AT FUNKE'S OPERA HOUSE. Grand I resentation of "Uncle Tom's Cabin" this Week.

"Uncle Tom's Cabin" was given to the public at a time when all civilized hu. manity were hesitating between their prejudices and their established modes of years, in West Virginia, whose dethought and the growing conviction felt | scendants number 2,000. in their innermost heart that slavery was all wrong. One result was the testimony of many colored persons and fugitive slaves who said to Mrs. Stowe, "Since that book has come out everybody is good to us." "We find friends everywhere." "It's wonderful how kind everybody is."

In England many demonstrations were made by anti-slavery societies, and many addresses were presented the author, and even when the civil war was initiated the workingmen of England did not lend themselves to any popular movement which would go to crush the oppressed in America, although this war brought hardship to their very

Among the noble ladies of England the book had many fervent admirers. It is a significant fact that the queen of England, in concurrence with Prince Albert, steadily resisted every attempt to enlist the war-like power of England against the Northern States. In fact the appearance of this work developed the latent sentiment against slavery, and was a potent factor in enlisting men in the ranks of those actively engaged in suppressing it. The Cook Twin Sisters colossal spec tacular Uncle Tom's Cabin will appear at the Funke Opera House, Friday and Saturday, Nov. 8 and 9, and a matinee Saturday 2:30. Sents now on sale 25, 50 and 75 cents.

Truth Regarding Money

Money, whether paper, gold or silver. etc., is a medium used to represent and facilitate exchange value of wealth in its different forms.

As money, it cannot be substituted for the exchange value in houses, food, clothing, etc., which it represents any more than a yard stick can be substituted for the cloth measured with it, or than a bushel measure can take the place of the grain measured with it, etc.

Its volume has nothing to do with the amount of laber necessary to produce houses, food, clothing, etc., which it re-

Under existing laws governing trade it performs two distinct offices, one of which is true to the producers of wealth, and the other is false to them.

It represents in the hands of the holders of it actual service or labor rendered

To that extent it performs its true office. On the other hand it represents in the hands of the holders of it rent, interest or profit incomes acquired through the producers from whom the rent is

To that extent it proves false to the producers of wealth, whether it is paper, gold or silver.

In other words, to that extent it per-forms the office of counterfeit money in the hands of those who thus get in possession of it.

For instance: A receives ten dollars as rent from B for which he (B) gets nothing as an equivalent.

A now pays the ten dollars to Cor some other party for actual wealth produced Now since A rendered no labor to B for it and received ten dollars worth of produce from C for it, therefore in passing through A's hands it performs the office of a counterfeit. Rent, interest or profit in this discussion are synonyms, meaning the amount of produce or useful service exacted by one party in a trade above what is given or loaned to the other party.

Land-natural opportunities-is not produced and furnished by either party in the exchange of title to it, and since the money under the present system rep resents the price in it, therefore to that extent it facilitates trade in the interest of the non-producers (represented by A) at the expense of the producers (represented by B.)

Hence to the extent rent, interest or profit is abolished in trade, to that extent the volume of money will expand in the hands of the producers in the different industries without a new issue by the government.

The money problem is a moral problem which can be solved only by making it represent in the hands of its holders actual labor or benefits rendered to society for it. This can only be accomplished by law through the abolition of rent, interest or Paper money performs the same office in representing the exchange value of wealth that gold and silver do, therefore the former is preferable to either of the latter, for the same economic reason that a wooden yard-stick, a wooden bushel, or an iron pound weight is preferable to one made of gold or silver. The money represents the whisky traffic as a beverage, as well as rental in-

While these and other moral evils exist in trade the money will represent them.

Their abolition is the principal solution to the money problem in the interest of the toiling masses. First give to the producers their full produce-that which the money represents to them, and not till then, can the money be made to go to whom it justly HENRY SCOTT.

Epilepsy 20 Years. Cured by Dr. Miles' Nervine.

A few years ago, Mr. L. W. Gallaher, was an extensive, successful expert manufacturer of lumber products. Attacked with epilepsy, he was obliged to give up his business. The attacks came upon him most inopportunely. One time falling from a carriage, at another down stairs, and often in the street. Once he fell down a shaft in the mill, his injuries nearly proving fatal. Mr. Gallaher writes from Milwaukee, Feb. 16, '95.

"There are none more miserable than epileptics. For 20 years I suffered with epileptic fits, having as high as five in one night. I tried any number of physicians, paying to one alone, a fee of $500.00 and have done little for years but search for something to help me, and have taken all the leading remedies, but received no benefit. A year ago my son, Chas. S. Gallaher, druggist at 191 Reed St., Milwaukee, gave me Dr. Miles' Restorative Nervine, and I tried it with gratifying results. Have had but two fits since I began taking it. I am better now in every way than I have been in 20 years." Dr. Miles' Remedies are sold by druggists on a positive guarantee that the first bottle will benefit or price refunded. Book on the Heart and Nerves, free. Address, Dr. Miles Medical Co., Elkhart, Ind.

Ayer's Sarsaparilla

"For five years, I was a great sufferer from a most persistent oblood disease, none of the various medicines I took being of any help whatever. Hoping that change of climate would benefit me, I went to Cuba, to Florida, and then to Saratoga Springs, where I remained some time drinking the waters. But all was no use. At last, being advised by several friends to try Ayer's Sarsaparilla, I began taking it, and very soon favorable results were manifest. To-day I consider myself a perfectly healthy man, with a good appetite and not the least trace of my former complaint. To all my friends, and especially young men like myself, I recommend Ayer's Sarsaparilla, if in need of a perfectly reliable blood-purifier." — Jose A. Morgan County, Colorado

The irrigated farm is the only "sure thing" farm on the face of the earth. And the beauty of it is that it never wears out-never fails to yield double the average of non-irrigated sections. There are irrigated farms in New Mexico that have been tilled for 250 years and which are today as good as new. In Arizona, the Pima Indians have for 400 years raised land. Along the Nile, in Egypt, are farms that are more than 4,000 years old and which produce larger and better yields than any other land in the world.

One of the best illustrations of the advantages of irrigation is to be found in the irrigated district surrounding Fort Morgan, Colorado, where during the last ten years half a million dollars have been spent in the construction of a system of irrigating canals which has no superior anywhere. A stretch of country perhaps 30 miles long by 15 wide has been brought under cultivation and now presents an appearance that is almost ideal. Fields of alfalfa, wheat, oats and corn lend brilliancy to the broad plateau. Thousands of sleek cattle and countless flocks of sheep browse upon the nutritions grasses. Here and there an orchard bends beneath its luscious load. A more flourishing community does not exist. And the secret of it is-Irrigation and Cattle. The Morgan County farmer lives on and from his farm which never fails to yield double the average of non-irrigated sections, and he grows rich on cattle. Men who are unacquainted with the results of farming by irrigation can form Great Rock Island no idea of its superiority over ordinary methods of agriculture. Think what it means to be able to hasten or retard the evelopment of growing crops-to make it rain when, where and in what volume you wish. True, all this means closer attention and greater labor, but are not the results worth it?

In Morgan County there are no cyclones no extremes of heat or cold; no malaria; no crop failures. The people are friendly. The religious and educational facilities all that can be desired. The markets high priced. The climate the finest in the

Morgan County land is not "cheap"that is, it is not cheap in the sense in which that word is ordinarily understood. The price ranges from $15 to $30 an acre including perpetual water right, but as a man can make a better living off 40 acres there than off 160 acres anywhere east of the Rocky Mountains, the apparent difference after all does not count for much. 80 acres is the favorite size. One Morgan County farmer gives it as his experience that 10 acres under irrigation in Morgan County is preferable to the best and most expensive quarter section in the "rain belt." The success he is meeting with gives weight to his
