

PERSONAL, POLITICAL AND PERTINENT.

Joha Ramsey was in town yesterday and says people are bantering him about being a candidate for sheriff. He says he is not a candidate, but if they run him and don't elect him he'll kill somebody, sure. He says, "tell the people I'm for Bryan and free coinage, that's all."

A Nebraska City man was run in by the police the other night for "rushing the growler" at that city. It cost him two dollars and trimmings the next morning.

The Falls City News says: "It is quite refreshing to know that there is not an idle carpenter or builder in the city. They are engaged either upon constructing new buildings or remodeling old ones. This enterprise is not only commendable but is an advertisement that is of inestimable value to the whole city."

Of late years there has been some progress in the holy land; there are railways now where the patriarchs used to watch their flocks, or where their hired men watched them, and the voice of the brakeman may be heard at Dan and Beersheba. There are lunch counters at the depot, just as in this country, and Asa, the son of Shem, the son of Joshua, may be seen girding up his loins and handing over vitrified sandwiches, while Ruth and Naomi wash dishes in the rear. There is progress in every direction, except in agriculture; a Fremont traveler who has been there says that it is painful to watch the farmer farm. He doesn't know what a riding plow is; he hitches an ox or a camel to a stick, and plows the ground that way. If he has a crop, he harvests it with a sickle; if he hasn't a crop he goes to the wailing place and buys a few yards of sackcloth and ashes. A big farm there wouldn't be a truck patch here.—Walt Mason in Fremont Herald.

This town is so situated that whenever the people want a rain, all that is necessary is to wish for one, and it is sure to come. Another nice one this morning. Moral: Locate in Plattsmouth.

The packing company have shipped within the past week over a million pounds of meat to Chicago. Last week fourteen cars were shipped and today eleven more cars were paid out. This is very fair for "a sleepy old town" like Nebraska City, as some of the papers published in sister towns who are jealous of our prosperity, call us.—Nebraska City News.

Frank N. Potter, formerly of this city, has recently purchased a half-interest in the Spearfish (South Dakota) Weekly Register, and the firm name is now Potter & Grant. The paper is bright and new and enjoys a very liberal advertising patronage, showing that the merchants of Spearfish are wideawake and enterprising. THE JOURNAL congratulates Messrs. Potter & Grant and wishes them every success.

W. G. Keefer, the harness man, says he has been moving about from pillar to post in the effort to secure a better place, but now he has come back to Plattsmouth, fully satisfied that there is no better county than Cass to live in or to do business in, and he has opened up his business here and is going to stay in Plattsmouth through thick and thin. He says people generally don't appreciate the magnificent county we have here, as compared with others, but he does, and shows his faith by his works.

A party of eighty land agents, under the guidance of Assistant General Passenger Agent Smith, who are from the middle states, went out on the Burlington via Plattsmouth yesterday to see the crops and ascertain for themselves what the trans-Missouri region is producing this year.—World-Herald.

Nehawka is securing lots of advertising of late. First comes a boy from there accused of unmentionable offense, and is sent to the reform school, next the republican convention is located there, and now the report is that one of her young men attempts the commission of a criminal assault on a woman. Next!

An exchange in discussing the rights of owners of vehicles on the road, calls, attention to a point not seemingly understood or observed, as follows: When you are driving along and a team comes up behind don't imagine he has no right to go ahead without your permission is asked, and don't imagine you are justified in whipping up and crowding the team attempting to go around out on the rough, or into the ditch. You perhaps have the right to race with the party attempting to go around, but you must give half the road or you will pay the damages in case of accident. The road does not belong to any one man, and the man who comes up behind you perhaps knows the gait he wants to travel as well as you do. If he wants to travel faster than you do he had a right to go ahead, and if you prevent him from exercising that right you are liable for prosecution for obstructing the public highway.

THE JOURNAL has it from authority that if the county fair association will repair its pens properly, putting covers over them, they can secure a display of the best hogs in the county. Hog raisers want good pens for their stock or they will not bring them.

Mrs. Eva Huff, while in a fit of despondency, Monday morning committed suicide at Omaha by turning on the gas in her room.

Arch L. Coleman, the court house clock repairer takes exception to the gentle "roast" in last evening's paper about not keeping the clock in repair. He said that he had not been notified about the clock not striking, or he would have attended to it at once. He further stated that it was impossible to keep the time-piece in good running order so long as people were allowed to go up in the tower and meddle with the clock works, as some do almost every week.

The Nebawkaites will no doubt welcome the Plattsmouth republicans with a salvo of artillery—using that cannon captured from the enemy.

John Meisinger, the implement dealer, lies very ill of typhoid pneumonia at his residence, 613 Granite street. His father and mother, Mr. and Mrs. J. B. Meisinger of Eight Mile Grove precinct, have been in almost constant attendance upon him for a week. His symptoms are slightly improved today.

Woe unto the forward hen who counteth her chickens before they are hatched.—Scripture. This malediction is commended to the man on the Nebraska City Press who "hollered before he got out of the woods" on that turn-table question.

The cuckoos of York and Gage counties have captured the county committees and elected delegates to the rump state convention. The democrats have also called conventions and will be represented in the regular convention.

Governor Holcomb has received an invitation from the war department for himself and staff to attend the ceremonies at the opening of the national park at Chattanooga, on September 19 and 20. The survivors of the battle will meet on the ground, and the governor is authorized to ask the old soldiers of Nebraska to participate.

With the papers filed in the supreme court Monday was the pistol with which George D. Williams killed Chas. A. Smiley in Jefferson county on August 20, 1894. Mr. Williams, who is now serving a term in the penitentiary for this crime, files a petition in error, in which he claims that one of the jurors who took part in his trial was not sworn. Williams makes affidavit that he has no means of paying the cost of the suit.

The early counties of Nebraska were named after noted democratic leaders of that day, all the territorial officials up to 1860 being democrats. The legislature afterwards changed a number of counties made during that period. Pierce county was changed to Otoe, Forney county to Nemaha, Green county to Seward, Izard county to Stanton, Jones county to Jefferson, Monroe county to Platte. Lancaster county was formerly called Clay county and Saunders was originally named Calhoun county.—Ex.

A Business Enlargement.

The clothing house known as Joe's, at the opera house corner, has during this week been undergoing a change. Mr. Frank Alshuler, an experienced merchant late of La Salle, Ill., having bought the Klein interest in the stock, and the new firm will hereafter be familiarly known under the style of Joe & Frank, and they propose to sell lots of goods, because they know how and where to buy, and will have the best that the markets afford, and can sell at the lowest prices. The enlargement of this firm is one of the evidence of the new life and vigor that is springing up in this city. Mr. Alshuler will depart in a few days on a purchasing tour to the east, and while gone will select a large stock of the best and most attractive grades of clothing to be found in the markets. Good fortune attend the new firm.

Messrs. James Teegarden, A. L. Timblin and James Robertson of Weeping Water were in town yesterday.

Henry Lehnhoff and daughter, Miss Minnie, of Louisville, returned home Tuesday, after a visit in this city with relatives.

In the absence of F. J. Morgan in the northwest part of the state, Henry Tartsch is attending to the business as if he were a veteran.

Joseph R. Cunningham has filed in the district clerk's office a petition for divorce from his wife, Ida P. Cunningham. Both parties reside in the vicinity of Eagle.

A letter received from A. B. Knotts, who is now employed in Des Moines, Iowa, states that his little daughter fell out of a hammock the other day and broke an arm.

W. J. Hesser, the veteran florist, went up to Omaha yesterday to secure space in the horticultural building for his usual handsome display of palms at the state fair.

Down at Union, this county, a gentleman named H. W. Lloyd has discovered a species of mineral water that is said to be equal in curative powers to any in the land.

Hans Hendrickson vs. Brainard Kellogg, et al., is the title of a case filed in the district clerk's office. This is an action to set aside a former decision of the court and reopen the case.

The Burlington is building at its various shops fifteen new engines, and will construct five more before winter. They are to be equally divided between lines east and west of the Missouri.

Speaking about abundant yields of fruit, Bert Fickler, living south of town, tells of the branch of a pear tree on his father's place that is five feet long, having 36 pears hanging to it, by actual count.

Streight and Sattler are doing a rushing business these days. They shipped one of the finest dining room suits ever sold in the city Monday to V. F. Hofmann at Havelock costing $95.

Friday evening's rain appears to have extended nearly all over the state with the exception of the extreme southern part. The B. & M. water gauge showed that one and eight hundredths inches of water fell here.

Mrs. C. C. McPherson of Greeley Center, Neb., and her niece, Miss Hamilton, of Fayetteville, Alabama, who have been visiting here with Mr. and Mrs. F. D. Lehnhoff, returned to the former's home Monday morning.

J. H. Wintersteen, representing the Lincoln Journal, was in town Tuesday. Mr. Wintersteen was formerly a resident of this city and was associated with Jno. A. McMurphy in the publication of the Herald a number of years ago.

Henry R. Gering departed Monday for Denver, Colo., as a delegate to the National Pharmaceutical association convention. Mr. Gering will combine pleasure with business and will visit the various mountain resorts while absent.

Misses Kate Neville, Ella Clark, Teresa Hempel, Maggie O'Rourke and Marista Cagney, accompanied by Maurice O'Rourke and Dave McEntee, went up to Spring Lake last Friday on a fishing expedition. The party expects to be absent about a week.

County Treasurer Eickhoff Friday dispensed with the services of Deputy Tax Collector S. P. Holloway, and appointed a man from Weeping Water in his place. Mr. Holloway has been a faithful official and it is hard to understand why the change was made.

Justice Archer has decided the David Neal vs. Trilley sewing machine case in favor of the defendant. It appears that the sewing machine company made an iron-clad agreement with Neal, whereby they could enter the premises and take the machine back for the failure of a single payment.

Mrs. Wm. Neville and family, Mrs. T. L. Murphy and family, and Miss Marista Cagney constituted a party that went to Hesser's grove last Wednesday to enjoy a day's outing. The party also visited the farm of Dennis Danilher, and report having had a most enjoyable time.

Phillip Tritsch of Eight Mile Grove precinct has one of the largest and best-cared for orchards in the county.

Mr. Tritsch will realize over $600 on his orchard of about seven acres. Messrs. Wiley Black and P. E. Ruffner have contracted for the entire orchard and are shipping the apples to the markets. They hauled in some forty barrels Thursday.

IOWA DEMOCRATS ARE SORE.

Revolt in Iowa Democratic Ranks Over the Platform

Reports from various points in Iowa indicate a formidable revolt against the anti-silver platform adopted by the democratic state convention at Marshalltown last week. It is believed by some observers that many democrats will vote the populist ticket and that others will not vote at all. At Council Bluffs two members of the county committee, among them W. H. Ware, representative in the legislature, have resigned their positions, refusing to act with the party under the circumstances, declaring they will not act with any other party, and it is thought that the entire committee will resign.

Among the most outspoken of the disaffected ones is Judge W. C. James, who points with pride to a voting record of over forty years, in which there is not a single instance when he failed to vote the democratic ticket. Interviewed he said: "If the declarations of the Marshalltown convention are true then we have been misrepresenting, abusing and lying about the republican party ever since 1879. This financial declaration is identical with the principles of the republican party as laid down in every state convention since the crime of 1873. There is no difference today between the two parties, and as the republicans have always been consistent on this subject the acknowledgment of the Iowa democrats that their antagonists are right gives them a tremendous advantage, and I will watch them win another great victory in Iowa this fall without any sorrow. I do not say I will vote the republican ticket, but only that I will not the democratic, and as I am not a populist and have no patience with their vagaries, I will do what a great majority of the democrats around here will do—not vote at all. There were 125 federal office holders in that state convention, and nearly all of them were there by proxy. They represented Cleveland and his gold bugs, and not the democratic party of Iowa."

J. J. Shea, chairman of the democratic free silver committee and last year candidate for clerk of the supreme court on the democratic state ticket, is out in an open letter, in which he charges the federal officeholders in the convention with all sorts of threats, bulldozing, cajolery and bribery in defeating the free silver amendment. He advises democrats not to halt, but to keep up the fight. In conclusion he says: "Next year we must meet the same foe, the same men, the same organization. Then it will be a fight to the death. Either the serpent or the party must die. I have an abiding faith in the death of the snake; that people will again assume control and that the self-appointed bosses will be relegated to deserved obscurity. Until then the duty of a good democrat is to wait, watch, to organize, to overthrow and rebuke the gang now in control."

Democratic County Convention.

There will be a delegate convention of the democratic party of Cass county, held at Union on Tuesday, August 20, 1895, at 1 o'clock p. m. for the purpose of choosing twenty-one delegates to the democratic state convention to be held in Omaha, Nebraska, on August 22, 1895, and to choose delegates to the judicial convention to be called.

The primaries will be held in the different wards and precincts at the usual places, on Saturday, August 17, 1895, at 8 o'clock p. m. for the purpose of choosing delegates to the convention at Union and also to choose delegates to a county nominating convention to be called later. The basis of representation is one delegate for each twenty votes, or major fraction thereof, cast for Harvey D. Travis for county attorney in 1894, this basis to govern each convention. It is recommended that the delegates present cast the full vote of the ward or precinct and no proxies be allowed.

The different wards and precincts are entitled to delegates as follows:
Plattsmouth City, 1st ward..... 5
2nd ward..... 5
3rd ward..... 5
4th ward..... 5
