

FURIOUS WIND STORM. TEN LIVES LOST IN AND AROUND CHICAGO. GREAT DAMAGE IS DONE.

Six of the Dead Perished at Lake Geneva, and the Other Four Lost Their Lives in Lake Michigan—Many Injured and Much Property Destroyed in Several Kansas Towns.

CHICAGO, July 9.—At least ten persons were drowned and incalculable damage was done by a storm which swept over this city and suburban resorts north of here yesterday afternoon. Six of the dead perished at Lake Geneva, Wis., and the other four lost their lives in Lake Michigan.

The storm came from the Northwest almost without warning and was one of the most furious known in years. The day had been intensely hot, and hundreds of people had gone out on the lake in excursion vessels, sailboats and rowboats. There was only about twenty minutes warning of the approach of the storm, and it is a wonder that the loss of life was not far greater than it was, but all the sailboats managed to reach land in safety. There were, however, many thrilling escapes, and all night long police life saving crews and other persons were out on the beach seeking for traces of missing boats. There were many reports of overturned vessels in the lake, but so far as can be found out now only four lives were lost here, though to-day may add to the list.

Charles Klein, John Ross and Charles L. Shook were out in a row boat when the storm burst, and of them no trace has yet been found. At Lake Geneva, a noted summer resort, just before the storm broke, the steam launch Dispatch started on its last trip of the day with Father Hogan and sister of Harvard, Ill., Dr. Franz, assistant superintendent of the Elgin asylum, and his wife and child, with John Preston in charge of the boat. The vessel had not gone half a mile when the hurricane bore down. The air in an instant was filled with leaves and broken limbs of trees and the waves were lashed into small ocean billows. The hail and rain which followed the first gust was the most furious ever seen there. It was possible to see the little boat from both landings and the boatmen watched the battle. The storm was directly behind it. The first gust drove the nose of the boat far into the waves and it was feared that the Dispatch had died at the first onslaught. It came up, however, with the next crest, but the glasses showed that one passenger was missing. This was probably Miss Hogan, as the searchers found her body a mile from the wreck with a life preserver fixed in her hand. This plunging and rolling was continued for more than an hour when it was seen that the launch's steam had given out. The excursionists were seen huddled in a group in the center of the boat. One big wave followed another, beating upon the helpless thing with increasing fury. It finally rolled over on its side, turned bottom up and sank. The men on shore took the bearings, telephoned to the hotels for help and the moment the storm permitted started to search for the bodies. Miss Hogan's body was found at Haye's park about sundown. A most vigorous search by a hundred men has failed to get a trace of the others, and it is feared they are all in the hull, held by the engine and machinery against the bottom of the lake.

STORM IN KANSAS. Much Damage Done at Canton—Crops Injured in Various Sections. HERRINGTON, Kan., July 9.—A tornado, accompanied by a heavy rain, visited Canton yesterday afternoon about 2 o'clock and in an hour five inches of rain fell. The fronts of all the business buildings on Main street were blown in and goods more or less damaged. James Snyder and two others were buried beneath the ruins of a barn. Snyder's right arm was broken and he received other injuries from which he is not expected to recover.

STURLING, Kan., July 9.—There was another rainfall of two inches yesterday, making six or seven inches since Thursday. All streams are full and farm lands flooded. During church services yesterday morning in the college chapel lightning struck the building, shocking a number of worshippers but doing no serious damage to the building. At Lefontaine the home of R. Giles was blown off the foundation and burned and at New Albany the roof of the brick school house was blown away, damaging the building to the amount of $1,000, and the Christian church, in course of construction, was leveled. The family of John Cox, consisting of husband, wife and seven children, six miles west, while crossing a small stream, were thrown from a buggy into the water, but fortunately managed to save one another.

NEWTON, Kan., July 9.—A wind storm passed over Harvey county yesterday about noon, playing havoc with the crops and knocking over half of the fruit from the trees. Barns, sheds, and other farm improvements, principally windmills, were destroyed in the path of the storm.

TORNADO IN GEORGIA. Two Men Killed and Twenty Persons Injured—Great Damage Done. Now it is announced that he has been recalled, and it is said that this has been done because of Japanese complaints against him as the result of a letter to Minister Dun, in which, while speaking in a complimentary manner of the general character and conduct of the Mikado's troops during the campaign, he said that he had witnessed at Port Arthur shocking acts of violence and brutality on the part of the Japanese.

$100 REWARD $100.

The readers of this paper will be pleased to learn that there is at least one dreaded disease that science has been able to cure in all its stages, and that is Catarrh. Hall's Catarrh Cure is the only positive cure known to the medical fraternity. Catarrh being a constitutional disease, requires a constitutional treatment. Hall's Catarrh Cure is taken internally, acting directly upon the blood and mucous surfaces of the system, thereby destroying the foundation of the disease, and giving the patient strength by building up the constitution and assisting nature in doing its work. The proprietors have so much faith in its curative powers, that they offer One Hundred Dollars for any case that it fails to cure. Send for list of testimonials. Address, F. J. POINTS FOR THE PEOPLE.

—The "middle of the road" is all right, but don't stick in the ruts.—People's Record.

—All value is independent of money. Money is simply a medium for exchanging articles of value.

—The power possessed by the banks to produce depressions and panics at their pleasure is a threatening danger which the people cannot afford to permit. This is a growing evil that demands the attention of the people.—Chicago Express.

—The part that bank credit plays in effecting commercial exchanges, and the dangers surrounding its manipulation by irresponsible parties has attracted widespread attention. Public interest in this matter is not likely to diminish.—Chicago Express.

—If free silver democrats or free silver republicans expect to accomplish anything of material benefit to the country they will join the people's party. An old partyite elected to office at once becomes the obedient servant of the gold-bug aristocracy.

—With the republicans running a gold-bug upon a "sound money" platform, and the democracy making their campaign upon a platform endorsing Cleveland, Carlisle and the present administration, Kentucky populists should have no trouble in carrying the state.

—The productive classes should not be wrangling and fussing over what is to be the issue or whom the leaders. As long as they do they will be the victims of legalized robbers. The one big, important issue is to kill monopoly. Get together.—Iowa Farmers' Tribune.

—Midst the confusion and perplexity attendant upon the mono and bi controversy and the interminable jargon about "parity," "ratio" and "sich-like," it is refreshing to be able to turn for a relief to a consideration of absolute legal tender paper money and government banks.

—Miss Francis Willard, president of the W. C. T. U., and most widely known American woman, has, as she herself acknowledges, at last made the great discovery that intoxication is not the cause, but the result of poverty and oppression. This is the true solution of the great question, and we rejoice to know that Miss Willard so understands it.—Marshall (Mo.) People's Record.

—United States Senator Roach, of North Dakota, while attending a college commencement at Columbus, O., said that the people west of the Mississippi river are solid in favor of free coinage and if both the old parties should declare against it there would be a big split from them and a silver party would be formed. It would put a presidential candidate in nomination next year and the result would be that the election would be thrown into the house.

—Says the Kansas City Star of late date: "A three-million dollar 4 per cent. gold loan of the city of Chicago offered in London was subscribed several times over yesterday. English capitalists evidently do not consider Algeid and Hinrichsen such powers in Illinois as the two consider themselves—and the English capitalists are right." Ratal the return to the free coinage of silver will not set aside a contract to pay gold, but it would reduce the value of the gold thus paid.

—The silver agitation by democrats is only to save the party for the offices it gives. They know that the democratic party cannot give the country free silver or any other reform. It has on several occasions made the attempt and failed. The democratic party cannot shake off the money power, and its proposition to do so is only to fool the people. The leaders know that the democratic party would not stand a ghost of a show for supremacy now if deserted by the millionaires and English money power.—Southern Mercury.

The Nonconformist says: "The banks, which made the panic for their own selfish purposes, are now anxious for a revival of business as the only means of stopping the silver agitation. They hope that a sham pretense of prosperity will lull the people to sleep again and allow things to go on as they were, with the money power in full control and able any time to make or break the country at the turn of a screw." Just so. The plutes are now yelling that "confidence is restored," while the banks are expanding credits and the employers are raising wages. An era of good times is billed to arrive, in order to kill off the populists and the pesky free silverites. It will come very near doing it, too. "What fools these mortals be."

Breaks Out Everywhere.

"A taint of populism plainly manifest in the minority views of the supreme court on the late income tax law" is the swell head of the plutio Pittsburgh Dispatch. Yes, and if you will read the declaration of independence you will find a taint of populism there. You will find the same taint of populism in the speeches and writings of Abraham Lincoln. You will find it in the teaching of every educated man who is not directly or indirectly under pay of the money monopoly. You will find it pervades the sentiments of every man who is unselfish enough to wish his neighbor a better fate than slavery.—Sledge Hammer.

A Forecast.

The action of the republican leaguers at Cleveland forecasts the action of the republican convention next year. There is little doubt that the western free silver men will be able to force either a straddle or a dodge. There is but little doubt that after much bluster and menace they will acquiesce in the straddle or accept the dodge. Then the grand old party of high moral ideas will make a campaign for gold monometallism in the east and for hungary metallism in the west. And if victory is won, Wall street's choice for secretary of the treasury will be duly placed in charge of the finances of the government.—St. Louis Post-Dispatch.

FIGHT WILL COME OFF.

Corbett and Fitzsimmons Will Meet in the Ring at Dallas.

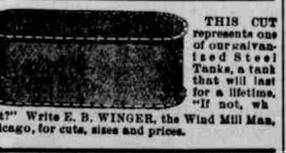

DALLAS, Texas, July 9.—Judge George Clark, of Waco, has submitted an opinion as to the legality of the proposed Corbett-Fitzsimmons glove contest. The opinion is very exhaustive and lengthy. His conclusions are: First—That the original act of 1891 was wholly inoperative. Second—That when its provisions were re-enacted in the penal code of 1895 it was still inoperative for want of some court to try the offense. Third—That the law was repealed by the revised statutes, which go into effect on September 1, 1895. Fourth—That there is now no law upon the statute book of Texas prohibiting pugilistic encounters, and that upon a payment or tender of the license fee prescribed for such exhibition, there is no lawful power in the state, under present laws, to interfere with the exhibition. Judge Clark gave the matter at issue careful study and patient research, and his opinion is most sweeping.

The Baltimore Plan, now practically endorsed by President Cleveland, is attracting universal attention because it is based on the evident fact that the currency and banking systems of the country must be reformed.

But is the Baltimore plan a reform? It gives the associated banks the power to expand the currency and relieve the country. It also gives them the power to contract it at will and create universal distress for their own private gain.

It puts the credit of the government behind every bank note. It donates all but half of one per cent of the profit on the note issue to the banks, and it leaves plenty of opportunities for a Napoleon of Finance to wreck a bank and leave the government to pay the notes.

It leaves the banks free to demand the highest interest that the several states will allow, and affords no relief to farmers and business men of moderate capital.

Contrast with this The Hill Banking System.

In "Money Found," an exceedingly valuable and instructive book published by Charles H. Kerr & Company of Chicago, and for sale at the office of this paper at 25 cents, Hon. Thos. E. Hill proposes that the government open its own bank in every large town or county seat in the United States, pay 3 per cent on long time deposits, receive deposits subject to check without interest, and loan money at the uniform rate of 4 per cent to every one offering security worth double the amount of the loan.

This plan is not an expense to the government, but a source of large revenue. It secures the government amply, which the Baltimore plan does not.

It relieves the distress of the common people, which the Baltimore plan does not.

It protects not only note-holders but depositors, who are unsecured now and under the Baltimore plan would be still worse off.

In a word, the Baltimore plan is in the interest of the bankers, the Hill Banking System is in the interest of the people.

Consider them both, and ask your congressman to vote for the one you believe in.
