A woman in New York, dressed in purple and fine linen, has been running up great bills of credit on the representation of being the wife of Huntington, the California railroad king. After lording it in society for a few weeks, and having all the bon-ton and toadies bodily at her feet, they have now discovered that she was a fraud and as crazy as a bed-bug, though it never occurred to them before, not having any idea what kind of woman a California railroad king might select for a wife.

"The Colonel's Wives."
The crowd that greeted "The Colonel's Wives" last night at Love's was not as large as the merits of the play demanded. "The Colonel's Wives," a very pretty curtain raiser, by Sedley Brown, also the author of "The Contented Wives," preceded the performance. The play is well staged and the actors are the very best. The play itself is a very meritorious production.—Fremont Herald.

The above-mentioned attraction will be at the White tomorrow evening and deserves a liberal patronage from the amusement-loving public. The fact that it is one of Chas. Frohman's companies is a guarantee that the entertainment will be first-class.

Short, but Complete.

What a story is that of Linson, the Indianapolis engineer! He had an only sister to whom he was devotedly attached. He placed her in school at Parkersburg, W. Va., where she met Frank Reynolds, and, as she thought, married him. Three months later, when she discovered that she had been deceived by a mock marriage, she committed suicide. Linson swore at her grave that he would kill Reynolds, and for four years followed him from place to place, once to Europe and once to South America, and thence back to the United States, finally killing him in a hotel at San Francisco. Linson was convicted after three trials and sent to the penitentiary for life, but public sentiment was strong in his favor, and he was pardoned in three months.—Philadelphia Times.

Overeating.

Overeating is generally condemned on the ground that by stuffing the digestive organs or by giving them too much to do the food taken is prevented from properly nourishing him who takes it. It is possible, however, that one may suffer from too much nutriment as well as from too little, even when it is properly assimilated.

Citric Acid.

Citric acid, the active principle of limes and lemons, was first extracted by Scheele. It is found in considerable quantities in many other fruits besides these, the acid of commerce being, it is said, extracted from almost any fruit, the cheapness being the main factor in selection.

Legal Notice.

To Benjamin A. Gibson, Annie B. Reed, Estelle Reed, Wm. Reed, Clinton Reed, Lucie Reed and to Annie B. Reed, as the mother and natural guardian of Clinton Reed and Lucie Reed:
You and each of you, non-resident defendants, are hereby notified that A. J. Seaman commenced an action against you and each of you, defendants, as set forth in the complaint filed with John M. Carter, et al., in the district court of Cass county, Nebraska, on the 23d day of November, 1895, the object and prayer of which is to foreclose two certain tax liens and tax certificates owned and held by plaintiff and issued to him by the county treasurer of Cass county on the 23d day of November, 1892; one for 1892 taxes due on fractional lots 5 and 6 in the northwest quarter of the southeast quarter of section 2, in town 10, range 11, Cass county, Nebraska, for $15.08 and for $1 for notice thereon, with $13.31 paid May 4th, 1891, for 1890 tax, and $8.69 paid July 7th, 1892, for 1891 tax thereon; one certificate for $155.40 on fractional lot 23 in the northwest quarter of the northeast quarter of section 1, said town and range, fractional lot 23 in the southwest quarter of the northeast quarter of said section, and fractional lot 11 in the southeast quarter of the northwest quarter of said section, for the taxes thereon for 1884, 1885, 1886, 1887, 1888 and 1889 and for $3 covering notice and subsequent taxes paid by plaintiff thereon on lots 21, 22, 23, said town and range, for 1891, for 1890 tax and $16.04 paid thereon July 7th, 1892, for 1891 tax. Lot 23 aforesaid is now known as block 1, L. 2, 3 and 4, Noble Heights addition to Weeping Water and a part of said lot 23 is known and described as blocks 9, 10, 11, 12, 21 and 22 in said addition. It is asked that said Seaman be decreed a lien for said amounts paid by him, with 20 per cent interest per annum on each payment for two years from and after Nov. 3d, 1896, with 10 per cent per annum thereafter and 10 per cent on the entire sum so paid, as an attorney fee and for costs and equitable relief, and that each defendant be barred and foreclosed of all right in said premises and the same be sold to pay said Seaman's claim.
You are required to answer said petition on or before Monday, the 16th day of December, 1895, or your default will be entered, said petition taken as confessed and judgment rendered in accordance with the prayer of said petition.
A. J. SEAMAN,
By his attorneys, H. D. Travis and Beeson & Root.

Legal Notice.

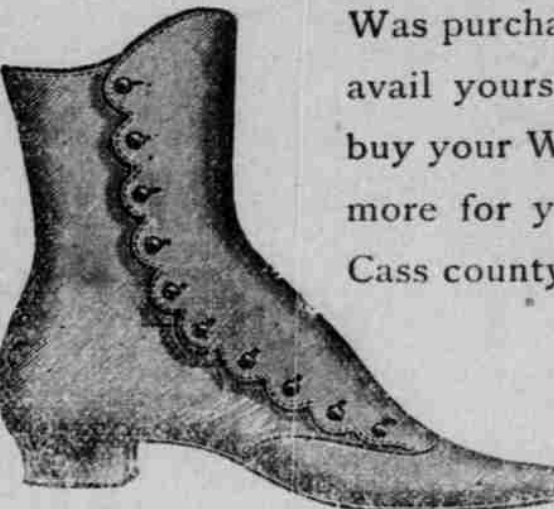

To M. C. Gibson, whose first and real name is unknown, George Olcott and Joseph E. Callender, trustee:
You and each of you are hereby notified that on the 14th day of November, 1895, A. J. Seaman filed his petition in the district court of Cass county, Nebraska, against you and each of you, impliedly with Albert A. Hardy, et al., the object and prayer of which is to foreclose a tax certificate against the northwest quarter of southwest quarter of section 17, in town 10, range 11 in Cass county, Nebraska, and one tax certificate against the southwest quarter of said southwest quarter of said section, each certificate issued on the 23d day of November, 1890 for the delinquent 1889 tax against said property, and each being for the sum of $9.84; and subsequent taxes 1890 $19.83, 1891 taxes $18.40 and 1892 taxes $19.85; it is claimed that in addition to said sums there should be allowed twenty percent interest on each payment for two years from and after November 3d, 1896 (per annum) and ten per cent interest on each of said payments per annum after November 3d, 1892 with ten per cent attorney fees on the entire sum with costs of suit, and for equitable relief; it is also asked that you with all other defendants be foreclosed of all equity of redemption in said premises and that the same be sold to satisfy said demand.
You are requested to answer said petition on or before Monday the 16th day of December, 1895, or said petition will be taken as confessed and your default entered and judgment entered against you.
A. J. SEAMAN,
By his attorneys, H. D. Travis and Beeson & Root.
