What the People Are Saying, Doing and Thinking.

One of the greatest reformers of this 'or any other age was Wendell Phillips. Henry Clay was a great orator and statesman; Daniel Webster was a profound constitutional lawyer: Rufus Choate reached the public heart through the brilliancy of his speeches, but as a humanitarian Phillips towered above them all. He knew that slavery was wrong and his keen judgment told him it could not exist. By the same intuition he saw that labor would also free itself. In a speech in 1872 he said:

'I hail the labor movement for two reasons, and one is that it is my only hope for democracy. At the time of the anti-slavery agitation, I was not sure whether we should come out of the struggle with one republic or two, but republics | know we should still be. I am not so confident, indeed, that we shall come out of this storm as a republic unless the labor movement succeeds.

lative independence that can exist in its right. We have thirty-eight one-h rse egislatures in this country, and we have got one man like Tom Scott, with $350,000,000 in his hands; and if he walks through the states they have no power. Why he need not move stall. If he smokes as Grant does a puff of waste amoke out of his mouth upsets the legisla-Lure.

"Now there is nothing but the rallying of men against money that can contest with that power. Rally industrially if you will; rally for eight hours; for a little division for profits, co-operation; rally for such a banking power in the government as would give us money at 3 per cent

"From Boston to New Orleans, from Mobile to Rochester, from Baltimore t. St. Louis, we have now but one purpose; and that is having driven all other political questions out of the arena, having abolished slavery, the only question left is labor-the rela-tions of capital and labor. The night before Charles Summer left Boston for Washington the last time, he said to me: 'I have just on . more thing to do for the n-gro-to carry the civil rights bill; and after that is passed, I shall be at liberty to take up the question of labor '" government work for the unemployed. There are many reasons why the State should own and control this business and why such a course would prove a more satisfactory solution for the evils locid-ut to that traffic, than would prohibition under existing conditions. Of the many valid reasons why ti is should to done we herewith append a few. And uptil there claim can be refuted, by our prehibition friends, it would seem to us as if all who favor temper ance and morality can conscientiously rally usder the banner. We claim that state ownership and control will accomplish the following results, viz:

I. It will eliminate the element of private and public gain.

itics.

III. It will give perfect local option IV. It will leave no ground for the argument against sumptuary legislation

There will be no wine rooms. V.

VI. None will be drank on the premisis.

VII. No police force will be necessa ry to enforce the law as private individuals will be unable to get it to sell; Take a power like the Pennsylvania and could they, there would be no in-Central railroad and the New York ductment as it would be impossible for Central railroad and there is no legis- them to compete with the state, who will sell at cost.

VIII The salary of the agent will net depend on the quantity sold, hence IX. All will be sold in original packages at actual cost: hence there will be no chance for the agent to become dishonest ai d "knockdown "

X. The litigation necessary to enforce the law will be practically nil. XI. There will be no bootleg agents as under prohibition.

XII. There will be no inducement for the prople to become perjurers in order to screen any one.

XIII. There will be no costly fix'ures, pool and billiard tables to attract the public to such places.

XIV. There will be no trouble about selling after regular hours.

XV. It will then be simply the people's sppetite against a moral question, as all financial and personal interests will have been eliminated.

XVI. Finally, prohibition will then come naturally and easy, providing the traffic still proves itself a curse, as none will be interested floancially in its sale, The Populists in Alabama, Illinois, Massachusette, Kansas, Vermont and Maine have already taken this stand, and it remains to be seen if we of this state will do our duty in this particular. Respectfully,

President W. F. Dale addressed the largest gathering ever assembled in that part of the county at Atlanta, recently, on the subject of the great strike and the principles thereof. Our new song book, Armageddon, has been delayed by the music typographers, but it is now rapidly approaching completion. We expect to have it ready for delivery by August 10th, and call attention of the local workers everywhere to it. It will, by its heart-touching, battle-breathing and educating and uniting truth greatly arouse the people, and there is enough of the humorous element in the songs to attract all classes. Armageddon, we must believe, will be a great moving and enthusing power in the present campaign, and until the workers of the world win the final battle which shall give them perfect justice. It is a pro-duct of the times, for the people, the words being written and selected by one who has both suffered and studied. A short time ago Henry Watterson of the Louisville Courier-Journal said he had "reached the sublime position where he didn't care what happened." He was then referring to the proken pledges of the democratic party. A few days ago he said in his paper that, "The democrats of the country won't shed mony tears if the Oregon elections yesterday resulted in such republican viccories as will keep Gov. Pennover out of the United States senate."

This shows exactly the sentiment of the democratic leaders. Gov. BARTLETT, Neb., July 17, 1894. At the meeting of the Wheeler County Central Committee, the 14th inst., the idea of attending the state convention with four-horse teams met with favor and a committee was appointed to report at the convention. A great deal of enthusiasm has already been aroused and a number have signified their intention of attending. Reports from other counties are that they are doing likewise. A little effort put forth by the press just now will make the Independent sta + convention one long to be remembered. Lot us make that effort.

The mountains are covered with great deposite of men. While furnish the irrigating canals with water for the farmers' crops.

The Climate is Unrivaled.

Almost perpetual sunshine, and the elevation of about 7,000 feet dispels all malaria, nor are such peets as chinch bugs, weevil, e.c., found there. Flew-ing artesian wells are secured at a depth, on an average, of about 100 feet, and at a cost of about $25.00 each. Such is the flow that they are being util-ized for irrigating the yards, garden and vegetable crops. The pressure is sufficient to carry the water, which is pure, all through the farmers' dwellngs.

Irrigation.

Already several thousand miles of large and small irrigating canals have been built and several hundred thousand scress of lands made available for farming operations. Irrigation is an finsurance against failure of crops, be-bause success is a question only of the proper application of water to them The loss of a single corn or wheat crop in Nebraka, for instance, would more than equal the cost of irrigating canals to cover the entire state, so impo tant is the certainty of a full crop return to any agricultural state. The San Luis Valley will grow
