

Whosaid Nebraska lacked moisture? New England rivers are enjoying the luxury of a flood.

Miss Wurl of Plattsmouth is visiting her friend Mrs. H. A. Thompson.—Alliance Grip.

A report comes from China, lacking confirmation, that the emperor had abdicated.

A. F. Groom, who has been suffering from an attack of pneumonia, is improving nicely.

Ed. McMaken and wife of Alliance arrived in the city Saturday for a visit with friends. They have a fine boy.

Lester Stone and L. J. Hall, two bright young men from Nebraska and vicinity, were in town Saturday on business.

All of the churches of the city were beautifully decorated Sunday with potted plants and flowers, and sermons appropriate to Easter were preached by the several pastors.

The newspapers at Nebraska City are booming the fact that John Watson has induced Adolph Busche of St. Louis to erect a new opera house in that place. It is well. They need one about as badly as Plattsmouth does.

Down went prices! That's the Crescent bicycle. Last year they were the first to go below $100. Others had to follow. Quality constantly improving. $40 up. Cash or payments.

LEHNHOFF BROS. County Agents, Plattsmouth, Neb.

Geo. S. Upton and wife of Liberty precinct were in town Saturday doing some trading. Mr. Upton thinks he has a quarry of the best stone in Nebraska on his farm. It is a species of limestone, but will take a polish as good as Tennessee marble.

The report is wanted in from Colorado that Ed. Vanatta, our former townsmen, has sold his newly-discovered gold mine for $200,000. In view of the fact that the fishing season is still young the story is permissible at this particular time.

S. P. Holloway returned home Sunday from his sad mission to Kansas, whither he went some weeks ago to attend upon the funeral of an elder brother, I. N. Holloway. He reports that the season here seems nearly a month behind that in southern Kansas.

That little book commonly called "Coin" is convincing people everywhere and on every hand, notwithstanding certain bankers we know of who are afraid to read it—for fear of being convinced against—not their will, but their interests—that it is right.

City Treasurer Unruh has announced his intention of resigning his membership on the school board to make way for Jesse Root, who was recently elected, but who, under a decision of ex-State Superintendent Yondy, could not take his seat until June.

Dogs attacked Samuel Thomas' flock of sheep Friday night and killed five of them, on his farm, five miles west of town. He says dogs are more dangerous than members of congress. His Winchester is ready for the dogs, but they don't seem to materialize at the right time and place.

Omaha is fairly deluged with counterfeit money and about $6,000 of the spurious stuff is thought to have been put in circulation in the last few weeks. U. S. Marshal White holds to the belief that the "coiners" are operating at Florence and an effort will be made to run down the whole gang.

County Commissioners Young and Hayes are home from a trip over the county looking after bridges. They report that the crop outlook is excellent in all but the extreme southwest portion of the county, where they have had but very little rain this spring, the downpour of ten days ago seemingly having been only a shower in that section.

The supreme court last week handed down a decision that will give the widow of Mr. Hultman, former section boss at Buda, $5,000 as damages for the death of her husband who was killed while under the influence of liquor purchased of Tony Cornelius of Kearney. His widow brought suit against the saloon keeper and after fighting the matter to the supreme court she has secured the confirmation of the verdict for the full amount in her favor.

Dealers in tobacco are much disturbed over published reports which convey the impression that the anticigarette bill passed by the legislature makes it unlawful for anyone to sell or give away cigarettes or the material for their composition. The original bill was in that form, but it was amended, after being twice stolen, and as it now stands on the statute book it merely prohibits the sale or giving of cigarettes to persons under twenty-one years. It goes into effect after August 1.

Detecting the Big Muddy.

Alex Schlegel, draughtsman in the office of Land Commissioner Russell at Lincoln and a former resident of this city, is turning out an elegant piece of work in the form of a map showing the right bank of the Missouri river bounding Nebraska on the north. This map is to be used by a commission authorized by the legislature to act with a like commission from Dakota in ascertaining the true boundary line. The legislative act refers to only one county, Cedar county, but Mr. Schlegel's work shows that the river has sadly wandered along the north of Dakota county, leaving a large tract of Nebraska land north of the river. The sum of $1,500 has been appropriated and with that amount at its disposal the commission will be enabled to deal with all the crooks in the river. Both commissions must report two years hence to their respective legislatures, and then in the course of time when congress ratifies the agreement the job will have been settled. No one knows where the Missouri river will be making its bed by that time. At one point it now goes eight miles where it formerly traveled thirty-three miles.

A Happy Murderer.

Charles C. Carleton the Dodge county murderer, arrived in Lincoln Saturday in the custody of Sheriff Milliken. Although Carleton was making pilgrimage to the penitentiary for life, he was apparently as happy as a lark, believing a life sentence preferable to being hanged by the neck until dead and paying the costs of prosecution. He intimated as much to persons on the train with whom he chatted gaily. He told everyone that he expected to behave nicely at the penitentiary and draw a pardon at the end of about ten years. He was to have been executed April 26, had not the governor commuted the death sentence. Carleton was received at the penitentiary in the usual manner. He was taken into the basement, treated to a bath, his clothing burned, was weighed and made to put on a suit of clean stripes. He will be assigned work later. The demeanor of Carleton, who has just escaped death, was in contrast to that of Williams, the Fairbury murderer, who was received at the prison about the same time. Williams is to serve thirteen years for manslaughter. He shot and killed a B. & M. roadmaster.—Lincoln Journal.

A Prominent Wholesale Grocer of Omaha Neb., writes:

To the afflicted: Several years ago I discovered a slight falling and bleeding of the lower bowel which increased and became very distressing. I made inquiry as to the nature of the disease and learned that I had a somewhat aggravated case of Hemorrhoids or Piles. Was told of several remedies and used them as directed, obtaining thereby some temporary relief. Not being satisfied with such slight relief I cast about for a permanent cure when a friend directed the use of the famous MAGNET PILE KILLER. I used it. Immediate relief from pain followed, and soon a complete cure was effected.

Legal Notice. In the district court of Cass county, Nebraska. In the matter of the estate of Bennett W. Pierce, deceased.

This case came on for hearing upon the petition of Walter J. White, administrator of the estate of Bennett W. Pierce, deceased, praying for license to sell lots fifteen and sixteen, block mouth, or a sufficient amount of the same to bring the sum of $500.00, for the payment of debts allowed against said estate and the costs thereof. It is therefore ordered that all persons interested in said estate appear before me at Plattsmouth, Nebraska, on the 22 day of May, 1895, at one o'clock p. m., to show cause why a license should not be granted to said administrator to sell so much of the above described real estate of the said deceased as shall be necessary to pay said debts and expenses.

Dated this 15th day of March, 1895. SAM'L M. CHAPMAN, Judge of the District Court.

HIS BETTER HALF

Would doubtless be better pleased if she could persuade him to buy ALL of his clothes of us.

As our cut shows, he buys the better half of his wardrobe of us, which only goes to make the poorer half look worse.

Where did you obtain the idea that we sold only high-priced clothing? Don't you know that the "week day" clothes, and not the "sunday" clothes, are the test of a clothier's stock?
