Buy home made goods and build up home industries, is a good policy. Farrell's Fire Extinguisher, made by Farrell & Co., Omaha.

SAMUEL SANDERS, who owns a large farm west of Plattsmouth, marketed two porkers, the combined weight of which was 1,365.72.

BARNETT MCGINN, on trial at Omaha, was last week convicted of murder in the second degree. He will probably get life imprisonment.

E. S. MITCHELL of Shelby sent four St. Bernards to the Chicago bench show and captured two first and two third prizes. He received $400 for one dog.

A CHILD of Joseph Knott of Hershey, near North Platte, was badly scalded by the overturning of a coffee pot full of boiling coffee. It will probably not recover.

FRANK SCHRUBING, of West and H. Road of Fremont last week started on a trip by boat to New Orleans. They have a flat boat eighteen feet long and a small rowboat.

ON the charge of selling spirituous liquors without a license, Ada Hinkel of Chadron was bound over to the United States court. She acknowledged selling beer without a license.

LEWIS FRIDLEY, charged with incest, has been released from jail at Tecumseh. His daughter, Emily, who was with whom he was charged with incest, has been criminally intimate, would not testify against her father.

THE great Omaha Indian rainmaker, Wassapa, is dead and buried. This is the man who "made it rain" on a farmer's cornfield north of Decatur last summer for the small sum of $3. He claimed to have the power to make a cloud burst.

JOSEPH HUNTER, JR., the 16-year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Hunter, one of the earliest settlers in Webster county, was killed by the accidental discharge of his gun, which he was taking out of a wagon with the muzzle toward him.

CLARENCE E. HOLMES, one of the late firm of C. E. Holmes & Co., Hastings, was arrested and lodged in jail upon a charge of procuring goods upon fraudulent representation. The firm failed about six weeks ago and made family relatives prefer credits.

A SPECIAL order has been issued by the adjutant general announcing the honorable discharge from the National guard of First Lieutenant Albert L. Gooden, company B, First regiment, and Second Lieutenant Winston Z. McKean, company C, First regiment.

THERE is a new adjustment at the soldiers' and sailors' home at Grand Island. Commandant Wilson was in consultation with the governor for several hours, and it was afterwards announced from the latter's office that Dan Aithen of Gage county had been appointed by the commandant to the place made vacant by the removal of Mart Howe several weeks ago.

C. E. PERKINS, president of the C. B. & Q. G. B. Harris, vice president, G. P. Gardner, a large stockholder of Boston, Mass., Geo. W. Holdrege, general manager of the R. & M. and other railway officials, inspected the shops at Havelock on Wednesday, March 11. Mr. Harris pronounced them the best on the C. B. & Q. system. In the near future extensive additions will be made.

It is announced by President A. G. Wolfenbarger of the State Irrigation association that the Nebraska Irrigation Annual is now in preparation for the press, and will be ready for free distribution about April 1. The work will contain a complete review of irrigation work done in Nebraska during the past year and will be distributed to those interested in irrigation, free of charge, except postage.

DANIEL SKINNER, residing a few miles northeast of Elmwood, on going out the other morning, found himself minus about 150 chickens and a new set of heavy harness. On the same morning Clark Schreve, another farmer living there, missed a new set of harness and found his other harness lying by the barn, where the thieves had evidently inspected it and found it was not quite good enough for them.

The Burlington Railway company is fitting up a building at Havelock, Nebraska, to be used by the employees of the shops as a reading room. One room is twenty by thirty feet with long reading tables. Another room is provided for games. The building is to be heated, lighted, and magazines and newspapers are to be furnished free of charge by the railway company and the Lancaster Land company, owners of the town site of Havelock.

HENRY T. OXNARD, president of the Oxnard Beet Sugar company, said to a reporter that he was at a loss to know how the rumor to the effect that the beet sugar factories in this state would not be operated during the coming season originated, as it was utterly unfounded. "There is no truth in the statement that we will not run our factories during the coming season," said Mr. Oxnard, "but the fact of the matter is that it will probably be the best season we have known since we have been in the business."

THE Occidental Building and Loan association of Omaha, capital stock $10,000,000, filed articles of incorporation with the secretary of state. This organization was formed in 1889, and the filing today is for the purpose of enabling it to make similar filings in other states.

A HYANNIS dispatch says the cattle men are still on the "war path" in regard to the land bill now pending before congress, by which the vacant land in western Nebraska is to be ceded to the state. The stock men claim that large companies will purchase the land and drive the small cattle dealers out of business.

Supreme Court Commission. Lincoln dispatch: On the 16th inst. the terms of Supreme Court Commissioners Ryan, Ragan and Irvine expired by limitation. Today the justices of the court reappointed them in the following order: "Supreme Court of Nebraska. In the Matter of the Supreme Court Commissioners: The supreme court of Nebraska, reposing special trust and confidence in the integrity, and ability of Robert Ryan, John M. Ragan and Frank Irvine, do hereby appoint each of them a commissioner of the supreme court to perform the duties required by the act entitled 'An Act to Amend Section 3 of an Act Entitled an Act Authorizing the Appointment of Supreme Court Commissioners.' Their Duties, Approved March 9, 1893, and to Repeal Said Original Section.' Approved March 12, 1895. And we do hereby authorize and empower them to discharge the duties of said office according to law. In testimony whereof we have hereunto subscribed our names this 17th day of March, A. D. 1896."

Settlers Need Not Fear. Washington dispatch: Senator Allen, Representative Meiklejohn and General Manderson called this morning upon the attorney general, secretary of the interior and the commissioner of the general land office in regard to the pending suit of the United States against the settlers upon 200,000 acres of indemnity lands of the Burlington railroad.

By the terms of the act of March 2, 1895, the title of the railroad to these lands is confirmed and the title of all bona fide purchasers to the railroad lands is also confirmed. The question of the good faith of the purchasers under the act named can be determined without suit by the interior department and no suit is needed for such determination. That the necessity, in the interest of economy and equitable treatment, is that the suit which is now pending in the United States court for Nebraska should be dismissed was urged upon the officials. They quite agreed as to the correctness of the views expressed and after giving a few days' consideration to the subject will probably order a dismissal of the suit.

Grand Army Reunion Date. The reunion of the Grand Army of the Republic will be held the week beginning Monday, August 24, 1896. This date was decided upon at a meeting held in Assistant Adjutant General Gage's office, at the state capital. Department Commander Culver met the location committee of Lincoln and the matter of location and time was fully discussed, although the question of the place at which to hold the reunion was left open, to be decided later. There were present, of the local committee, John McConnell, R. W. Johnson, Captain Samuel McOlay, Colonel L. C. Pace, Captain J. W. Woods, Dr. Hoover and others. The date set will, it is thought, accommodate those who desire to visit the state fair at Omaha and wish to make but one trip from their homes, as well as those who intend to go on the annual national encampment.

Fees in the Hill Case. Governor Holcomb has settled with Judge E. Wakeley and Attorney G. M. Lamberton for their services in the prosecution of the case against ex-Treasurer Hill to recover $236,000 lost in the Capital National Bank failure. Judge Wakeley drew $1,000 and Mr. Lamberton $200. This completes the payments for fees due attorneys. Of the $15,000 legislative appropriation of the legislature of 1893, all but $8,709.19 was expended in the first trial, and in preparation therefor. This latter sum was turned over to Governor Holcomb by Governor Crouse. Of this there now remains in the hands of the governor $3,203.30, making the total expense, to date, of the trial, $10,794.70. It is understood that there are some other bills in the way of witness fees and bailiff's expenses to be paid yet.

Complaint From a State Contractor. Lincoln dispatch: Complaint was made at the state house today by the manager of the Lincoln Coopers company, one of the concerns which is employing the convict labor at the penitentiary, that owing to the giving out of one of the boilers there was not sufficient power being furnished, and the shops would be of necessity shut down. Agent Whitehead, who went to his home in Custer county several days ago to complete arrangements for moving his family down to Lincoln, has been detained by sickness, and has not yet returned. The board will probably wait until he can make a report as to what the condition of the boiler is before taking any steps.

Cattle Held in Quarantine. Grand Island dispatch: The union stock yards of this city have been made a quarantine station, and the first shipment to arrive is fifteen cars of California cattle. Four of these cars are fat and ready for immediate slaughter. These will leave for South Omaha tonight, but the ten remaining cars are to be held in quarantine for a term of ninety days. J. E. Atter, the union yards manager, received his instructions today from Manager Babcock of the South Omaha yards. Separate pens will be kept for them. The consignment belongs to John Sparks, the great western cattle man, and is shipped from Amedee, Cal.

Julius Julson, an old resident of Newman Grove, while going home from Petersburg fell from his buggy. His body was caught between the box and wheels and his limbs confined in the buggy by the robes and he was dragged in that position over two miles. When the horses reached home they ran into a wire fence and threw him out. When found his back was broken and he had apparently been dead some time.

The supreme court met last week for the regular sitting for the third Tuesday in the month. Judge Wakely was at the state house and when asked if there was any other step which could be taken in the case of the state against ex-Treasurer Hill and his bondsmen to recover the amount of state money on deposit in the Capital National bank at the time of its failure, said that he supposed that "the dog is dead." The judge talked about the decision of the supreme court, and said that the whole of the case had practically been gone over three times, and the court had spoken and that settled it.

THEY WANT RECIPROcity. MANUFACTURING INTERESTS FAVOR THE BLAINE SYSTEM. MANY REPLIES RECEIVED.

A Strong Preponderance for the Renewal of the Reciprocity Agreements as They Existed Under the McKinley Law - Commercial Organizations Also Favor Renewal.

WASHINGTON, March 23.—Response is now being made by the commercial and manufacturing interests of the country to the circular letters addressed to them by the ways and means subcommittee on reciprocity and commercial treaties, inviting expressions of opinion as to the advisability of endeavoring to renew the reciprocity agreements with foreign countries made under the terms of the McKinley tariff act. The replies so far received number seventy-nine, including large manufacturing concerns east of the Mississippi river and those heavily interested in the export trade.

There is a strong preponderance of desire for the renewal of the reciprocity agreements and in many cases the writers cite figures to show the great diminution in their export trade since the repeal of the provision of the law under which these agreements existed. In few cases is there any attempt made to conceal the self-interest of the writers in the matter. For instance among the few concerns which oppose reciprocity, is a grain commission whose figures show that it will be thus placed in competition with the great South American grain producing countries. Another concern favoring reciprocity, in answer to the direct question writes: "Decidedly yes. We are more and more convinced that what we want is not free trade but fair trade, and the writer makes this admission after having been for fifteen years a free trader." Politics crops out in many of the answers and not a few of the writers do not hesitate to express their preference in the matter of the choice of the next president.

Three great commercial organizations are on the committee's list of correspondents and all of them are recorded as most emphatically favoring reciprocity. They are the Millers' National association of Milwaukee, C. A. Pillsbury, president; the Cincinnati chamber of commerce and Merchants' exchange and the Cleveland chamber of commerce.

Of the seventy-nine replies, sixty-eight are strongly in advocacy of a renewal of the reciprocity agreements as they were under the McKinley act; three are absolutely opposed to anything in the nature of reciprocity or that contemplates discrimination in trade with the world; four are inclined to favor a qualified kind of reciprocity agreement and four are not responsive to the direct questions of the committee and merely take advantage of the opportunity to ventilate some private grievances.

Bank Robbers Make Quite a Haul. DECATUR, Ill., March 23.—The Niantic bank was entered by burglars last night and robbed of $3,100. Strangers who came to town Friday evening are supposed to have committed the crime. D. H. Claypool's horse was stolen. The horse theft is supposed to be part of the bank robbers' method of making their escape.

Young Milliken Set Free. WASHINGTON, March 23.—The jury in the case of Benjamin H. REED MEN AGGRESSIVE.

Vigorous Campaign to Be Inaugurated by Friends of the Speaker. WASHINGTON, March 23.—The Reed men have decided to inaugurate an aggressive campaign for the Speaker. Senator Lodge and Republican members of Congress from Massachusetts, have received a number of telegrams from their State announcing that the McKinleyites were invading Massachusetts, decided that something must be done to stem the tide of sentiment for the Ohioan. They accordingly held a conference with Speaker Reed, in which some of the speaker's leading supporters from other states also participated. The result of the conference was a decision to at once open a Reed bureau and begin an attack on the McKinley forces all along the line. It is reported that the McKinley missionaries have already done enough work in Massachusetts to make it probable that the Bay state will not send a solid delegation to St. Louis for the Maine man.

GUN MAKERS COMBINE.

The Cramp Company and Other Concerns Form a Big Trust. PHILADELPHIA, March 23.—Henry W. Cramp, of William Cramp & Sons, ship builders, announces officially that all arrangements for the amalgamation of the ordnance department of the works with other extensive organizations have been completed, and that hereafter the various gun-making concerns interested will be known as the American Ordnance Company.

The new company will manufacture the Hotchkiss and Driggs ordnance and Fletcher rapid-fire guns. The cannons and machine guns to be manufactured will be the Hotchkiss revolving cannon, Hotchkiss automatic gun, Accles machine gun and Howell torpedo.

No Cause for Intervention. WASHINGTON, March 23.—The State department has caused a careful examination to be made into the case of Oiverio Agramonte, who was arrested by the Spanish forces in Cuba on the Jarague estate, of which he was the manager, on suspicion of being an insurgent sympathizer. It was said that Agramonte was a naturalized American citizen, but the United States consul, who by direction of the State department, visited the man in jail, now reports to the department that he is not a naturalized citizen of the United States but a Spanish subject, and consequently our government has no ground for interference.

Menelik Demands Indemnity. ROME, March 23.—King Menelik demands an indemnity of 40,000,000 lire from Italy. This condition is, of course, unacceptable, and further complicates the situation. The Negus' forces now threaten to surround Asmara, while continuing the advance upon Massowah.

Big Lowell Mills to Rest. LOWELL, Mass., March 23.—On account of the general depression in the cloth market, the Merrimac mills, which employ 2,600 people, will on Monday close for one week. The Lowell Manufacturing Company will close its Brussels department during the same time.

His Lunch Cost Him Dear. ST. JOSEPH, Mo., March 23.—Frank Perry, a young man who stole two loaves of bread, two pies and a can of honey from a farm house, near the state fish hatchery, was found guilty in the criminal court and his punishment fixed at five years in the penitentiary.

Leaves for Paris Unknown. OLATHE, Kan., March 23.—Ed L. Charlton has resigned his position as steward of the Kansas Deaf and Dumb institution, located at this place, and gone to parts unknown. He is said to have left the books and accounts of the institution in a badly mixed condition.

Seventy-nine answers have been received to the circulars asking manufacturers' and exporters' opinions on reciprocity, and all save one placed opinions in favor of it on the ground of self-interest.

BAYARD UNDER FIRE.

Resolutions in the House that Censure the Ambassador. WASHINGTON, March 19.—The Ambassador Bayard censure resolutions were called up in the House this afternoon by Mr. Hill of Illinois, who made a strong speech in support of them, and was followed by Mr. McCreary of Kentucky, who opened for the opposition. The latter said that such resolutions were unprecedented and an invasion of the rights and authority of the President. Mr. Bayard was not the first diplomatic officer representing the United States who had been assailed by his political opponents while representing his country in England and a vote of censure now, prompted by prejudice and partisanship, would not hurt him. The purpose was too well understood. It might prove a garland of distinction and open the way to him for higher offices and greater honors. The people of this country knew that Thomas F. Bayard had proved himself a patriot, a statesman and a faithful public servant, and the people were behind him in his opposition to protection and trusts in far greater numbers than they were behind those who sought to condemn and censure him. To censure Mr. Bayard at this time would be to detract from the prestige of this country with Great Britain when he, as a diplomatic officer, represented this country in negotiations concerning important questions now pending. Mr. McCreary concluded as follows: "When a citizen of our free country becomes an ambassador or a minister, should he be required to surrender or suppress his true sentiments? Should he not have the right to speak his sentiments politely and respectfully, if they are in accord with the policy of the government which he represents? The people of the civilized world are aware of the political revolutions which occur in this republic, and they are aware that we do not have in this country a special diplomatic corps in office for life, but that our ambassadors and ministers are appointed by the political party in power. They are men who supported the President whose commission they bear, and they uphold the policies of his administration. Their views on these policies should give no offense at home if they give none abroad. I am sure the Republican majority of this House will have more praise for abstaining from the adoption of the censure resolutions than they will have if they adopt them."

Mr. McCreary was followed by Mr. Cousins of Iowa, who supported the censure resolutions.

A Young Girl's Poisoner. ST. JOSEPH, Mo., March 19.—Several days ago some one administered poison to the family of D. B. Taylor, who resides near Craig, north of this city. The poison was administered in coffee, and the father, D. E. Taylor, died, while one son is now expected to die, and the mother and two other children are in a serious condition. The coroner's jury concluded its investigation last night, and held Miss Gertrude Taylor, a 13-year-old daughter of the dead man. She is in jail. The girl admitted buying poison of a druggist. It is thought that she had advice from older heads. Great excitement prevails around Craig over the matter.

What Manderson Wants. WASHINGTON, March 19.—Ex-Senator Manderson of Nebraska, referring to the proposition of Senator Thurston relative to the Nebraska delegation to the St. Louis, says that it simply places the cart before the horse. "If I do not go into the convention with my State behind me," he continued, "I have no status and will not be entered in the race. As I have said before, when my State delegation sees an opportunity to make a nomination by supporting another candidate, it will be welcome to do so."

The latter has returned from Evansville and is a resident that they are the guilty parties.

Doctor Albright.

A BROAD MINDED PHYSICIAN WITH PROGRESSIVE IDEAS.

Believes in Recommending Any Medicine That He Knows Will Cure His Patients. —Thinks Dr. Williams' Pink Pills a Great Discovery—He Cites Some Marvellous Cures.

From the Examiner, Lancaster, Pa. AKRON, Pa., April 24th, 1895.

DR. WILLIAMS' MEDICINE Co. Gentlemen—While it is entirely contrary to the custom of the medical profession to endorse or recommend any of the so-called proprietary preparations, I shall, nevertheless, give you an account of some of my wonderful experiences with your preparation. Dr. Williams' Pink Pills for Pale People. The fact is well known that medical practitioners do not as a rule, recommend any medicine, unless they have had definite knowledge of their virtue or lack of it, but soundly condemn them all without a trial. Such a course is manifestly absurd and unjust, and I, for one, propose to give my patients the best treatment known to me, for the particular disease with which they are suffering, no matter what it is, where or how obtained. I was first brought to prescribe Dr. Williams' Pink Pills about two years ago, after having seen some remarkable results from their use. Reuben Hoover, now of Reading, Pa., was a prominent contractor and builder. While superintending the work of erecting a large building during cold weather, he contracted what was thought to be sciatica. He first noticed it one morning in not being able to arise from his bed. After the usual treatment for this disease he failed to improve, but on the contrary grew rapidly worse, the case developing into Hemiplegia, or partial paralysis of the entire right side of the body. Electricity, tonics and massage, etc., were all given a trial, but nothing gave any benefit, and the paralysis continued. In despair he was compelled to bear his physician's announcement that his case was hopeless. About that time his wife noticed one of your advertisements and concluded to try your Pink Pills.

He had given up hope and it required a great deal of begging on the part of his wife to persuade him to take them regularly.

He, however, did as she desired, and if appearances indicate health in this man, one would think he was better than before his paralysis.

"Why," says he, "I began to improve in two days, and in four or five weeks I was entirely well and at work."

Having seen these results I concluded that such a remedy is surely worth a trial at the hands of any physician, and consequently when a short time later was called upon to treat a lady suffering with palpitation of the heart and great nervous prostration, after the usual remedies failed to relieve, I ordered Dr. Williams' Pink Pills. The result was simply astonishing. Her attacks became less frequent and also less in severity, until by their use for a period of only two months she was the picture of health, rosy-cheeked and bright-eyed, as well as ever, and she has continued so until today, more than one year since she took any medicine. I have found these pills a specific for chorea, or as more commonly known, St. Vitus' dance, and beneficial results have in all cases marked their use. As a spring tonic any one who, from overwork or nervous strain during a long winter has become pale and languid, the Pink Pills will do wonders in brightening the countenance and in buoying the spirits, bringing roses to the pallid lips and renewing the fountain of youth.

Yours respectfully, J. D. ALBRIGHT, M. D.
