LATE HAPPENINGS IN FIELDS OF INDUSTRY.

An Automatic Motor with Oscillating Lever—An Improved Gate—The Bicycle Promises to Supersede the Bicycle—Notes and Comments.

An Automatic Motor.

In this motor a pivoted oscillating lever has at its ends buckets which alternately receive and discharge water as the ends of the lever rise and fall, the actual weight of the water thus operating the motor with very little friction and a minimum loss of power.

IN OPERATION.

lever being weighted and the weight resting on a spring, whereby the raised end of the beam is locked in place until the water entering the bucket overbalances the weighted lever.

An Improved Typewriter.

An inventor at the west claims to have constructed a machine which will accomplish not only the work of an ordinary typewriter, but is adapted for successful operation in the case of bound books of any size, as the device can be readily clasped upon a book of any breadth or thickness.

An Improved Farm Gate.

According to the improvement shown in the illustration, which has been patented by Richard T. Mulcahy of Rosenberg, Texas, the gate is supported centrally on a pivot post and adapted to be swung in either direction by levers and pull cords.

HOW IT OPERATES.

an elbow lever connected through a link by one of its members with one of the members of each of the elbow levers on the swing post, the other member of the elbow lever on the latch guide being connected with one of the latches on the gate.

WOMAN AND HOME.

CURRENT HINTS AND SUGGESTIONS FOR HOUSEWIVES.

Some New Designs in Woman's Wearing Apparel—For Small Girls—Some Recipes for the Culinary Department—Notes of Fashion.

Small Girls, Large Hats.

The smaller the girl the larger the hat, seems to be Dame Fashion's idea nowadays. Wide brimmed leghorn hats and hats of coarse straw are picturesquely bent to protect the small faces beneath from the too ardent rays of the summer sun.

An Intellectual Empress.

The empress of Japan, who recently celebrated her silver wedding, is not only a very pretty woman, but very intellectual, and has great strength and beauty of character.

An Improved Bicycle.

The wheel shown in the illustration, patented by a Chicagoan, is designed to facilitate traveling at a high rate of speed, while being of comparatively durable and simple construction.

Fat-Pins Are Dangerous Weapons.

The Daily Graphic grins at us because of the formidable hat-pins we wear. In spiteful hands they become dangerous weapons capable of doing damage quite disproportionate to their size.

Apple Float.

Cure three large apples, bake them, remove the skin and add one cupful of powdered sugar and the white of an egg. Beat all together very light.

Dainty Muslim Gowns.

Now we shall wear muslins, and there is everything to tempt us. What do you say to a white, soft Indian muslin with tiny Pompadour bouquets, divided by lace insertion?

The Small Summer Girl.

Morning dresses for very small girls are now sold with sun bonnets to match. For country wear nothing is more sensible than the sun bonnet, and the baby girl makes a quaint little picture in her gingham frock, with its long skirt, puffed sleeves and old-fashioned sun bonnet tied under her chin.

Difference in Method but—

Traveler (in Europe)—Who are those two beautiful girls? Steamer Captain—One is a Circassian whose parents are going to sell her to a Turk; the other is an American whose parents are going to give her to a nobleman.

Not to Blame.

Footlights—Our company produced your play last night. Scribbler (in ecstasy)—Did the audience call for the author? Footlights—Yes. They knew we were not to blame.—Puck.

He Understood His Business.

The Amateur—How is it all your photographs of people show their true expression so well? The Photographer—I never tell a patron to look natural.

A Practical Girl.

Nellie—Why do you send out your wedding invitations so far in advance? Millie—Many of our friends keep their money in savings banks, and have to give notice.

Fully Comprehended.

Teacher—As the twig is bent the tree is inclined. Do you understand that? Boy—Yes'm. W'en bicycle boys grow up they'll walk with a stoop.

SOME NEW TICKLERS.

LATEST JOKES AND JIBES SELECTED AND ORIGINAL.

Situation Wanted by a Young Lady—Not Quite Barbarians—His Firm Resolve—Flotsam and Jetsam from the Tide of Fun.

An Ideal Country Editor.

Firt Wayback Citizen—Hear the news? Second Wayback Citizen—Eh? More burglaries? "Mighty near it. As th' new editor of th' Wayback Whoop was goin' home last night he saw two burglars in like Weightlight's store. Well, sir, that editor jist pitched in, shot one of 'em, an' caught the other."

Situation Wanted.

Young lady of good standing, tired of her present position, wishes to change it for a more desirable one as soon as possible. "Patience," box 1,000, N. Y. Advertiser.—Judge.

Situation Wanted.

A Considerate Employer.

Publisher—You walk lame. Been kicked out much? Book Agent—'Bout forty times. Publisher (kindly)—Well, leave your sample cyclopeda here, and canvas with this sample Bible until your back gets well.

Strikers Find Friends.

Merchant—I am collecting money to help the bituminous coal miners continue their strike. Broker—Eh? You? Merchant—Yes. If they hold out, the stock of soft coal will soon be used up and our atmosphere will once more be fit to breathe. Broker—Glorious! Here's my check.

Good Time to Die.

Gloomy Man—Who is the fool who wrote "I Would Not Die in Spring Time"? Wife—Fool? Gloomy Man—Yes. Spring time is just the season to die. Escape the spring house cleaning, you know.

His Firm Resolve.

Valentine McClinchy (derisively)—Verberna McNulty, during the first periods of our acquaintance, I had no objections to the presence of a third party during our interviews, but now that mutual admiration has deepened into love, and love into betrothal, this system, at once insulting and suspicious to the disinterestedness of my motives, must cease at once or all will be over between us forever.—Truth.

Tommy's Logic.

"I don't see what's the use of my being vaccinated again," said Tommy, baring his arm reluctantly for the doctor. "The human body changes every seven years, Tommy," replied his mother. "You are eleven years old now. You were in your fourth year when you were vaccinated first, and it has run out."

Well, I was baptized when I was a baby.

"Well, I was baptized when I was a baby. Has that run out, too?" "The newest school." Patron—Can you tell what ails my wife? Doctor—She does not take enough outdoor exercise. "She does not feel like it." "True. She needs toning up." "What have you prescribed?" "A new bonnet."

Relief for Mothers.

Little Boy—What's the use of so many queer letters in words? Look at that "c" in "indicted." Little Girl—I guess those is just put in so mothers can get an excuse to send their children to school and have a little peace.

Not Quite Barbarians.

Bostwick—And it is true that you Chicagoans eat with your knives? Hogaboom—Why of course we do! D'ye think we eat with our fingers, like savages?—Truth.

Blessings of Bicycling.

Missionary—I think of getting up a series of revival meetings for young men. Villager—Waste of time. Not needed at all, sir. The young men of this town lead strictly moral lives. "My! To what benignant influence do you ascribe that remarkable condition?" "They are all saving up money for 1894 pneumatic."
