House Rejects the Appropriation for Sectarian Indian Schools.

WASHINGTON, Feb 26 .- The House in committee of the whole, after a STABILITY OF THE ORGANIZATION very interesting debate, by a vote of 93 to 64, decided that none of the appropriations on the Indian appropriation bill for Indian schools should go to sectarian schools. The only sectarian schools to which money now goes are Roman Catholic in denomination, and the fight to-day was led by Mr. Linton, a Michigan Repub-lican, who is the most pronounced and openly avowed A. P. A. member on the floor.

In last year's bill the appropriation was cut down 20 per cent, with the understanding it should be reduced 20 per cent each year until it ceased at the end of five years. The com-mittee on Indian affairs this year recommended that this appropriation again be reduced 20 per cent, but Mr. Linton moved an amendment that no portion of this appropriation should go to sectarian schools. In his speech in support of it he attributed the defeat of many members two years ago to their refusal to abolish sectarian schools and predicted dis-aster to those who still stood out against their abolition. He also referred indignantly to a statue of Pierre Marquette, robed in the gown of a Jesuit priest and decorated with the paraphernalia of his church, which is shortly to be erected in Statuary hall in the presence of high dignitaries of the Catholic church.

He went on, however, and, pointing the people out and calling them by name, told them of their shortcomings. When they became demonstrative he shook his fist in their faces and quelled them. He told one member of the congregation that he some years ago had deserted his mother and allowed her to die in the poorhouse. He told how one brother had swindled a creditor out of money, and how another, in the capacity of notary public, had believed himself vested with the authority to perform the marriage service and had actually married a couple. He concluded by saying that hell would not take on mourning when some of the people died.

Yells of approval and disapproval were heard throughout the discourse and the scene was such as the people had never witnessed before in that quiet village. The sermon was the culmination of a long standing feud in the church.

SENATORS WARMED UR

A Decisive Vote Against Consideration Causes Mr. Morrill to Read Certain Silverites Out of the Republican Party-Treasury Relief Now Clearly Impossible—Teller's Hot Talk.

WASHINGTON, Feb. 26.-Mr. Morrill, chairman of the finance committee, moved in the Senate to-day that the tariff bill be taken up. He spoke, briefly, urging that the needs of the treasury and of business demanded actiou.

On the roll call Mr. Morrill's motion was defeated-yeas 22, nays 33. The vote was as follows: Yeas-Republicans, Aldrich, Allison, Baker, Brown, Burrows, Cameron, Clark, Cullom, Davis, Gear, Hale, Hansbrough, Hawley, Lodge, Mitchell (Oregon), Morrill, Nelson, Perkins, Proctor, Quay, Sherman and Shoup-22.

Nays-Republicans-Cannon, Carter, Dubois, Mantle and Teller-5. Democrats-Bacon, Bate, Berry, Caffery, Call, Chilton, Cockrell, George, Gordon, Gray, Harris, Hill, Lindsay, Martin, Morgan, Palmer, Pasco, Roach, Turpie, Vest, Walthall and White-22. Populists—Allen, Butler, Jones (Nevada), Kyle, Peffer and Stewart—6.
Total, 33.
Early in to-day's session Mr. Allen of Nebraska offered a resolution for the appointment of James B. *Lloyd of North Carolina second assistant door-keeper of the Senate. The resolution finally went over.

Mr. Morrill, chairman of the finance committee, followed with a distinct surprise, in the form of a resolution to take up the tariff bill. Mr. Morrill began with a brief statement as to the complications on the bill. He said that it had been apparent for many months that there was a deficiency in the revenues. During every month since the present tariff bill went into effect there had been a deficiency. "How was it before?" interjected

Mr. Cockrell. The deficiency up to the present time, went on Mr. Morrill, reached $20,000,000. If we went on at the same rate the deficiency would be $30,000,000 for the year. It was manifest that Congress should do something to relieve the treasury and assist in the revival of business. Therefore, he moved that the Senate proceed to the consideration of the tariff bill.

The roll call proceeded with many interruptions in order to allow Senators to pair. The announcement that Mr. Mor-rill's motion had been defeated-yeas 22, navs 83-was not unexpected in ocratic side of the chamber at this statement. Mr. Morrill, not noticing the interruption, declared that in his judgment the tariff bill was defeated by a vote including five silver Republicans and six Populists. There was no substantial change in the present and former votes. The Republican members of the finance committee would be ready at any time before Congress adjourned to come to the re-lief of the treasury. "But as to this bill," concluded Mr. Morrill, "I do not further time." Mr. Telier secured recognition as soon as Mr. Morrill concluded. The Colorado senator spoke with earnestness and evident feeling. He referred scornfully to the assertion of Mr. Morrill that there was not a Republican majority in the Senate. That was a fact that had long been understood. This statement, said Mr. Teller, came with a motion out of time and out of place, to proceed with the tariff bill. The senator from Vermont, Mr. Morrill, declared that certain senators on the Republican side of the chamber are no longer members of the Republican party. The senator from Mon-tana. Mr. Carter, who was, in the judgment of Mr. Teller, as good a Republican as the senator from Vermont, Mr. Morrill, had moved to recommit the bill.

"I charge," proceeded Mr. Teller, "and I will seek to prove later that this tariff bill never was presented with any purpose of passing it.

"If the Senator from Vermont," continued Mr. Teller, "thinks he can embarrass those who have been as devoted Looney a well known merchant of to the Republican party as he has this county, was killed and robbed in been, then he is mistaken. I will folhis store at Whitewater, a station on low my own judgment on this question. the Belmont branch railroad, about And I will stay in the Republican party in spite of the senator from Ver-

This sham effect to pass a tariff bill, added Mr. Teller, was degrading to the American Senate. It was degrading to those who took part in it. Mr. Morrill interrupted to say: "I have read no man out of the Republican party." Mr. Teller responded that the whole spirit of Mr. Morrill's course was in the line of driving out of the party all those who did not agree with him. It was the same intelerance shown by the metropolitian press, which bad already read the silver Republicans out of the party.

Mr. Frye of Maine took the floor to declare that the tariff bill was as dead as Julius Caesar. Business interests demanded that the statement be made emphatically that the bill was dead. He hoped that it would never be heard from again and that the responsibility should rest where it belonged.

At 2:10 p. m. Mr. Morgan resumed his speech on the Cuban resolution.

Bankers in Conference. NEW YORK, Feb. 26 .- Secretary of the Treasury Carlisle and the leading bank presidents of New York conferred vesterday afternoon at the Fifth Avenue hotel. The subject of the conference was sound financial legislation.

At the conclusion of the conference it was stated only the members of the sound currency committee of the Chamber of Commerce had been in-vited to meet the secretary. The gen-tlemen mentioned were in Mr. Carlisle's private room for upward of an hour and a half. When they left Gustave H. Schwab said the time had been devoted to a general exchange of views concerning the financial situation and the best methods of carrying on the sound money campaign.

Mr. Schwab added that the only definite outcome of the conference was that it was decided to call a special meeting of the sound currency com-mittee of the chamber to be held at 2:30 Wednesday afternoon.

Mr. Carlisle said he believed that both political parties would adopt "sound money" planks in their platforms; he was confident that this course would be followed by the Democrats. He listened to their address, the pictured glories of future independence and great results for the cause of religion.

"It can not be," he said. "I thank the trust you have shown me, but I must decline. Mrs. Booth and I will quietly retire from the army in which we have labored so long. Goodby and God's blessing rest upon you."
