

Judge Chapman adjourned district court Tuesday until Wednesday, Nov. 7—the day after election.

To be in trouble has one result at any rate—it seldom fails to prove the hypocrisy of some pretended friendship.

Geo. W. Adams of the vicinity of Murray, an Abraham Lincoln sort of a democrat, was in town Tuesday. He is for the fusion ticket, and anything to beat the monopolists.

W. N. Halsey, treasurer of the Associated Charities, acknowledges the receipt of $2275, that sum representing the net receipts derived from the recent Delsarte entertainment.

Mr. Dutton's friends are urging him to apply for a writ of mandamus to keep J. P. Falter from running. Falter's election is such a certainty that such a scheme is Dutton's only hope.

Conrad Schlater, of College Hill, has been in town for some days—taking occasion to pay a visit over Sunday with his good wife to friends in Glenwood, Iowa, the first time he has been in that town since 1859—35 years ago.

The dry goods house of Herold & Son have boarded THE WEEKLY JOURNAL's advertising train this week in a full page announcement of their wares. Herold & Son are to be congratulated in selecting a newspaper which has a real circulation.

The K. of L. in Nebraska City have endorsed the candidacy of Geo. W. Leidigh, the fusion candidate for that representative for Cass and Otoe counties. Mr. Leidigh stands for Bryan for the senate; Sinclair and Orton do not. All friends of Bryan should be careful to vote for Leidigh.

The Omaha Bee and World-Herald are pulling together in this campaign. If that is not enough to ruin any candidate then we do not know what would be.—Nebraska City News.

In other words the News hopes for the defeat of Holcomb and the election of Majors. Why not say it in plain words and cease acting the hypocrite.

President Cleveland has issued his annual proclamation setting apart Thursday, Nov. 29th as a day of Thanksgiving and prayer. "To be kept and observed by all people in the land." We are unable to state just how the president feels on the subject, but donations of turkeys at these headquarters will not be spurned.

The Missouri Pacific passenger train going south Tuesday noon came near being wrecked at the B. & M. viaduct. It ran into an open switch and striking a hand car, wrecked the same badly, as well as the pilot of the engine. The passengers were considerably shaken up, but none were injured.—Nebraska City News.

The report has been circulated that Secretary Morton would be able to come home to vote, but on account of the immense amount of business that has accumulated during his absence he has written that it will be impossible for him to come home, much as he would like to. He will remain in Washington for some time.—Nebraska City News.

A letter from Washington elsewhere printed today, treats of the estimation in which Congressman Bryan is held at the national capital. It simply voices the facts which are well known to the editor of this paper from personal knowledge. There is nobody in either house of congress who has more warm friends and devoted admirers in that city than the gentleman from the Nebraska first.

W. H. Thompson of Grand Island, the "little giant of the big third" as he is familiarly known all over Nebraska, will be in Plattsmouth on Saturday night and will expound democratic doctrine for the edification voters in this vicinity. Mr. Thompson is one of the most forcible and brilliant speech-makers in Nebraska and Plattsmouth people should turn out and give him a large audience.

The Nebraska City News is making a hot fight on an Otoe county commissioner who stands for re-election, on the ground that he is in the habit of drawing too much salary in proportion to the service rendered from the county treasury. The democrats of this commissioner's district in Cass county have the same kind of fight, and here it is a certainty that the salary-flicker will be turned down by an overwhelming vote. May the Otoe county democracy be as successful.

Down in Otoe county mandamus proceedings were instituted today against the county clerk to compel him to print opposite the names of all candidates nominated by two parties the names of the parties in separate lines. District Judge Ferguson of Omaha ordered the Douglas county clerk to print the ballots for that county in the same manner as it is sought to compel the Otoe county clerk to have them printed, and it seems that the same method should have been resorted to here in Cass.

CONGRESSMAN BRYAN

A Faithful Representative, the People's and the Soldier's Friend.

IS ALWAYS FOR THE MASSES

As Against the Classes—Intense Interest At the National Capital in the Nebraska Senatorial Struggle—A Glowing Tribute.

WASHINGTON, D. C., Oct. 27, 1894.

TO THE PLATTSMOUTH JOURNAL:—Intense interest is felt at the national capital, by democrats, populists and republicans in the political struggle now in progress through out the country, and which terminates with the election on the 6th of Nov. next. A large share of this interest is in the magnificent fight, Mr. Bryan is making in Nebraska for election as U. S. senator.

Here, Mr. Bryan, is regarded by men of all political parties, as by far the most brilliant of all the younger members of congress. His oratorical triumphs on the floor of the house have not been surpassed, and many think not equalled, by any of the men of that body, in their earlier official life, since the peerless "Harry of the west," thrilled and swayed by his matchless eloquence the multitudes who crowded the hall of the house to hear him so often. Mr. Bryan, in the four years he has been in congress, has attained to greater prominence, and wields a more potent influence in the councils of the nation, than most of men have reached in twenty years since in either house or congress.

Nebraska should be proud of her brilliant and eloquent representative. The writer of this, though a western democrat, has sojourned at the national capital for fifteen or twenty years past. During these years has known a large number of men high in the nations councils, of all these not one has served their constituency and the country with more untiring industry, fidelity and efficiency, than has Mr. Bryan. He is never idle, with unselfish devotion to duty, every hour is given to conscientious and active performance of the work devolved upon him as the representative of a large constituency. No request to Mr. Bryan, coming from the people of his state is ever neglected; no favor asked is denied, his constituents be they democrats, populists or republicans. Persons visiting Washington from Nebraska, high or humble, alike receive at Mr. Bryan's hands the most cordial greeting, and to them all he extends every possible courtesy and kindness. He is never absent from his from his seat in the house during its sessions, legislative proceedings receive his closest attention. In the deliberation of the house he takes a prominent part and wields a potent influence.

As a member of the committee of ways and means, the most important committee of the house he performs an immense amount of work. When not at the sittings of the house or the meetings of his committee, well nigh every moment of his time is occupied in attending to countless matters of interest to his constituents at the executive departments or attending to his correspondence, which involves hours of work each day. No letter from his constituents, that does not receive a prompt answer. The veteran soldiers find in Mr. Bryan a warm and faithful friend. During his term in congress not a single soldier of Nebraska, who has asked his assistance in procuring the allowance of a pension or any other claim, that has not been given promptly, cheerfully and thoroughly. His life here, public and private, has been such as to bring himself honor, and reflect honor upon the people he represents. By all, irrespective of party, he is recognized as the incorruptible and incorruptible public servant.

Since entering congress, on every question and measure considered by the house, Mr. Bryan has been the eloquent and earnest champion of the people. Always found for the masses and against the classes whenever there was a clashing of interests between the people and syndicates and great and powerful money combines he has always been found on the side of the people.

The democrats and populists of Nebraska, pledged as they are, to every measure that they believe will be for the advancement of the prosperity of the people, should unite as one man and secure the election of Mr. Bryan to the United States senate a man, who, by every word and act of his life, has shown himself in liveliest sympathy with the masses, and defeat the party which for twenty years or more has shown by the action of its senators and representatives in congress to PLEEKER THE INTERESTS OF THE VAST CORPORATIONS, SYNDICATES AND OTHER COLOSSAL MONEY COMBINES of the east, to the interests of the toiling millions of the west.

"WESTERN DEMOCRAT."
