

IN AND AROUND THE TOWN.

J. M. Stone of Nehawka was a Plattsmouth visitor Monday.

Chas. Banning was shaking hands with Plattsmouth friends in town yesterday.

W. B. Porter, jr., of the precinct, is the father of a bright new daughter which arrived Tuesday morning.

Geo. (the III) Meisinger has rented the Long farm west of Mynard, and Mr. Long has removed to Mynard.

Mrs. Eugene Mayfield and son, Clarence, of South Omaha, are in the city visiting with Mrs. H. D. Travis.

Thomas (Babe) Woodson has so far recovered from his lung fever as to be able to move about the house a little.

Geese and ducks have been making their appearance on the river bottoms lately, but not in numerous or large flocks.

John S. Green of Greenwood, John Shank and John Brown of Wabash were among those attending court last Tuesday.

Dr. T. P. Livingston has gone to Chicago to attend lectures at the Chicago Polytechnic. He expects to be absent for a month.

Mrs. J. I. Unruh is acting as substitute teacher in the high school room during the enforced absence of Principal W. N. Halsey.

Joe Klein has removed his stock of goods back to his old place—corner room Waterman block. Glad to see it and hope he will soon be on his feet again.

The state senate came down off its high horse Monday and confirmed the appointment of Dr. J. S. Abbott of Fremont for Superintendent of the insane hospital at Lincoln.

But for the pluck of a jailor's wife a successful jail delivery would have been effected at Clay Center the other night. The all-round usefulness of woman is being demonstrated quite thoroughly.

The recent going-out of the ice in the Loup river the other day carried out two boats of the B & M's. bridge near Columbus and traffic was thereby delayed on that branch for over a day before the necessary repairs could be made.

Col. Geo. Mayfield, jr., of the Louisville Courier-Journal, says that it is a baby girl, and this week's edition of his paper bears evidence that something surely happened to rattle the publisher. Congratulations are in order at any rate.

The little daughter of Prof. and Mrs. W. N. Halsey, who is suffering with cerebro-meningitis, shows some improvement, and the parents have a hope for the little one's recovery. That their hopes may be realized is certainly the wish of the entire community.

Clay Connor, Sherman Hill and a fellow known as "Tuffy," were arrested at the Junction Saturday and brought to Glenwood on No. 12 for selling liquor contrary to law. Connor furnished bail and is out; the other two are still incarcerated, awaiting trial.—Glenwood Times.

John Shafer of this city, who took possession of the stock of liquors in the Riley annex some time ago on a chattel mortgage and afterwards moved the same to Pacific Junction, Iowa, has been gathered in by the Mills county authorities and now stands charged with violating the liquor laws of that state.

Attorney J. S. Mathews received notification Monday morning from the pension department at Washington that a mother's pension had been granted Mrs. Edwin Davis of this city her son, Jerome Davis, having given up his life during the rebellion in battling for his country. The allowance granted is to be $12 per month.

The senate of Nebraska has decided that no one but a lawyer who has been admitted to practice at least two years prior to the election can be elected a county judge in this state. If the house concurs in this decision then a number of persons who aspired to become candidates will have their noses knocked out of joint.—Nebraska City News.

Since filing the lowest bid and thereby securing the right to swing to the breeze the title of "official county paper," Col. Bert Mayfield of the Elmwood Echo has gone to wearing gold-bowed specs and now poses as the counterpart of Bill Nye. We again assert—wait for the Echo's first court docket. It will create a bigger laugh than any of Nye's productions.

A very pleasurable social meeting of the McConihe post, G. A. R., and the W. R. C. occurred on Saturday evening at Grand Army hall. The affair was entirely informal, and was all the more enjoyable on that account. With Mrs. H. C. McMaken at the organ the boys (assisted by "the girls") sang old army songs to their heart's content. Adjutant Kerr enlivened the occasion by reciting "Shake Schneider's Ride of Twenty-five Miles Away." A committee of two from each of the organizations was appointed to prepare a program for the next union meeting, which is to occur March 23d.

The black smallpox, in a very malignant form, is raging in Nodaway county Missouri. The disease was brought from Hot Springs, Ark., by the corpse of a citizen of Maryville, who was under treatment for skin disease at Hot Springs Monday twenty cases were reported in the town of Maryville and schools were closed and the city was quarantined.

Catch a republican voluntarily giving up a fat public office. Hardly ever! Governor Holcomb's appointment of Dr. Abbott as superintendent of the Lincoln state asylum has been unanimously confirmed by the state senate. Dr. Hay, the present incumbent refuses to step down and the new appointee must now resort to quo warranto proceedings in order to secure his rights.

Mrs. Catharine Grassman, wife of Jacob Grassman, died at 8:30 o'clock Monday evening at her home, corner of Ninth and Granite, after an illness of five months, aged 69 years and two days. She was born in Germany and came to America at 18 years of age and lived in Cass county for nearly 30 years. She reared a family of five children—four boys and a girl. One other child died when quite young. The members of the family were all present at the bedside when the spirit took its flight to the life beyond. The funeral took place from the residence at 2 o'clock Wednesday afternoon, Rev. Van Fleet officiating, the burial taking place at the Elkenbury cemetery.

The Old Reliable.

The stockholders of the Plattsmouth Loan and Building association, one of the oldest and staunchest organizations of that kind in the state, met at the G. A. R. hall and elected three new directors whose term of office will last three years. Those chosen were R. B. Windham, D. Hawksworth and Jno. Lutz. These gentlemen will meet with the six directors now holding office on March 15th, when a full quota of association officers will be chosen. Secretary T. M. Patterson reported that the dividend earned on stock on '94 business amounted to 15.24 per cent and the stockholders present were well pleased with the situation. The "Plattsmouth" has been doing business for ten years, its first series of stock having been paid out last fall, and altogether the people of this city are proud that the town numbers among its business institutions one as substantial and sound.

A Strange Freak.

Elmwood Echo: "It hardly seems credible that any creature could live for several weeks with a ten-penny nail piercing its heart, but such was proven the fact Friday. Coroner John Clements owned a Jersey cow and several weeks ago she began falling off and from day to day was reduced in flesh to almost a skeleton. All kinds of medicine was given her, and all to no good. Last Friday she was shot and on examination it was found that a ten-penny nail had worked into her heart half its length. The part of the nail that was in the heart was tar-shed black, showing it had been there some time. The heart was twice its normal size, and the wonder is that the cow lived in that condition. It is presumed that the nail was swallowed in food and worked from the stomach to the heart."

No Plans for Building.

The Anaconda and Butte papers and publications in that section say that the Burlington will extend its line to Butte this year. It was stated a few days ago by George W. Loomis chief clerk to General manager Holdrege, that there was no intention of constructing the line this season. The road has had a great deal of the country in Montana and Wyoming west of Sheridan surveyed and there is no question but that in the near future the Burlington will build through to the Yellowstone park and to Butte, but it is said that there will be nothing done the coming season.—World-Herald.

Notice to Citizens' Bank Depositors.

The undersigned request all depositors of the Citizens' bank to meet with them at the Meisinger implement store, Plattsmouth, Neb., on Saturday, at 1 o'clock p. m., of March 9th, 1895, to confer together with reference to what is best to be done as to their interests in the settlement of the affairs of that bank.

J. B. MEISINGER, CHRIS. METZGER, NICH. HALMES.

Citizens in general are getting stirred up over the the prospective change in the city lighting system, whereby all lights are to be shut off except arc lights. What the people really want is a reduction in the number of arc lights and a general distribution of smaller lights, either gas or incandescent lamps. The council would not be forced to conduct a very wide canvass to find that THE JOURNAL represents the true situation.

"A Harp of the West." Sunday's Omaha Bee pays a deserving compliment to a Plattsmouth poet, as follows:

"A Harp of the West" is the title of a little book of verse from the pen of Isabel Ritchey of Plattsmouth. This recent addition to literature is published by Charles Wells Moulton of Buffalo, N. Y. It is a production which will doubtless be popularized by true merit. "A Harp of the West" plays forty-seven tunes in a poetical way, and possesses the true cords of harmony. There is a versatility and general excellence within the covers of this book which make it a volume of interest to people who admire clean cut versification, and it is doubly interesting to Nebraskans in view of the fact that western talent is thus so clearly defined. Among the best productions of "A Harp of the West" are the poems on "Millionaire's Dream," "Daniel," "Pictures," "Have You No Child?" "Love is a Prison" and "What Would You Choose?" The old soldiers are remembered with a pretty reference of "The Flag and the Flowers," in which the poet treats the subject with tender reverence. A happy originality on "The Owl" is sprightly and refreshing. "The City of Peace" is a pathetic feature of the book, well-rounded and not strained. "My Creed," "How Long Does it Take to Forget?" "Promises," "Procrastination," "Second Love" and "Victory" also possess flavor of the true poetry and deserve mention."

Board of Trade

The fact that other attractions kept many numbers away caused a slim attendance at the board of trade meeting last evening. President Windham presided, and a general conference over affairs of the city was held. The purpose of the meeting was the election of officers. Before proceeding to that the president appointed Messrs C. Breckenfeld, Sam Waugh, Henry R. Gering, Henry Boeck and Byron Clark delegates to attend a congress of Trade and Transportation for the West and south to be held at Mobile, Ala., beginning April 4, next. The board then in motion resolved to defer the election of officers till Tuesday evening of next week, March 12, to which time an adjournment was taken.

One day last week a stranger giving the name of A. Woods, and claiming Omaha as his residence, entered the store of Col. E. C. Bickford, a merchant at Nebraska City, and told an extremely pitiful tale of hard luck. The colonel is a man whose sympathy is easily aroused and he advanced a sum of money, Wood leaving a package, presumably as security, promising to call the next day for it and return the money so kindly loaned him. Wood failed to appear the next day, however, or the next, or the next, so the colonel opened the package yesterday. The package contained an aching void and the colonel is out—just how much no one knows.
