WASHINGTON, April 10.-The Senate chaplain, the Rev. Dr. Milburn, referred in his prayer to-day to the illness of the senior Senators from Indiana and Alabama-Mr. Voorhees and Mr. Morgan.

Mr. Gallinger of New Hampshire read a letter from the general secretary of the Armenian Relief association referring to the extreme urgency of the situation in Turkey and asking As Worrels bent down to lay her on | that steps be taken to stop the most appalling sacrifice in the history of the world. He added that while he would not suggest ways and means to the foreign relations committee, yet he sincerely hoped that some method would be devised to check the Turkish atrocities.

Mr. Mantle of Montana was then ecognized for a speech on the resolution recommitting the tariff bill to the finance committee. There was special interest in this from the fact that he was one of the five Republican senators who voted against proceeding with the tariff bill. It was, moreover, his maiden formal speech. He said that he hesitated as a young and new member of the Senate to address the body, but the misrepresentations which had been indulged in against the representatives of the Western interests led him to speak. He spoke of the recent utterances of President Cleveland before a missionary gathering ierogatory to the West as but one of the assaults made of late against the "rotten boroughs and mining press designated the silver states. He leclared that within a radius of five giles from Carnegie hall, New York, where Mr. Cleveland spoke, there was more poverty, ignorance, squalor, starvation, crime and criminals than in all of the silver states combined. WILL THE PRESIDENT ACT?

The Joint Cuban Resolutions Sent to the White House.

WASHINGTON, April 8.-The Senate concurrent resolutions on the Cuban question were delivered to Private Secretary Thurber this morning by Mr. Platt, one of the executive clerks of the Senate. Later in the day they will be sent to the State department, as the law requires that such resolutions shall be printed in the book of laws annually published by the department. Ordinarily concurrent reaolutions are not forwarded to the President, as they do not require his signature, but these resolutions were sent to him as the Armenian resolutions were, because they express the opinion that he should tender the offices of the United States to Spain for the recognition of Cuban independence and are, therefore, a direction to him in so far as Congress can direct the President in such a proceeding.

Secretary Olney went early to the White house and remained in close consultation with the President for some time. This caused the general politicians in other states prior to and circulation of a report that the two were engaged in the preparation of a special message to Congress.
