WHAT OTTOE THINKS.

From the Nebraska City News.
Lancaster and Cass made the tie-up and Bud Lindsay represents the republicans of those two counties at St. Louis. He does not represent the district or the people.

Col. Druesdow was a good guesser when he predicted yesterday that Lindsay and Dovey would be the delegates to the republican national convention from this congressional district.

The republican firm of Lindsay & Dovey may do business for the republicans of this congressional district, but the respectable portion of the republican party vow that it will cost Congressman Strode and other republican candidates that come up this fall many votes.

The republicans everywhere in this section of the state are a decidedly sick lot over Bud Lindsay being crowded down their neck as a delegate to the national republican convention. They would not perhaps have gagged so had it been a half way decent negro, but this renegade makes them decidedly nauseated. They promise to make it warm for any candidate that may come up for office from either Cass or Lancaster county.

New Spring Footwear.

From reliable makers. We are ready with the newest fads and fancies in footwear for men, women, young women and children. There isn't an unworthy shoe in the lot, and you are not asked to pay one penny more than is often charged for shoes not so good.

Do You Recollect

When we first sold muslin underwear? Do you recall the cost of them? Crude affairs they were, too. Recollect the big stitches and common appearance compared to what we sell now? You used to make your own those days, but you can't afford to now-a-days, unless you work for fun and pay for the entertainment. Muslin underwear cheaper than you can buy cotton cloth, thread and trimmings. That's the way we may sell them today.

Call for Congressional Convention.

The democratic convention for the First district of Nebraska is hereby called to meet at Lincoln, Nebraska, on the 22d day of April, 1896, at eleven o'clock a. m., for the purpose of nominating two delegates to the democratic national convention to be held in Chicago on the 7th day of July, said nominations to be ratified by the democratic state convention to be held in Lincoln on the 22d day of April, 1896, at two o'clock p. m. The basis of representation shall be one delegate for every 100 votes, or major fraction thereof, cast for Hon. W. J. Bryan for United States senator in 1895. The several counties shall be entitled to representation as follows:

Cass	21	Otoe	20
Johnson	13	Pawnee	8
Lancaster	46	Richardson	20
Nemaha	10
		Total	138

A NON-PARTISAN free coinage league should be organized in every precinct in Cass county.

AFTER Oregon and Washington democrats declared for free coinage, and following these two western coast states, Colorado and Missouri have followed, being, if possible, more emphatic in their declarations, and the trend of events is altogether in that direction.

THE News has gracefully come down from its perch in ridicule of the silver movement in the democratic party and admits that the silver wing of the party will control the democratic national convention. Silver isn't so "dead" an issue as it was a few months ago.

THE democrats of Missouri held the biggest convention of the party's history yesterday, at Sedalia, and formally endorsed Richard P. Bland, the great silver coinage advocate, for president—Gov. Stone making the nominating speech. A full delegation of free coinage advocates were elected delegates to the national convention. Wall street financiers stood no show in that gathering, but a strong 16 to 1 platform was adopted.

THE president has sent to the senate the nomination of Fitz Hugh Lee to be consul general at Havanna, Cuba, vice Ramon O. Williams, resigned.

McKinley's Ambiguity
Is Mr. McKinley's financial platform clean and logical? To me it seems as ambiguous as a Delphic oracle. He says "We want good money, made of the two metals, gold and silver, both of the same value in debt paying and purchasing power." This is fine talk, but how is Mr. McKinley going to make the two dollars have the same commercial value? Will he put enough silver into the silver dollar, to make its commercial value equal to the present gold dollar, or will he steal from the populists their fiat and put it onto the silver dollar, to make it and the gold dollar at parity? Which?

J. F. D.

He Is Not a Bolter.

The following, from the World-Herald, explains itself: "To the editor of the World-Herald: I notice my name among the list of those selected to attend the bolters' convention, which meets at Lincoln on the 29th instant. This is without my authority. I am a democrat, and believe in submitting to the decisions of the rightfully constituted conventions of my party."

JOHN H. GROSSMAN.

Didn't Like Nebraska City.

Officer Fitzpatrick captured three boys up in the B. & M. railroad yards on Tuesday. They gave their names as Joe O'Brien, Frank Hall and Chas. Hall. Joseph was apparently about twelve years old, the other two about fourteen, and they gave their home as Nebraska City. It seems that the boys came up from the City last night on the lowa side of the river, crossed here, and got as far as La Platte on their way to Omaha, when they were put off by a heartless brakeman, and decided to return home via the "Walker" route. They were very repentant and tearful when overhauled by the officer, and begged to be allowed to continue their stroll toward the sunny south, and were accorded the privilege.
