The woman became ill shortly after being taken into the house and a doctor was summoned. Before he arrived she In an Authorized Interview His Politihad given birth to a child and had died. She was so ill that the farmer's wife was unable to question her satisfactorily. After her death her trunk and her clothing were searched, but there was not the slightest thing which would lead to her identification. Her body was buried in the cemetery and the event is probably forgotten by this time. The baby was brought to the Home for the Friendless on Sept. 11 and is said to be getting along as well as could be expected.

Perished for Want of Care.

A complaint was made to F. J. Tay lor, county attorney of Howard county, miles northeast of St. Paul, was receiving improper care by the mother refusing to nurse it and provide it with proper food, and from the general abuse and mistreatment of its parents was done immediately. The child was about 15 days old, and when visited by a number of citizens was found to be wrapped in wet clothing and placed in a room by itself. A coffin had been ordered, a grave arranged for and a woman engaged to prepare the remains for burial, although the child was found to be still alive. The party returned to town after giving the parents some very pointed advice and sent a doctor to visit the baby, but on the next morning the child was dead. Public sentiment demanded an investigation. The coroner was called for, who at once impaneled a jury and took testimony. The jury returned a verdict finding that the infant came to its death from want of proper food and care and general neglect of its parents. No arrests have yet been made, but great indignation prevails.

KIOWA, Kan., Sept. 30.-A terrible prairie fire is raging in the western portion of the Cherokee strip and sweeping everything before it in its restless progress. An Ex-Kansas Cashler Attempts to Revenge the Loss of a Suit.

NORTON, Kan., Sept. 26.-In 1893 the Norton County State bank of this cit of which Morgan Heaton was cashier, failed. There was some talk at the time of mismanagement by Heaton. but the real cause was the sudden depreciation of land values. Heaton's wife owned ninety-six shares of stock. In January, 1894, the bank was reorganized under new management, and Mrs Heaton was requested to assign to them her stock. She refused, Later, she alleged, she did assign the stock to avoid a threatened prosecution of her husband for embezzlement. She also signed a deed to the homestead property and some school land certificates. She later brought suit to recover the value of the stock, $9,600, and to set aside the deed to the homestead and other land, because they were signed under duress. The only witness by whom she could prove that she acted under duress, aside from her husband, who could not testify under the law, was John Brown, a notary, who took the acknowledgment of the deeds and other papers.

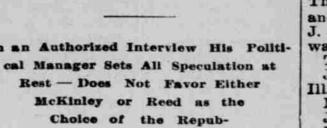

The trial was held this week, and the defendants, the Norton County State bank, raised the point that the notary could not now impeach his returns as made at that time. The court so held, and rendered judgment for the defendants.

At 9 o'clock this morning, Heato shot four times at J. M. Craig, one c the defendants, but none of the shota took effect. Heaton then ran into the Norton County State bank and attempted to shoot the cashier. W. T. Shoemaker, but missed him. Heaton was finally arrested. Craig lives at Plattsmouth, Neb., and is a banker there.

REDRESS FOR INDIANS.

Commissioner Browning Wants Those Who Maltreated Baunocks Punished.

WASHINGTON, Sept. 26 .- Commissioner of Indian Affairs Browning has made his annual report to the secretary of the interior. It shows progress in nearly all directions. Of the trouble tetween the Bannock Indians and the whites at Jackson's Hole, Wyo., he says that the whole matter has been referred to the department of justice and the attorney general has reported that no Indians are now confined in Wyoming for violating the game laws of that state. The department of jus tice does not see how redress can be obtained for the Indians who have paid their fines. Recent reports of Agent Teter are quoted to show that the Indians are still sullen and that they demand that the whites why wronged them be punished and the commissioner asks whether or not the department of justice cannot do something towards punishing the offend-

Lincoln County Will Protest.

The managers of the Lincoln county exhibit of the state fair will protest against the action of the judges in awarding the first premium on county exhibits to Furnas county. The protest will be filed immediately on receipt of official notice that such an award has been made. The protest will be made on the grounds that Furnas county had no exhibit on the grounds and place at the time specified by the rules, and that but three counties in the state were entitled to be considered in the award under the rules, one of these being Lincoln. Secretary Seeberger stated that the awarding of prizes was a farce. He accuses the judges of partiality to nonirrigated counties and states that the Burlington railroad interest favored the non-irrigated territory.

WASHINGTON, Sept. 26 .- A year ago Commissioner of Pensions Lochren said that the limit had probably been reached in the number of pensions, or rather in the amount of the yearly appropriation for pensions, but that for two or three years the payments would remain about the same. It was his opinion that there would be a slight reduction in the number of pensioners on account of deaths, but that the allowance of the new pension with back pay and arrears would probably keep the amount about even. While the amount of mony paid for pensions will not be materially different from that of past years, it appears that there has been added to the pension rolls during the year about 1,000 names in excess of those that have dropped out, as there has been an increase, instead of a decrease. There have been a great many outstanding pension claims adjusted during the year, and that accounts for the large increa e. The year has not been fatal to pensioners, the death rate being less than would be anticipated at the time of life at which the veterans of the late war have arrived.

AUSTIN, Texas, Sept. 26 .- Yesterday application was made to Comptroller Finley by the tax collectors of Mc-Lennen and Hayes counties for prize fight licenses which were promptly refused by the comptroller at the instance of the attorney general, who, in a written opinion, still contends that Judge Hurt's opinion, delivered at Dallas last week, nullifying the anti-prize fight law, is not binding, and holding Judge Hurt's opinion in error, in that it is impossible for two conflicting provisions of a statute in parti materia, enacted at different times, to be in force at one and the same time. The tax collectors have appealed to the supreme court for a writ of mandamus to secure a license.
