If we choose not to do that we can seize the moment and fortify against any such fatality. Such use as God intended in giving us these great natural powers and sources of wealth, honestly and persistently applied, can and will save us and our country for free men. We need not lose our art of printing, our knowledge of steam, electricity and improved machinery, but we can lose them by just losing manhood. Men may hoot at this and call it all rot, but just as great things have been lost, and just as strong countries as these United States have gone to pieces. It is not yet thirty years gone to pieces. It is not yet thirty years since we narrowly escaped just such a dissolution by the hand of Americans, and the foreign foe only loaned a helping hand at a distance. Art and science would not have perished immediately had the south gained their independence. but two debts must then have been paid by the very people who are groaning under one. Double our present hardships and how much would be left for the laborer? Nor are we strengthened by the votes of 1892 and 1894. Cleveland was elected by more than a million of votes in 1892. Two years later the million went to the Republicans. Call the first a rebuke to McKinley, and the last a rebuke to Cleveland. There is some comfort in taking that view of it. But the fact remains that about all the honest change in conviction voted with the Populists. The balance shows a multitude slippery as eels, and dangerous to the last degree when aroused by passion. There was very little of conviction or patriotism in their vote. It meant passion, corruption, everything but safety. The next degree of intensity after voting is fighting, so we stand on the crum-bling edge of a precipice. The money power can furnish a few degrees of inten-

Proposed Articles of Incorporation.

The committe appointed at the Co-operators' Conference, held in Lincoln December 15 and 16, 1894, to draft proposed articles for the Christian Corporation heretofore discussed and advocated in this paper, beg leave to recommend the following as the legal basis of the organization. Upon comparing the Nebraska and Iowa codes we find the laws of Iowa much more favorable, and it is therefore better, evidently, that we incorporate under the Iowa code. This will not make it necessary for us to locate in Iowa, take notice. We simply take advantage of the ample provisions of Iowa | members shall be established which shall law, and may locate in any other state to carry out our plans.

ARTICLES PROPOSED-PREAMBLE. Know All Men by These Presents, etc.: ARTICLE 1-OBJECTS.

This corporation is organized to provide a social body for the spirit of love, to put us in right relations to one another as members one of another, having a common interest: to enable us to freely commune with one another by means of mutual service, and with "Our Father.!' or with the mind and heart of the Infinite, by being "laborers together" with the Infinite in the production of things good, useful and beautiful. We would thus teach that communion with the Infinite and with one another is by means of labor, and we must love most those who labor most faithfully, sacrificing ease and energy, to bring to us good things and useful knowledge to enjoy. Our future and ultimate object in giving birth to this Christian Corporation or social body is through its growth, its accessions of members, to save individuals completely by saving all men from the infinite evils of the present selfish struggle of divided contending individualism.

ARTICLE 2.-NAME AND LOCATION.

This Corporation shall be known as - and shall be located -: county of ----, state of -, etc. ARTICLE 3-POWER AND PRIVILEGE.

Said corporation shall have power to receive by purchase, gift, lease or otherwise, to hold in trust, own manage and operate, to sell, transfer, convey and lease, property, both real and personal, of every kind and description whatso-

It shall have power to enter upon and maintain general works of improvement in its community, to build houses for homes, offices, factories, stores and any other purpose, to improve the streets, to establish and maintain gas, electric, water and power plants; to establish and operate factories, to engage in mercantile, manufacturing and agricultural pursuits, libraries and other institutions of benevolence or for the culture and development of its members.

ARTICLE 4-CAPITAL STOCK AND FUNDS Section 1. Capital.—The capital stock of said corporation is fixed at $100,000, to be divided into shares of $5.00 each. At least $20,000 shall be subscribed before the commencement of business.

Each person upon becoming a member of the association shall subscribe for one share of stock and no person shall ever own more than one share.

Such share may be paid for at the time the subscription is made, or a credit be extended to a subscribing member provided that he shall pay into the treasnry of the corporation at least onetenth of all sums received from it as remuneration or divisios of product and such portion shall be retained from the amounts due to such members from time to time, till said stock subscription is

Such stock shall not be transferrable except on the books of the company.

Sec. 2. Endowment-All contributions other than payments of stock, from members or others, to the funds of the association, whether in money or property, shall constitute an endowment fund and shall be permanently invested for the benefit of the association unless otherwise directed by the donor.

SEC. 3. Surplus Fund-A surplus fund may be created from the earnings or profits of the association.

ARTICLE O-MEMBERSHIP. Section 1. Classification - The membership of this association shall be divided into two classes, as follows:

(1) General members; (2) Dependent members.

Sec. 2. General members—Any person of mature age and a believer in the teachings of Christ, may become a general member upon subscribing for a share of the capital stock, subscribing to the common declaration of pur-poses herein set forth, and upon contributing and delivering to the association all his possessions, real and personal, excepting only his personal and domestic effects. The property so contributed to the association shall be added to the endowment fund. Each general member shall be entitled to one vote at all corporate elections.

It shall be the duty of each general member to labor diligently at such work as may be provided for him.

Sec. 3. Dependent members-All members of the families of general members under 18 years of age, and all other members of that family depending upon such general member for support shall be classed as dependent members and entitled to a home in the community.

ARTICLE 6-WITHDRAWAL OF MEMBERS. Any member desiring to withdraw, or who may be expelled, shall be paid back the sum shown on the books as having been by such member contributed at time of joining the association, without

ARTICLE 7-MEETINGS.

SECTION 1. Meeting of members-The annual election of officers shall occur on the first Monday of January of each year, and special meetings or elections may be called by the president, any two directors or any ten members at any time 10 days' notice.

SEC. 3. Meetings of Directors-The directors shall meet at least once each week upon some regular day and hour, determined by them.

ARTICLE 8.—OFFICERS AND DIRECTORS. The general members shall annually elect from their number the following of sified feeling by turning down the screw a few threads. The slave power did it, and who dares to say the money power and also a board of six or more Directors, who shall be severally heads of the different departments of labor. No person shall hold the same office for two consecutive terms, except upon the choice of three-fourths of all voters.

The President of the Corporation shall be President of the Board of Directors, and in case of a tie vote he shall cast the deciding vote.

ARTICLE 9 .- BY-LAWS.

It shall be the duty of the Directors to adopt such by-laws as they may deem necessary to govern themselves and the members and officers of the association in the transaction of the affairs and busi ness of the association, which shall not be in force until submitted to and approved by a vote of the general members. Such by-laws shall provide regulations for the labor and remuneration of the

A schedule of benefits for the families of be uniform for all classes of labor and to all families according to the number of members in each.

ARTICLE 10,-GENERAL.

SECTION 1. Conveying Real Estate-All articles affecting the title of real escate shall be executed by the President and Secretary and shall bear the corporate

SEC. 2. Voting-No measure upon which the members vote shall be considered as carried or adopted unless at least a majority of all members of the association vote in the affirmative, and no member shall be entitled to vote at an election at which he is a candidate for election, or while he is an officer of the association.

SEC. 3. Existence-The existence of this Corporation shall commence at the time of filing a copy of these articles with the Secretary of State and shall continue for the term of twenty years. [The Iowa law requires corporations to reorganize every twenty years .- COMMITTEE.] SEC. 4. Indebtedness-The indebtedness of the corporation shall at no time exceed one-half of the subscribed capital.

ARTICLE 11-DECLARATION OF RELIEF. We believe in God, our infinite Father, in Christ, our perfect brother, and in the law of equalizing love, expressed in the command, "Thou shalt love thy neighber as thyself.'

ARTICLE 12-AMENDMENTS.

These articles may be altered or amended by the affirmative vote of threefourths of all general members at any general or special meeting, such proposed amendment having been submitted to the members by some public means, for at least thirty days.

The West Talks Back.

Papillion, Neb., Dec. 30, 1894. EDITOR WEALTH MAKERS:

In an issue of the Morning Advertiser of New York, dated December 27, which has been extensively circulated in the west, appears an article headed, "Populist Conference at St. Louis," which I replied to as follows:

Under recent investigation some of the poodling and corruption in New York City has been brought to light. I hope that it will continue until all classes are brought under investigation, for I believe that all like articles that appear in he corporation organs of our large cities are inspired by boodle. Now, when our guilty hand pens the lear that the 'different elements may amalgamate,' you disclose the apprehension of your lass that justice may overtake you. "The cranks that assemble at St. Louis" will NOT include Grover Cleveland or his representatives; for they are exclusively the property of the New York goldbugs and boodlers, who elected him, not "through alhances and deals with the People's party in the western states,' but with alliances and deals in the eastern states, as the presidential vote of 1888 and 1892 reveals. In 1888 Harrison received in New York 14,377 plurality. In 1892 Cleveland received 45,518 plurality. This difference of 59,895 votes in your state probably shows the pur-

The western people want no instruct-ion from your class of political plunder-ers and British goldbug theorists. Your "gospel of plunder and discontent" should be applied and confined to great-er New York, a city that has been built er New York, a city that has been built up by plundering the industrial classes of the nation and whose inhabitants are now quarreling among themselves over the division of the spoils.

The western part of the "American people" are not ready to be converted to the New York style of "prosperity and or-der." Our "public schools" have taught

Your "public schools" have taught us to be foes to that kind of society.

Your "imaginary danger," that we will ever control the "weak and unscrupulous," is absurd, for "birds of a feather flock together," so you may expect so long as your boodle holds out to retain

The path of safety is a combination of patriotic citizens under a political party that will see to it that the income tax in some form is retained and that the doctrine of "prosperity and order," as taught by New Yorkers of your stripe is repudiated, and this country brought back to prosperity and order that means something to its humble citizens. LITERARY NOTES

Mr. Thomas Russell of the United States Engineer office at Sault Ste. Marie, Michigan, has written a most interesting work on Meteorology which which Macmillan & Co. have in press. It is entitled Weather and Flood Forecasting Methods, and is fully illustrated by maps and diagrams.

Among Maemillan & Co's announcements for January is a very interesting work on the Adoption and Amendment of Constitutions in Europe and America, translated from the French of Charles Borgeaud by John Martin Vincent, of John Hopkins University. The book is a brief but systematic treatise on the methods by which constitutions are adopted and changed in all the countries of Europe and America where written charters prevail. In a preliminary chapter, the author shows that the written constitution was first practically realized in the American colonies; was carried from there to France, and thence was spread all over the continent of Europe. The revolutionary movement compelled the monarchies to adapt themselves to fixed charters of various kinds, and the manner in which this was done affords opportunity for very interesting studies and comparisons. In fact, no one thing reveals more clearly the prevailing ideas of law and government in a state than the relation of the people to the building and mending of their constitution, and on this account the book becomes at ouce an essay in comparative democracy. Without intending to write a constitutional history, nor yet a complete exposition of the government of each of these countries, yet by his vigorous sketches the author has succeeded in giving the reader remarkably clear views of the origin, growth, and present status of government in them all. Of Switzerland he is able to write as a native, of France as a long resident and close observer, while of the history of America he displays an intimate knowledge of which many a native student might well be envious.
