"I am clearly of the opinion that gold and si ver at rates fixed by congress constitute the le gal standard of value in this country, and that neither congress nor any state (under the constitution) has authority to establish any other standard or to displace this standard."-Danie Webster.

"According to myviews on the subject the con spiracy which seems to have been formed here and in Europe to destroy by legislation and oth erwise from three-sevenths to one-half the me tallic money in the world is the most gigantic crime of this or any other age. The consumma tion of such a scheme would ultimately entail more misery upon the human race than all the wars, pestilences and famines that ever oc curred in the history of the world."-John G Carlisle, in 1878.

THE fact that Gov. Holcomb ac cepted an invitation to banquet with the Business Men's association of Omaha has caused many people to marvel. It was this association that declared that Holcomb's election meant dishonor to the state, that the state's credit would be ruined and eastern capital would be withdrawn, and that it would be a calamity more disastrous in effect than drouth and cyclone. But mark the attitude of these business men when the disasters failed to materialize and Judge Holcomb demonstrated himself to be a safe, conserva tive and prudent executive. With a sycophancy that is nauseating, this band of defamers go up on their bellies and beg that they may atone for the wrong committed. Like the big hearted man that he is, Governor Hol comb overlooked the mean, despicable acts of the association and in the name of the state, and as a representative of all the people, accepted. He sacsificed no principle in so doing, but his presence upon that occasion, if it did not. should have caused the members of that asssolation, individually and collectively, to have hidden their faces in humiliation and shame. If the association ever commanded any respect it has now been sacrificed by its fawning and cringing attitude.

It was a logical appeal clothed in the simplest and most effective English, enforced by frequent sallies of pungent wit and apt illustration.

The address was soundly democratic. based on a Jacksonian text, and the policy of the national administration in departing from the old landmarks came in for a vigorous review, which evoked the approval of the audience in burst after burst of applause.

Near its close the address was colored with flights of fervid oratory that revived the memories of Ben Hill and Bill Yancy and others of the old school of southern speakers. When he had finished hundreds of ladies and gentlemen rushed forward to give a cordial grasp of the hand by way of indorsement of the speaker's sentiments and in appreciation of his splendid address.-Fort Worth Gazette.

A MONG the names put down as state central committeemen in the call for the so-called "straight" democratic convention is that of Frank E. White for Cass county. Mr. White is a gentleman who is usually very conservative and is in holy horror of anything that smacks of anarchism, yet if his connection with this affair does not smack of anarchy in politics it would be hard to define what anarchy is.
