

Chas. Hebner of Nebawka was a Plattsmouth visitor Saturday.

J. W. Pitman, one of Liberty precinct's most progressive farmers, was a Plattsmouth visitor Saturday.

The World-Herald says that "the Burlington and Northwestern officials may decide to shorten the time of the fast mail trains even more."

A few teams have crossed the Missouri on the ice since the river closed, and as the ice is getting stronger daily a few days will probably see general crossing opposite town.

Captain David McCaig of Wabash was in the city Friday looking after matters pertaining to his candidacy for the superintendency of the soldier's home at Grand Island.

Governor-Elect Holcomb handed in his resignation Tuesday as judge of the Twelfth judicial district and Gov. Crouse at once appointed Hector M. Sinclair of Kearney to fill the vacancy. Sinclair is a republican.

Jacob Swindler, a former Plattsmouth citizen but who is now tilling the soil out on the Simeon Long farm near Myard, is the father of a new daughter. The little one arrived at an early hour this morning.

O. J. King, the Omaha contractor who built the Cass county court house, has been awarded the contract for constructing the superstructure of the new government building at Kansas City, Mo. His bid was $255,000.

A small boy in an Austin, Tex., Sunday school was asked: "Where do the wicked finally go?" "They practice law for a spell and then go to the legislature," was the pat reply of the observing youth.—Christian Intelligencer.

The members of the local Turnverein who journeyed to Nebraska City and assisted the society in the latter town in a turning exhibition, report that they were royally entertained and wish to return thanks for the good treatment shown them.

Frank Suda, a young Bohemian who lived out in Fillmore county, shot and killed himself with a revolver about four o'clock Tuesday morning. He had just been to the wedding of a former sweetheart, and it is thought he could not bear to see her wedded to another.

The following batch of postmaster-ships was dished out to worthy Nebraskans by the authorities at Washington Thursday: At Capalpa, Holt county, J. E. Emerson, vice O. M. Anrus, resigned; at Halestown, Knox county, Belle Harrison, vice John Dolphin, resigned.

The Burlington did a quick job of bridge building at the burned-out bridge north of Bellwood. The material train left Lincoln at 5 p. m. on Wednesday. At 5 a. m. yesterday the train ran over the repaired bridge. There were eight bents, or 160 feet, of the bridge destroyed.—Lincoln Journal.

Baker township, York county, had a circle hunt Tuesday. Just after the round-up, George Spooner, who lives in York, climbed into the wagon to start home and was standing up with his arm resting on the muzzle of his gun, when it was discharged. The ball passed through the arm, badly shattering it.

Jno. Reddell, the new chief of the Omaha fire department, took formal charge Tuesday and made an inspection of all the engine houses and equipments. Ex-Chief Gallegan, who was deposed in Reddell's favor, has been retired on a pension of $2,000 per year, the same as his salary as chief. Quite a snap!

The Loup river bridge, between Ord and Bellwood on the Burlington, was discovered to be on fire Thursday morning. It is supposed to have caught from an engine. Ten bents or about 200 feet were burned away before the fire could be extinguished. The material train was sent up from Lincoln as soon as possible and the damage will be repaired in a day or so.—Lincoln Journal.

From the Oxford Standard we glean a mention of the marriage of Mr. Jas. Reid of Stamford, Harlan county, to Miss Elsie Moore, proprietress of the Bazaar millinery store in this city for several years past. Mr. Reid will be remembered as a former employe in the B. & M. store house in this city under Storekeeper D. S. Guild. The newly-wedded couple will make their home in Stamford. On behalf of their many friends in this city THE JOURNAL extends congratulations.

Attention, Farmers! The annual meeting of the Farmers' Mutual Insurance company of Cass county will be held at the Hill school house, in Eight Mile Grove precinct, on Saturday, January 12th, 1895, at one o'clock p. m., for the purpose of electing officers for the ensuing year, and also to transact such business as may lawfully come before the meeting. JACOB TRITTECH, Pres. J. P. FALTER, Sec'y.

As To Mrs. Notson. The declaration of the Dawes county sheriff that he knows where to lay his hands on Mrs. Notson, the Omaha school teacher who so mysteriously disappeared from the view of the public and numerous creditors some time ago, is given color by the fact that it has been discovered that Mrs. Notson had an ardent admirer in nearly the exact vicinity where the sheriff claimed to have located her.

While Mrs. Notson was campaigning last fall she left the key to her private postoffice box in care of one of her lady friends in Omaha. During the time that she was absent this friend took care of her mail, which consisted mostly of four or five bulky letters each week from Mr. Notson. There were also numerous epistles from another man, with whose identity no one seems to be familiar.

After Mrs. Notson returned, and just before election, she showed an extract from one of these letters to her friend, after binding her to secrecy. It had been written by a man who was considerably impressed with the charms of his correspondent and the extract which was exhibited consisted of a vehement appeal to her to obtain a divorce from her husband and marry the writer.

Mrs. Notson did not divulge the identity of the writer, but said he was well off and lived near Chadron. She said at the time that she felt that if she went away at all she ought to go to her husband, but she found much that was congenial in her new admirer and did not know just what she would do. On this occasion the postoffice key was returned to Mrs. Notson by her friend and that was the last time she saw her. She did not think of the letter which she had seen until after she read the statement of the sheriff that he knew Mrs. Notson was in that vicinity and then she made up her mind that the unknown admirer had probably carried his point and that Mrs. Notson had decided to unite her destinies with his.
