

BROADY IS NOMINATED

First District Holds a Convention at Tecumseh.

THREE PARTIES UNITED IN ONE.

Twenty-three Ballots was Required - Everything Harmonious and all Pleased with the Result.

An All Night Session was Held to Facilitate the Work.

The populists democrats and free silver republicans in the first congressional district held their convention at Tecumseh on Tuesday of this week.

The several conventions were called to order at about 4 p. m. and after electing their permanent organizations, each appointed a committee of seven members, these three committees to meet and decide upon some plan of action whereby all three conventions might be united in their action, and report the plan back to their respective conventions for approval or rejection.

The three committees met at once and after much argument and discussion unanimously agreed upon a plan for one large mass convention in which the representation should be 138 populists, 138 democrats and forty free silver republicans.

The balloting for candidates commenced about 9 o'clock in the evening, with the following candidates before the convention: Judge J. H. Broady, Lincoln; H. M. Boydston, Nebraska City, and Matt Gerling of Cass county, as democrats; J. C. McNerney and G. W. Berge, Lincoln; C. S. Upton, Cass county; George W. Brewster and George A. Abbott, Richardson county, and J. A. Lamaster of Johnson county, as populists; and George E. Hebler and Col. L. C. Pace, Lincoln, as free silver republicans.

The balloting proceeded with many changes, sometimes one candidate leading and then another. The populists would not vote for a democratic nominee and the democrats would not vote for a populist, while the republicans cast their 40 votes for George E. Hibner.

On the 21st ballot, at 5 o'clock in the morning, Mr. Hibner gave up the struggle and withdrew his name. Col. L. C. Pace, the other free silver republican, had previously withdrawn. This left only populist and democrats before the Convention, and 159 votes were required to nominate. On the 23rd ballot all of the democrats voted for Judge J. H. Broady 138 votes, 117 of the populists voted for Berge with the remainder scattering. The free silver republicans cast eighteen votes for (dem.) and twenty votes for Berge (pop) and two, Hibner and Pace, did not vote.

The populists from Richardson county and six from Johnson county voted for Broady giving him 160 votes or one more than the required number to nominate. From the above it will be seen that Broady was nominated by populist votes, from those counties where he had formerly presided as district judge and was known and admired by all.

Immediately after the selection of Judge Broady the mass convention or caucus adjourned and each of the conventions met and formally placed him in nomination. He is a strong candidate, and all are well pleased with the result.

A Silver Club at Normal. Lincoln, Nebraska, Aug. 12, 1896.

Last week a silver club was formed at this place with an enrollment of about 100 members. Officers were elected and arrangements made for the organization of a flambeau club. Free silver 16 to 1 is our war cry. We are especially proud of our club as it contains persons who were formerly the staunchest republicans of our town. There are only three republican property holders in Normal and immediate vicinity who refused to add their names to the list and thereby express their desire and willingness to aid in the freeing of the tolling mass of this nation. The organization of these clubs should be encouraged and every person who is in favor of free silver—honest money—should appoint himself as a committee of one to see that an organization of the kind is formed in every town and village. See to it also that the county is polled and well represented. Get out and let people know how you feel about this all important financial question. You will in that way win more votes than you think for. We will let you hear from us again.

Boston Waking up. WAYLAND, Ind., Aug. 9, 1896. EDITOR INDEPENDENT:—I met a lady from Indianapolis while in Veedersburg and she says it is almost impossible to get through the streets for the crowds of men talking politics. Mrs. Curtis of Crawfordville has a sister and her husband visiting her from near Boston and they say the east has never been so agitated since war times and that Boston is just as bad or worse than Indianapolis and that police are kept busy all the time keeping down the excitement. Affectionately Dedicated to the Journal

Post by One Who Loves Him.

You have made us smile and smile, Uncle Bixby; Brightened many an idle while, Uncle Bixby; You have buttered o'er our woes, Flood and drought and Trompen's toes, And we love you goodness knows, Uncle Bixby.

You have sung Nebraska's praises, Uncle Bixby; Sunny smile and breezy ways, Uncle Bixby; But her son who stands today Where a nation waits his way You have greeted with a bray, Uncle Bixby.

Oh we do not marvel much, Uncle Bixby; For the world is full of such, Uncle Bixby; Any fool can jangle rhymes, Shake his cap and bells at times, But they ring no lasting chimes, Uncle Bixby;

It's no wonder that you try, Uncle Bixby; Flinging mud balls at the sky, Uncle Bixby; But it's not the road to fame, Blackening a noble name, Have caution for the same, Uncle Bixby;

When your bones and mine are dust, Uncle Bixby; And our pens have gone to rust, Uncle Bixby; Still Nebraska's star shall flame With her chosen leader's name And Bill Bryan is his name, Uncle Bixby.
