A Legal Tangle Dismissed.

A somewhat celebrated case was brought up before Judge Dundy in the federal court at Omaha Friday and dismissed, the attorneys announcing to the court that the controversy had been settled. The parties were Mrs. Birney of St. Louis and Mrs. Reed of Lincoln. Mrs. Birney sued Mrs. Reed for false imprisonment, and the matter came about in this wise: Mrs. Reed is a highly connected member of the ultra fashionable circles of the city of Lincoln, and is a widow without inheritance. Some years after she laid her first husband away she met W. H. Nelson, and for a second time in her life surrendered her heart to the keeping of one of the sterner gender. After a brief courtship they became betrothed and the wedding day was fixed. Nelson finally wandered away from his affections and ultimately resigned all claim to the fair widow's hand. She commenced a suit for breach of promise and in the somewhat devious progress of the case Mrs. Birney furnished an affidavit to the effect that Mrs. Reed had in her anxiety to corral the affection of her truant lover donned male attire and searched for him through the streets at night. Mrs. Birney also made other allegations of a surprising nature, all of which were extremely damaging to the case of the Widow Reed. As a result the widow had Mrs. Birney arrested at St. Louis and brought to Lincoln for trial on the criminal charge of perjury. Mrs. Birney was acquitted after an exciting trial, lasting several days. She thereupon commenced a suit for damages against Mrs. Reed, but the case has been settled out of court. So has the breach of promise case against Nelson and the books are closed.

The place of business of the Consolidated Coffee company of Omaha, located on Harney street, was destroyed by fire Monday night, causing a loss of $65,000. The insurance is for only $34,000. The Kennard Paint Co., located just west of the coffee concern, was damaged by water to the extent of $15,000, but was fully insured. The water pressure was so weak and inefficient that great fears were entertained that the Murray hotel would go up in the flames, but providence evidently took the management of the fire out of the hands of the fire department and saved the hotel.

Bibles and prayer books at Lehnhoff's; booklets and calendars at Lehnhoff's; elegant white metal and celluloid novelties at Lehnhoff's; kid dolls, China dolls, paper dolls at Lehnhoff's; tissue paper and lamp shade frames at Lehnhoff's. Everything at Lehnhoff's.

The three hog thieves, Williams, Beck and Wheeler, who were arrested Saturday at Nebraska City on the charge of stealing Farmer Lynn's porkers, agreed Tuesday morning to plead guilty to any charge County Attorney Morgan might file against them rather than take their chances of a trial in Missouri. County Attorney Morgan thereupon filed a charge of obtaining money under false pretenses, and they plead guilty. They will know better next time. Judge Chapman at once sentenced them to fourteen months each in the penitentiary.

John Donelan came near having a fire at his residence Monday evening. While he was lighting a lamp the head of a match flew off and ignited the lace curtains in the window, and a blaze sprung up in short order. John tore the curtains down and ran out of doors with them, but he says they were all burned up by the time he got them out.—Weeping Water Republican.
