heffron, of Daviess county; asking for troops to quell armed strikers at Cannelburg. It is stated that there are 200 of them, but the number is expected to increase to 600 in a short time. They have seized the trains on the Baltimore & Ohio Southwestern and are not only refusing to let any coal pass, but are acting in a lawless and insolent manner, defying the sheriff when he read to them a restraining order issued by the local court. The sheriff states that he is unable to organize a posse of citizens large enough to cope with the strikers. who refused to acknowledge the service of process. The prospects are that mail trains will not escape interference, as the miners are excited and beyoud the reasoning point.

Private Secretary King wired Gov. Matthews, who, with Adjt. Gen. Robbins and their wives and other state officials, were attending a ball dedicating the new armory of the Terre Haute rifles at Terre Haute. The governor returned here at 3 o'clock this morning. The militia of the state, it is understood, has been ordered to get under arms and the Indianapolis companies are busy cleaning up their rifles. It is expected they will start to-day.

Gov. Matthews has been placed in a delicate and trying position by Attorney General Smith, who, in an interview, denies that the governor has power to use the troops except at the expense of the county calling for them, as the state fund for the purpose is about exhausted. The governor, however, says he will use every dollar in the treasury to preserve the peace.
