POSTAL TELEGRAPHS.

Foreign Governments.

In graph exists, there has usually never been any question of the wisdom of the assumption by the government of this important function. In this country when the telegraph was invented, it was proposed that the government should assume control and the first line be-tween Baltimore and Washington was constructed at the expense of the govetnment. A proposition was made by Morse at that time to sell his invention to the government for $100,000, but it was defeated in the House of representatives. The Postmaster General at that time, strongly favored the government ownership. Under instruction from Congress leased to private parties and the government relinquished control of the telegraphs.

MISSTATES THE LAW.

Law Does not Require the Redemption of Greenbacks in Gold.

Those who oppose government telegraphs in this country, often cite the case of public ownership in England as showing that there will be no profit therefrom for there has been a deficit ever since the English government took charge in 1869. But those who argue thus should not overlook the fact that during that time the telegraph rates. To fully appreciate these figures one must realize that the United States is the greatest letter-writing nation. The average number of pieces of mail matter, per capita, carried in Great Britain in 1896 was 46. In the United States 11,116,323,240 pieces of mail matter were handled, an average of 142 pieces per capita.

And the deficit has been small, not as great by any means as that of the postoffice department in the United States.

The rates are astonishingly low in Europe, when compared with those in America. The regular rate in France is one cent a word to any part of the republic, and the rates are about the same all over the continent. Here is a table of the average receipts per telegram in those countries for which I have been able to obtain such data.

Norway 20 cents for the government are redeemable in gold coin when gold is demanded, and in silver when silver is demanded, and in silver when silver is demanded. The redeemand that the option which belonged to the government was surrendered by the means of knowing.

In the agreement just concluded, the annual saving in interest to the government, if three per cent gold bonds should be substituted for four per cent coin bonds under the privilege reserve, would be $539,159, amounting in thirty years, or at the maturity of the coin bonds, to $16,174,778.

The provision in Mr. Cleveland's contract to save sixteen millions if Congress would authorize the issureance of gold bonds instead of coin bonds, shows that vember. Mr. Cleveland was selling "coin" bonds and not "gold" bonds, and that he could get sixteen millions more for sixtytwo millions of gold bonds than he could for that amount of coin bonds or silver bonds. If the parties to that contract had taken the same view of the question that the President does in his message, namely, that our obligations are gold obligations, the provision providing for saving sixteen millions by issuing gold bonds would never have been inserted. We think we may safelg state that Mr. McKinley is the first high official who has announced that the law requires payment of coin obligations in gold .-Silver Knight.

GOULD WON HIS SUIT.

His Legacy From Taxation.

George J. Gould has won his suit in the New York Court of appeals to exempt from taxes the $5,000,000 left him by his father for managing the business during the last five years of his life. Surrogate Fitzgerald decided in July that George Gould earned the mosey, and that therefore it was exempt from inheritance taxation. From this the state and city comptrollers appealed.
In his argument on behalf of the beirs Judge Dillian contended that the

ing. The millionaires of New York, can state in their wills, as Jay Gould did, that the money or property left to the heirs is to be considered as compensation for their services in assisting in the management of the business and thus avoid the payment of the inheritance

Keep up the Battle.

The reform papers of Nebraska should not be satisfied with the great victory just recently won, and let their interest for the great cause of bimetallism lag, for be it remembered that in less than twelve months there will be an election of far greater importance to the people than the one of this year. Next fall there are six congressmen to be elected in this state besides all the state officers and members of the legislature. "Eternal vigilance is the price of success." Let every true friend of the silver cause keep constantly on the picket line, and be ready to meet the enemy in the great battle to be fought at the polls next No-

FEDERATION OF LABOR OPPOSED.

Hawaiian Annexation Thatamount to the Admission of a Slave State.

The American Federation of labor in session at Nashville, Tennessee, has declared against the proposed annexation of the Hawaiian islands. The committee on resolutions, reported the following which were adopted:

Whereas, There is at present pending in the United Statessenate a treaty providing for the annexation of the Hawarian islands; and, Whereas, That annexation would be tantamount to the admission of a slave state, the representatives of which would necessarily work and vote for the enslavement in general; therefore, be it Resolved, By the American Federation of labor, that we disapprove of annexation; and Resolved. That we arge the United States senate to reject the treaty of annexation and to take such other steps as may be necessary to maintain amicable relations with Hawaii,
