It is not a question of what the republican party did in war times, but what it has done for Nebraska in the past eight years.—Ex.

Put an X in the circle under the cottage home, then deliver your vote to the judges. That is the only mark you need on your ticket.—Trenton Register.

Put the judiciary in touch with the other departments and of the state government and Nebraska's redemption will be complete.—Lexington News.

The populist party is destroying the good name of the state, by showing up the rottenness of the republican ex-state officials.—Knox County Recorder

If Judge Post is elected, Bartley and Moore will both escape punishment. Had it not been for the order which Post wrote suspending his sentence, Bartley would now be in the penitentiary.—Custer County Chief.

When the republicans run the state of Nebraska the cost of maintaining patients at the Norfolk asylum was over $122 each per annum. Under populist rule the cost has been reduced to about $97 per annum. Stand up for Nebraska.—Madison Star.

A man can "hello" all the year round in North Carolina for eight dollars. No telephone companies have either assigned or left the state as they threatened to do if their charges were to be regulated by law.—The Industrial Leader.

Auditor Cornell has turned over $15,000 to the treasurer since he has been in office. Mr. Moore his predecessor turned $25,000 into a gold mine in Colorado. It got him into trouble, and, like Bartley, he has much to hope for in the election of Judge Post.—Butler County Press.

Jerome Shamp, of Lincoln, Neb. delivered a very able address here last night on the issues of the day, from a populist standpoint. It was one of the ablest speeches ever made in Verdiere by any speaker of any party. Mr. Shamp is a vote getter from "away back".—Knox County Recorder.

Taggart's majority over the republican candidate for mayor of Indianapolis is now figured at 4,800. Last fall the county of Marion, of which Indianapolis is practically all, gave McKinley 6,717 over Bryan. This is a change of 5,000 votes, indicating an alteration of sentiment in the middle west that will give over a great majority in Ohio.—Rocky Mountain News.

It is only within the last few weeks that it has occurred to the Jo Johnson republicans to charge Governor Holcomb with being the defaulter, rather than Bartley and Moore. In their stupidity to cover up their own malfeasances, the Jo Johnson republicans imagine that people will believe any old yarn. If Governor Holcomb embezzled the state funds, what has Bartley been tried and convicted for?—Adams County Democrat.

And now the Virginia judge has made the injunction against Debs et al., permanent. That is, a court has seen fit to exceed the powers of a legislature and has made a permanent law that no legislature has dared attempt to make. If courts can do these things why should we longer go to the expense and trouble of maintaining a congress and state legislature? Can't the people see to what extremity this thing is leading? And they continue to vote for a party that represents a class of tyrants that demand such things.—Farmers Tribune.

Corn 14 cents and wheat 60 knock the bottom out of the argument that the election of McKinley had anything to do with the rise of prices. A system of government that produces good times is one that keeps prices up to profitable levels. Existing conditions, such as shortages, speculations, and heavy fields, will always cause prices to fluctuate more or less, but if the financial policy of the country is as it should be the prices as a whole will remain high enough to maintain general prosperity. The gold standard gives us no assurance of permanent high prices.—People's Banner.

Our legislature passed a bill regulating charges for caring for cattle at the Omaha stock yards, and the Kansas legislature did the same. The stock yards people in both states protested in the courts against such attempts to regulate them, and Judge Munger, federal judge in Nebraska by grace of John M. Thurston, has granted an injunction restraining the state from enforcing the new law. In Kansas Judge Foster stood up for the new law, which goes to show that McKinley judges are always on the side of the corporations and monopoly combines.—Lawee Press.

The present state treasurer, with the delinquencies of his republican predecessor of $555,799.60 to him, took charge of the office and in six months brought state warrants to a premium and reduced the interest bearing state debt $182,747. This is a matter of record, and is but one of the good results which followed placing the reform parties in charge of the statehouse. Finish the redemption of the state by putting the supreme court in the hands of anti-republicans, and reform their own country by turning out the ring which has entrenched itself in the court house.—Watts-mouth Journal.

Nebraska state warrants are one per cent premium. Our state credit, which according to republican prediction during last year's campaign, was to go glimmering in case the populists triumphed, is in a very healthy condition. If the populists will always do as well, Nebraska can stand up under their rule with a smiling countenance. While the credit of the state is moving up a notch or two every month, and the school appropriation is rapidly increasing, and the school fund is being safely invested instead of being deposited, and the auditor is turning in thousands of dollars in fees, and the secretary under a law of his own drafting, is turning into the treasury several times the amount in fees that has been customary, and the penitentiary is being run at tens of thousands less expense, the people are not going to complain. They can stand a good deal of this sort of management, even though it is something so entirely new in the history of Nebraska politics as to make them open their eyes in wonder and astonishment. Of course, "a new broom sweeps clean"; but while it does satisfactory work, give it full credit. When it fails, cast it aside and get a fresher and better.—Antelope Tribune

The attorneys for Bartley's bondsmen charge that Governor Holcomb knew that Bartley was short in accounts at the beginning of his, Holcomb's, first term of office, and that yet he said nothing about it and approved his bond, whereat republicans set up a great howl and insist that he must disprove the charge or be accounted as bad as Bartley. Undoubtedly Holcomb will be heard from in due time. But his accusers entirely ignore the fact that it is always first in order for the party who makes a charge to prove it. This they have not done.—Silver Creek Times.

No department of our government needs reforming so badly as the judiciary. Judges stand nearer corporations, trusts, and monopolies than to the rank and file of the common people. Let the people turn out at the polls on election day and elect J. J. Sullivan supreme judge. A man of the people and for the people.—Clay County Patriot.

Owners of New York. According to the New York Herald, which has recently investigated the matter, Manhattan Island is owned by an astonishingly small number of persons. One-half of the land is owned by 170 families, with, says the Herald, "a very few owning the other half." Out of 2,000,000 residents, 1,800,000 have no interest whatever in the island except as renters. Yet the citizens of New York delight to boast of "their" great city. Their talk is much like that of a lot of poor wage slaves who work in the mines of some millionaire when they speak of their underground dungeon as "our mine."—Journal of the Knights of Labor.

There is no question that Tammany has made a bargain with the large demagogue in order to secure their large campaign contribution which these goldfingers would have refused if the Chicago platform had been endorsed. We are glad that the true democrats of New York have got together in convention and nominated Henry George, and endorsed the Chicago platform in its entirety. The regenerated democracy, under the leadership of Henry George, compose the regular democratic party of New York, because they represent the principles of the national democratic party as declared at the Chicago convention in 1896.—Silver Knight.

That was a great scheme of the republican managers to attract attention from the black record made by their officers for a number of years by turning their mud batteries on Governor Holcomb. The tax ridden people of Nebraska have suffered so long from the speculations of these same fellows that they cannot be deceived with chaff. If republican officers in the past had guarded the interests of the state with one-half the care and honesty that has been shown by Governor Holcomb for the two years and a half that he has been in office, they might be able to go before the people of this state with a different story. The first duty of every republican speaker when appearing before a Nebraska audience should be to apologize for being a republican.—York Democrat.

Cause of Postal Deficits. The official reports show that in 1892-94 the average price for carrying mails was 8 cents a pound for an average distance of 448 miles. At the same time railroads were carrying merchandise 2,400 miles five times as far as the average mail carriage, at 8-10 of a cent per pound. The government paid fifty times as much as the merchandise paid. The express companies carry mail to New York for 1-6 of a cent a pound, distance 396 miles—but the government pays 8 cents a pound, besides paying for the annual rent of the mail cars more $100 per cent of their cost. Expert testimony shows that at the above named rate per mile the profit of carrying would be from 100 to 150 per cent. Figure out the profit on the mail sealage on that basis. The government pays for rent of the postal cars $3,599,000 a year—500 of these cars in use. The cars could be built for $2,000,000 and their average life is twenty years. Thus the government pays $27,000,000 for the use of property it could own for $2,000,000. On the New York Central the government pays $8,599 a year for each car, and they can be built for $3,500.—[Common Cause.—Star and Kansan.

LETTER FROM ALLEN.

Concerning the Foreclosure and Sale of the Union Pacific.

Senator Allen sent the following telegram to the New York Journal in reply to a request for his opinions concerning the foreclosure and sale of the Union Pacific railroad:

LINCOLN, Neb., Oct. 14.—The acts of 1862, 1864 and 1867 provide a specific course to be pursued by the government in the enforcement of its lien on the Union Pacific railroad properties. Any other course is therefore highly irregular and inexcusable, if not absolutely illegal.

When a statute creates a new right and provides a new remedy for its enforcement the remedy thus provided is exclusive of all others, is a settled rule of law in this country and applies with full force to this case. The remedy provided by the above named acts should be followed. The attorney general had no authority to enter an appearance for the government and therefore the decrees are not binding upon it. Ordinary official courtesy would have dictated that, inasmuch as congress had cognizance of the matter, that the attorney general should do nothing until it acted. I think the situation imperatively demands that the president should direct the attorney general to appeal from the decree of foreclosure and hang the cases until the question is disposed of by congress.

WILLIAM V. ALLEN.

The Greatest Ride in History.

A territory of 271,000 square miles, comprising Washington, Idaho and Oregon as they are to-day, was saved to the Union by one man. He had the courage and heroism to ride on mule back for three thousand miles. The ride was thrilling, the trials and hardships marvelous, the result a glorious one. The whole story, beautifully illustrated, will be given in the November issue of the Ladies' Home Journal, under the title, "When Dr. Whitman Added Three Stars to Our Flag," the closing and most intensely interesting article in the Journal's successful series of "Great Personal Events." The first women to cross the Rockies figure in the story, which proves beyond a doubt that they preceded Fremont, the "Pathfinder" by six years.

BRUTALLY ASSAULTED.

Postmaster Ellison of Milan, Mo., Probably Fatally Assaulted.

MILAN, Mo., Oct. 20.—Henry and Charles Wilson, two brothers of this county, got drunk last night and proceeded to take the town of Holloco, a small place twelve miles north. They began on the postoffice building, breaking in the big plate windows, and going in and breaking up the mail boxes and throwing all the mail matter into the street. When M. C. Ellison, the recently appointed postmaster, appeared and asked them to quit, they both rushed at him with rocks. The encounter was stopped by bystanders who had arrived, but one of them made good his aim, striking Mr. Ellison near the left ear and crushing his skull in a horrible manner. His tongue, arms and body are paralyzed and late advices from attending physicians say he will die before morning. Sheriff Lee brought the murderers here and placed them in jail. Fears of lynching are entertained by the police in case Mr. Ellison dies.

Sooners Threaten Mischief.

WICHITA, Kan., Oct. 20.—Captain J. C. Price has just returned from a three months' trip through the Wichita country. He said to-day that the sooners along the border had made a quantity of turpentine balls, and that if Congress did not open the country to settlement they intended to set fire to the balls at different places in the territory and burn all the grass and timber in it. The treaty of the allied tribes expired last Sunday and the lease may possibly be renewed. To prevent it, the boomers threaten to fire the country.

A PECULIAR REMEDY.

Something About the New Discovery for Curing Dyspepsia.

The Rev. F. I. Bell, a highly esteemed minister residing in Weedsport, Cayuga Co., N. Y., in a recent letter writes as follows: "There has never been anything that I have taken that has relieved the Dyspepsia from which I have suffered for ten years except the new remedy called Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets. Since taking them I have had no distress at all after eating and again after long years' CAS SLEEP WELL. Rev. F. I. Bell, Weedsport, N. Y., formerly Idaho, Colo. Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets is a remarkable remedy, not only because it is a certain cure for all forms of indigestion, but because it seems to act as thoroughly in old chronic cases of Dyspepsia as well as in mild attacks of indigestion or biliousness. A person has Dyspepsia simply because the stomach is overworked, all it wants is a harmless, vegetable remedy to digest the food and thus give it the much needed rest. This is the secret of success of this peculiar remedy. No matter how weak or how much disordered the digestion may be, Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets will digest the food, whether the stomach works or not. New life and energy is given not only to the stomach but to every organ and nerve in the body. A trial of this splendid medicine will convince the most skeptical that Dyspepsia and all stomach troubles can be cured. The tablets are prepared by the Stuart Chemical Co., of Marshall, Mich., but so popular has the remedy become that Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets can now be obtained at any drug store at 50 cents per package. Send for book on stomach diseases free.

The contest was won by Palmer in twenty rounds. There was a half pound difference in weight in favor of Sullivan, but the betting was 2 to 1 in favor of the Englishman. Both appeared perfectly trained. Sullivan was not knocked out, but Palmer won on a lot of points. Sullivan was so much upset by his defeat that he wept.
