THE PENITENTIARY.

Patriotic Populists Guard it Without Pay Against Churchill's Thieves.

Citizens of the State Offer to Come to Their Relief With Funds.

The situation at the penitentiary is this, Warden Leidigh and the employees under him have remained at their posts for over two months without a cent of pay, trying to protect the $100,000 that Churchill, Russell and Beemer have determined, law or no law, to capture. The board of supplies met the other day and refused to make the estimates required by law and the penitentiary is without funds, but every appointee stands at his post, and is giving a deaf ear to all blandishments and all offers of money from Beemer. They guard the prisoners, and keep Al Beemer, Churchill and company out.

Meantime nearly all the prisoners are idle and cannot be put to work, for the want of a boiler to start the machinery, the costly boilers which Broatch bought of Dorgan being condemned by the inspector and their use forbidden. Churchill and the board will not approve a voucher for a boiler unless Al Beemer is paid his $5,000 salary and 40 cents a day for the maintenance of the prisoners.

This state of affairs being generally known, some patriotic citizens propose to furnish a boiler. The moment it is put in and the machinery started, men stand ready to hire all the convicts and put them to work. Hundreds of honest citizens, in different parts of the state, republicans, democrats and populists are getting hot under the collar, being irritated beyond endurance by the prolonged and persistent attempt of the state house junta to make another penitentiary steal in violation of all law and in open day light and they are signifying their intention to stand by Gov. Holscomb and Warden Leidigh, and fight it to a finish.

The kind of a man that Churchill intends to put in charge of the penitentiary over the lawful warden may be seen from the following extracts made from the books of the penitentiary and vouchers at the state house:

A. D. BEEMER.
Jan. 18, '94. Conducting remained prisoner, James P. Palm, No. 2537 to Lincoln, Neb.
Self and guard, 1 day, $5.00
Mileage, .50
Conveyance, 2.00

Total, $7.50
Signed, A. D. BEEMER,
Warden.

A. D. BEEMER.
Jan. 18, '94. Conducting remained prisoner, Green S. Gravely No. 2294 to Lincoln, Neb.
Self and guard, 1 day, $5.00
Mileage, .50
Conveyance, 2.00

Total, $7.50
Signed, A. D. BEEMER,
Warden.

The reporter of THE INDEPENDENT interviewed Green S. Gravely, who was ordered by the court to be taken to Lincoln. He was asked:

"Were you taken from the penitentiary to Lincoln in January 1894?"

"Yes Sir."

"Who took you?"

"Warden Beemer."

"How did you go?"

"We went in the street cars."

"Was any other person with you when you went?"

"No Sir."

"No attendant?"

"No Sir, No one but Mr. Beemer."

"Didn't you ride in a hack or a carriage?"

"No Sir, We went in the street cars."

There is no name given of the guard and no receipt from the hack driver attached to the voucher. Mr. Beemer, as the evidence shows, put the man on a street car and unaccompanied by any one, took him to the court house.

Warden Leidigh's bills for this service are 65 cents. The books of the penitentiary show scores of steals like this, and yet Churchill and company are determined to force this man back into the control of the penitentiary. How much of that $100,000 will be left after he gets his hands on it?

County meetings are well attended and the earnest educational addresses of our speakers are well received by all. We predict the largest vote for the people's ticket ever given in this county.

Prof. Walters at Panama.

G. H. Walters, candidate for county clerk, had a rousing meeting at Panama last Saturday night. Over 100 voters were present and Mr. Walters delivered an excellent address that was well received by those present. Some seed was sown that will no doubt bear fruit in votes for our ticket in the coming election. The populists of southeastern Lancaster county are wide awake and in line for the ticket from top to bottom.

The Gold Standard Doubles Prices.

The following petition, signed by a large number of property owners was presented to the Omaha city council:

"We, the undersigned property owners residing in our own houses in the north west part of the city, respectfully represent to your honorable body that during the past two years our property has greatly depreciated in value by reason of the hard times and we have been greatly distressed. Notwithstanding these facts our taxes have not been reduced and they have become a great burden."

Most of the men who signed it are gold standard republicans and likely will continue to vote to increase their taxes. "What fossils these mortals be?"

THE FREE COINAGE OF SILVER.

Why Men Who Believe in Fiat Money Constantly Demand it.

Sound Economics From the Chairman of the Populist National Committee.

In his reply to Col. Norton in regard to the necessity of free coinage of silver Chairman Taubeneck says:

"In your reply to my illustration with the bushel of wheat you say:

"As to the case of the India farmer who in 1892 got 51 cents more for his wheat than the American farmer, we think there is a screw loose in the logic somewhere."

"Now what we want to know is this: Why the deuce did not the American farmer exchange his bushel of wheat for an ounce of the American miner's silver, take it direct to India and get $1.37 worth of that legal tender money in India? In that way he would have received as much as the India farmer. It would have beaten the Liverpool game all hollow; and it is useless for us to say that had such a real opportunity existed there are plenty of enterprising Americans of the Vanderbilt stripe who would have caught onto it instantly."

During the campaign of 1894 we had more requests for information, on this identical point, than for all others combined and so far as I know, not a single populist paper has ever given a correct answer to this query.

Suppose that in 1892 you had had one bushel of wheat and sold it for an ounce of silver worth 86 cents, then shipped the silver to India, had it coined into rupees worth $1.37 in legal tender money in India, then reshipped the silver rupees back to the United States and sold them for 86 cents the gold price of silver bullion? Where would your profit come in, Colonel? You would have received as much less for your bushel of wheat as it would have cost you to ship your silver to and from India. I will admit that if rupees were legal tender money as they are in India, then you would have made a profit, but you know this is not the case.

Again suppose that in 1892 you would have been engaged in silver mining and had had 10,000 ounces of silver worth (86 cents per ounce) $8,600; suppose you shipped this silver to India, had it coined into rupees worth $13,700 in India then reshipped the silver rupees back to the United States and sold them for $8,600, the gold price of silver bullion. In this transaction you would have been out the cost of transporting your silver to and from India. This is why the mine owners, and the Vanderbilts, don't ship silver to Mexico, South America, Japan or China where the mints are open; simply because there is no profit in the business.

There is only one way by which the bullion owner can make a profit in sending his silver to China, Japan, Mexico or South America for coinage, and that is this: Suppose you buy 10,000 ounces of silver, take it to any of those nations, have it coined, remain there and invest it in their property.

You further say:

"Bro. Taubeneck knows, Senator Jones knows, and everybody else who has studied the money question knows that the only possible influence the silver question has is so far as it increases or decreases the volume of money."

Everybody who has studied the money question in the last ten years knows that the decline in the gold price of silver bullion has the effect of giving the wheat and cotton growers, in free-coinage nations, an export bounty to the extent of the difference between the coin and bullion price of silver.

Suppose a wheat grower of the northwest and one from Argentina, meet in Liverpool, each with one thousand bushels of wheat. They sell their wheat for the same price and receive their pay in gold. The wheat grower from Argentina takes his gold and buys silver bullion, worth 65 cents per ounce; on his arrival home his government says, "Let me have your silver; I will coin and add 64 cents to every ounce and return it, which will double the price of your wheat." But our wheat grower in the northwest returns with his gold, because our government tells him "you need not bring any silver home, I will not coin it."

Suppose a cotton planter of the south and one from Mexico should meet in Liverpool, each with 100 bales of cotton? The transaction would result to the disadvantage of our planter as it would with our wheat grower.

Again suppose that a wool grower of the west and one from South America were to meet in Boston or New York, each with 5,000 pounds of wool? Our wool grower would have to return home with only one half as much money to pay debts and taxes as his competitor from South America.

Don't you see, Colonel, that our farmers are only receiving the gold price of silver bullion for their staple products, while their competitors in silver standard countries are receiving the coin or mint price of silver for their's; that the demonetization of silver here has the same effect as paying an export bounty to the farmers in silver using nations?

How long can our planters and farmers exist when compelled to cultivate two acres, raise two bushels of wheat, two bales of cotton, while their competitors in silver standard countries cultivate but one acre, raise but one bushel of wheat, one bale of cotton and do only half as much work, and yet receive the same amount of money with which to pay debts and taxes.

Senator Jones in his speech during the extra session of congress, page 392, said:

"Every decline in the gold price of silver bullion is a premium—a bounty—given to the producer of wheat and cotton in India over the American farmer and cotton planter in the price of those commodities."

On the same point Senator Jones quotes from Mr. Bagehot, for many years editor of the London Economist. "The necessary effect of a depreciation of silver as against gold is to give a bounty on exports from India and other silver using countries to England. An English merchant can now buy many more rupees than he formerly could with the same number of sovereigns, and therefore he can import from India, though prices at Calcutta are not at a level at which it would have paid him to operate if he had not had that novel facility of getting rupees."

Near the close of your reply you say: "We, with you, say let us have free and unlimited coinage of silver. But we say let us strike still farther and deeper at the evils which beset our progress and prosperity as a nation."

Amen, Colonel; you will find me fighting for this as long as life lasts. Let us have legal tender treasury notes issued by the government only, in the place of national bank notes. I will permit no populist to stand firmer for this plank than myself; let us have an amendment to the constitution for a graduated income tax; let us demand that our national debt shall not be increased in time of peace and many more things, but in order to do this it isn't necessary to repudiate our silver plank.

I defy any one to prove where I ever either in public or private, declared in favor of a one plank platform and still less a silver plank only. All that has been said on this line, by our press, has no existence except in the imagination of a coterie of editors.

H. E. TAUBENECK.

A. T. Hushaw of Cass county was in the city Wednesday. He called on the INDEPENDENT and dropped a few shekles on subscription. Mr. H. likes our way of preaching pop doctrine.

Judge Tibbets and Mr. T. H. Tibbles spoke at school house No. 31 in the extreme northwest corner of this county on Saturday night. The school house was packed with farmers, members of all parties. The money question was discussed and the meeting became so interesting that the speakers were called on time and again to go on. The farmers wanted to be instructed and refused to go home until nearly midnight. That township is strongly populist, but will poll a very much larger populist vote this year than ever before. Even republicans are getting weary of 10-cent wheat and continual hoodling in public office.

Take the INDEPENDENT until January 1 for 25 cents.

Let us hear from you how the campaign progresses in your county. The people want to know the news.

The decadence of the republican party was never more noticeable than when the long advertised republican orator from Kansas arrived at Funke's opera house on Thursday night. The lower part was filled but there were only a few in the gallery. The "orator" indulged in the most fierce denunciation of the farmers of Kansas and Nebraska for leaving the republican party. There was, but little said upon the principles of government to which the attention of the people has been drawn in these late years. The intelligence of the audience may be gagged from the nature of the sentiments that drew applause. If populists were denounced there were cheers, when the Grand Old Party was mentioned there was tremendous hand clapping and shouts, but when the "orator" undertook to discuss principles, there was silence. That was above their capacity. Poor old g. o. p!

LEGAL NOTICE.

To Frank H. Kaylor, Mrs. Frank H. Kaylor and J. J. Hubbell.

You, and each of you, are hereby notified that on the 10th day of September 1894, John E. Miller and B. L. Paine, partners, as Miller & Paine, filed their petition in the district court, of Lancaster county, state of Nebraska, against you, impleaded with William S. Misner and Martha Misner, the object and prayer of which are to foreclose a certain mortgage executed by William Misner and Martha Misner to J. J. Hubbell and assigned to plaintiffs, said mortgage being upon lot No. three in block No. five, in Crystal Springs addition to the city of Lincoln, Lancaster county, Nebraska, to secure the payment of a certain promissory note dated December 23rd, 1892, for the sum of $328.00 past due and payable prior to the commencement of this action. There is now due upon said note the sum of $338.00 and interest from April 1st, 1893, at the rate of ten per cent per annum, for which sum plaintiffs pray for a decree, and that said real estate be sold to satisfy the same.

You are required to answer said petition on or before Nov. 18th, 1895. Dated this 1st day of October 1895. MILLER & PAINE, Plaintiffs.
