

IN AND AROUND THE TOWN.

Miss Ella Eikenbary departed last Friday for a week's visit with her father's sister at York.

J. M. Roberts of Sherman county was in town Friday and gave THE JOURNAL a call.

The democratic congressional convention has been called to occur at Tecumseh on Sept. 20.

Mrs. F. E. White and children, Mrs. P. C. Minor, Mrs. T. P. Livingston and Miss Amelia Valley journeyed to Hot Springs, South Dakota, Saturday over the B. & M. They will be absent for a week.

Monday evening while Commissioner Thorp of Loup county and the rest of the family were visiting their melon patch, some distance from the house, a little daughter, who was left alone, accidentally fell into a barrel of water and was drowned.

Robert Troop, one of the best known farmers out in Plattsmouth precinct, threshed his wheat the other day and procured therefrom an average of twenty-five bushels to the acre. For a year which is said to be decidedly poor for small grain, Mr. Troop's wheat crop is a large one.

The Nehawka Register says: "Miss Maggie O'Rourke, of Plattsmouth, has accepted a position in the bank at this place, with the view of learning the business, so as to be able to take charge of a bank herself. Miss O'Rourke was formerly in the register of deeds office, and is an accomplished accountant.

The followers of Congressman Bryan carried the day in the Lancaster county primaries Tuesday, thus insuring the election of a Bryan delegate to the state convention. Douglas promises to follow suit, and with the two largest delegations in the state voting for Bryan, the "pie biters" might as well fall in line and make it unanimous.

A western exchange warbles in this wise: "Backward, turn backward, O time in your flight; give us a rip-snorting rainstorm tonight. Open the heavenly flood-gates, I pray; let the rain pour for a night and a day; I am so weary of skies that are fair, weary of breathing the dirt in the air, weary of sowing to harvest no grain; give us a rain, mister, give us a rain."

The Bethlehem bastardy case, mention of which was made in THE JOURNAL several days ago, will furnish material for a church trial over there during the present week. The preacher implicated in the affair is not a regular appointee of the conference, but had charge of the Bethlehem congregation, and will have to appear before the church board for trial or lose his standing in the church.

In the bicycle races at Nebraska City Friday Tom Patterson won first place in the quarter-mile dash and second in the mile open. Harvey Holloway slipped his pedals in the mile novice, but managed to secure second place, although the mishap lost him fully forty feet. In the five-mile handicap Harvey again had the misfortune to lose his pedals three times, and to it he attributes his failure to win the race.

Clerk of Court Dearing and wife are called upon to mourn the death of their youngest child, Mary. The child was in its third year, and its demise was due to a complaint common to children during the summer season. The parents have the sympathy of the entire community in their bereavement. The funeral was had Saturday afternoon from the residence of the family on Ninth street. Rev. Baird officiated.

Reynolds of Nehawka and Johnson of Nebraska City had a five-mile bicycle race at Nebraska City Friday for a purse and the Nehawka man won. The time—19:12—was slow. There are plenty of riders in Plattsmouth who can discount that time several minutes and Reynolds' claim to the championship of the county seems rather nervy. Perhaps the Nehawka people feel like backing their man for a race.

Postal cards must not be mutilated in any manner. If they are they become useless and the postoffice department will not handle them. The trimming of a card, for instance, in order to get it in an envelope for an answer is prohibited. A day or two ago a Quincy business firm sent to the postoffice 10,000 cards that had been trimmed for convenience sake, and the postmaster refused them. The firm lost a cool $100 by the trimming operation.

Wm. Spencer, aged twenty-nine years and the son of H. G. Spencer, died last Friday at the home of his father, on North Twelfth street. The deceased since childhood has been afflicted with epileptic fits, brought about by a severe attack of brain fever. His ailment served to weaken his mind. Thursday his collapse was complete and after the afflicted young man had suffered untold agonies for over twenty-four hours, death came to his relief shortly after one o'clock Friday. Funeral services were had Saturday at two p. m. from the residence, Rev. Davis officiating.

Fred Peyton, champion pool player of the state, is at the Omaha city hospital in a precarious condition, the result of a heavy blow on the head, received Monday evening in South Omaha. His skull is fractured. It is supposed that the blow was struck by Tom Galloway, a young man who runs an elevator at Cudahy's packing house. A few evenings ago Peyton and Galloway had a quarrel over a girl. It is claimed that at the time Galloway drew a revolver on Peyton. The latter offered to fight him with bare knuckles, but refused to go up against a revolver. When Galloway was going to his room over Shenk's restaurant on lower N street, Peyton followed him up stairs. In the hallway the men began fighting and there were no witnesses to tell just how the assault was committed. The first that outsiders knew of the scrap was when Peyton fell down stairs. He was knocked senseless by the blow and fell and only rallied at short intervals during the night. Peyton works in a barber shop close to where the racket occurred. His condition is slightly improved, but the man's injuries are nevertheless serious.

About fifty "commonwealers" arrived in Kansas City Tuesday morning direct from Washington. They travelled on the Wabash railroad from St. Louis, and had one ticket good for the transportation of seventy men from Washington to St. Louis and from St. Louis to Kansas City on the Wabash. When the wealers were marching on to Washington from every corner of the great west they were told at every city and hamlet to "move on." Now that they are returning it is the same thing over again. "Move on" was the command given by St. Louis police officers and "move on" was the command given by Kansas City police officers, and so it will probably be until the great army of the commonweal is so scattered that companies and divisions and squads can no longer retain their identity.

An awful railroad accident occurred on the Rock Island Thursday night in the outskirts of Lincoln. The rails on a high trestle spread and threw an engine and four coaches of a passenger train down an embankment of almost forty feet. The coals from the overturned locomotive set fire to the coaches, and before the imprisoned passengers could be liberated eleven had been burned to death. Many others were injured. It was the most horrible accident within the history of railroading in Nebraska.
