VILLAINOUS COMPANION.

An Ashland Boy Jabs a Knife Into the Arm Of a Playmate And Inflicts a Painful Wound-Other Interesting Happenings.

Dr. S. D. Mercer, the well-known Omaha capitalist, will be poorer to the extent of several thousand dollars if the judgment rendered against him in district court today successfully weathers the ordeal of an appeal to the supreme court of the state. The doctor, when the local street railway was organized some seven years ago, subscribed for 98 shares of stock at $100 per share. An assessment was levied on stock to the amount of 55 per cent. but the doctor failed to pay any of his assessment and since then has continually refused so to do. After waiting for three or four years, the doctor happened inside of Cass county and his personal service was secured and the railway company immediately proceeded to enforce the payment of the assessment through the courts. The case was first tried at the last September term of court, but the jury disagreed. The case was again taken up yesterday, and after a warm legal contest on both sides, the jury retired this morning to meditate. A session of an hour resulted in an agreement being reached, and by it the doctor was found to be indebted to the street railway company in the sum of $7,468.48, the same representing a principal of $5,490 with 7 per cent interest. The doctor will take an appeal to the supreme court.
