Iowa Cattle Thieves.

For some time past the farmers residing on the Iowa side of the river have been missing their cattle, and all told the neighborhood has been a sufferer to the extent of some ten or twelve cattle. The thefts were reported to the authorities of this city and an investigation was immediately commenced. It was soon developed that quite a few of the stolen cattle had been brought to this city, but the task to locate the party stealing the cattle proved a difficult one, as the description failed to tally with anyone known in these parts. The authorities have finally secured something tangible and a warrant was issued yesterday for the arrest of a man called Cal Bance. The party wanted is supposed to be in Nebraska City and a description of him was telegraphed to that place yesterday. So far the authorities have not received any word as to his apprehension but they have every reason for believing that they will soon have nabbed their game.

The Same As Murder.

Reports of a cruel case of attempted eviction comes from Omaha. A poor woman named Mrs. Sarah Peterson, living on Martha street, says that her husband, who is sick with typhoid fever, was taken from a sick bed yesterday afternoon and removed to the Douglas county hospital in the ambulance wagon while he was in a critical condition. She states that the cause of removal was to secure possession of the house because of non-payment of rent. The physicians having the case in charge say that the removal of Lewis Peterson at this time will probably prove fatal for him. When Mrs. Peterson objected to having her husband taken from the house she was assaulted by Mr. and Mrs. Feller, the owners of the property. Peterson was carried out of the house and compelled to walk to the cab in his stocking feet.

A letter dated the 14th inst. reached this city, announcing the death by drowning of C. O. Bonnell, familiarly known as "Doc," who resided in this city for a number of years and was employed by the B. & M. as a fireman before the "Q" strike. He left here a short time ago and at the time of his death was employed by the B. & M. in constructing a bridge near Sheridan, Wyo., over the Big Horn river, in which stream he was drowned. He was hauling concrete to the first pier when he fell. His cries for help were heard, but no assistance could reach him. The body has not been recovered. He is a distant relative of G. W. Bonnell, the city ticket agent of the B. & M. It is believed other relatives reside in Iowa.—Lincoln Journal.

Word now comes that the populist state committee, as a sort of an offset to the game of bluff which the Majors outfit is running, will contest the election of the entire state republican ticket. The whole business is a rank piece of nonsense. Holcomb's election was fair and square as was that of the republican ticket, and the state committee deserve to take a back seat and give the people a rest.

According to the North China Herald the emperor of China is a subject, if not the hero, of a story that is circulating in Pekin. A palace eunuch, it is said, recently delivered a letter or dispatch meant for the imperial eye alone into the hands of one of the ladies of the harem. Thereupon his majesty seized a sword and immediately decapitated the offending messenger. The people of Pekin are said to speak of the incident with undisguised satisfaction, regarding it as a proof that the emperor has a mind of his own after all.

South Omaha packers are excited over an advance in rates on the shipment of hogs to points east of the Mississippi, which is announced to take place Dec. 1. The purpose of the rise is said to be to force shipments to Chicago instead of having the killing done on the Missouri river.

The late decision of the supreme court in which it was held that the county is liable for all repairs to the Louisville bridge, really occasioned little surprise in legal circles. At the time the question was first raised County Attorney Travis advised the county commissioners that the county was liable, but the commissioners were determined to test the matter in the courts and test it they did. As to the matter of commencing suit to compel Sarpy county to stand half the repairs, it is now considered unlikely that any such move will be made. Lawyers state that the supreme court has already passed on the same question wherein the Buffalo county commissioners instituted suit to make a sister county foot half the repairs on a bridge across the Platte, and the supreme court held against Buffalo. There is nothing for the county board to do but pay the repair bills and quit murmuring.

"Elopists" Come to Grief.

An eloping couple from Lancaster county, says a dispatch to the Lincoln Journal, came to grief in Beatrice Wednesday night. The way it occurred was this:

For about a year past a fellow named "Zack" Jones has worked on the farm of Louis Wegman near Martel, Lancaster county. Last Tuesday he quit. He went to Lincoln, bought a 32-calibre revolver and a box of cartridges, and Wednesday he and Mrs. Wegman, accompanied by a six-year old son of the later, started out to see the country. They went as far as De Witt on the Rock Island and there they hired a liveryman to bring them to Beatrice.

C. E. Clarke, a driver for the liveryman started for Beatrice with them and when out a few miles the buggy upset. This angered young Jones and he began flourishing his revolver accompanied with threats of shooting the driver. They finally got straightened out and came on, arriving at about 10 o'clock at night.

Clarke put up his team and started out to find an officer. He swore out a warrant charging Jones with assault and the pair were arrested by Deputy Sheriff Kyd about midnight. They had gone to bed at the Butler house, man woman and boy occupying the same room. Jones was considerably frightened when the officer stepped into the room, took his gun from him and commanded him to get into his clothes. He was arranged today and pleading guilty was fined $5 and costs, which he paid and was released. He had $62 when arrested, but after paying his attorney $30 and his other "incidentals" expenses had but about $20 left. The woman admitted she was married and said that she had three children at home. The woman's husband has been notified of the occurrence.
