

EDITORS' IDEAS.

Wealth is some part of nature's bounty plus the toil and skill of a human being. Nature is the source of wealth, man is the extractor, miner and artificer.

According to the report of the legislative investigating committee, Bill Dorgan unloaded thirteen guns upon the appraisers at an estimated cost of $187 which were the state's property.

Some day there will be a Nebraska legislature in session again and when that time comes some agricultural member should see to it that Nebraska has a game law that will protect the quails from the murderous fire of the shotgun during fall and winter.

The World-Herald does not put on as much style as the Bee, but its sting is seriously felt by the former, and it gets there just the same.

Prosperity has struck a lot more corporations, manufacturers, etc., etc., during the past week and they have posted notices of a 10 to 30 per cent cut in wages in consequence.

The latest reports from the Ohio contest is to the effect that twelve republican members of the legislature have refused to be bound down to Marcus Hanna.

The administration is very much agitated at the deficit in the revenue. Some way of taxing the poor will have to be contrived, for the idea of an income tax cannot be tolerated.

Republicans out of power are in favor of greenbacks, want bimetallic, demand Cuban independence and howl for civil service.

The concentration of wealth in the hands of a few by corrupt men is hastening the day of retribution. The plutocrats are determined to grind down the poor still more.

Just another sample of the quality of prosperity that is now being dished up as a side issue of the beautiful "gold standard" is an order posted by the new management of the union pacific.

The Journal criticizes a Kansas populist editor because he "did not like the president's message and knew he would not like it."

"I have just returned from a visit east" said the old man, buttoning up his long gray coat preparatory to starting for his own little vine and fig-tree a few miles from town.

SMALL HAPPENINGS.

Representative Joy of St. Louis has presented the president with a piece of the plank on which Senator Thurston stood as chairman of the national republican convention at St. Louis when he announced the nomination of William McKinley.

Ex-President Cleveland spent two hours in Washington the other day, but he did not leave his private car and not a single senator or representative called on him, although everybody knew of his passing through the city.

After months of travel in a vain endeavor to leave behind him the memory of his crime, Fred Morrissey, who embezzled $400 from the firm of Sears, Roebuck & Co., about a year ago, gave himself up to the St. Louis police Wednesday.

The other day an old gentleman by the name of Reed, who resides at twenty-eight and T streets, fell face down in the snow at twenty-seventh and T streets and lay there until found by two boys, who picked him up and conveyed him to his residence.

GRATIFYING RESULTS.

Interesting Experiments With the New Stomach Remedy.

Not a Patent Medicine, but a Safe Cure for all Forms of Indigestion.

The results of recent investigation have established, beyond question, the great value of the new preparation for indigestion and stomach troubles; it is composed of the digestive acids, pepsin, bismuth, golden seal and similar stomachics, prepared in the form of 20 grain lozenges, pleasant to the taste, convenient to carry when traveling, harmless to the most delicate stomach, and probably the safest, most effective cure yet discovered for indigestion, sour stomach, loss of appetite and flesh, nausea, sick headaches, palpitation of heart, and the many symptoms arising from imperfect digestion of food.

Over six thousand people in the state of Michigan alone in 1894 were cured of stomach troubles by Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets.

Full sized packages may be found at all druggists at 50c., or sent by mail on receipt of price from Stuart Co., Marshall, Mich. Send for free book on stomach diseases.

A Good Dictionary for Two Cents.

A dictionary containing the definitions of 10,000 of the most useful and important words in the English language, is published by the Dr. Williams Medicine Co., Schenectady, N. Y. While it contains some advertising, it is a complete dictionary, concise and correct.

In compiling this book care has been taken to omit none of those common words whose spelling or exact use occasions at times a momentary difficulty, even to well educated people.

To those who already have a dictionary, this book will commend itself because it is compact, light and convenient; to those who have no dictionary whatever, it will be invaluable.

The Trouble With It.

Lady customer—"I want to look at some sofas." Clerk—"Yes, madam; what do you think of this?" Lady customer—"It's too comfortable. Some one might sit down on it."

Tommy's View of it.

The Rev. Mr. Wilgus—"What are you going to be when you grow up, Tommy?" Tommy—"Be a preacher, I guess. I'd like to have the job of tending to other people's business and get paid for it besides."

How It Happened.

Harry—"Were you ever hypnotized?" Jack—"Only once." Harry—"When was that?" Jack—"When I lent you five dollars."

At the First Blush.

Landlady—"How do you like the butter, Mr. Bingster?" Bingster (the new boarder)—"I can tell better, madam, after we have known each other longer."

A Desirable Location.

House Hunter—I have looked over that house which you recommended so highly and I find the walls damp, the shutters half off, the drainage out of order, the cellar full of water and the roof leaky. Agent—Yes, sir; I know the house is in rather bad condition, but think of its advantages—there isn't a piano in that block!—New York Weekly.

Disenchantment.

"It has only been three years," said the sorrow lady with the down-drawn mouth, "since you said I was worth my weight in gold."

"I must have meant," said the gentleman with the stoop in his shoulders and the hand-me-down clothes, slightly soiled at the pockets, as if by carrying home mackerel, "gold bricks."—Cincinnati Enquirer.

Not a Temperance Country.

A story was told relating to Scotch hospitality, as explaining Scotland's reputation as a drinking nation. Some years ago a Scotchman residing in the interior, who had accumulated a fortune in America, paid a visit to his old home. Before leaving a fellow countryman asked him to take in his pocket a notebook, and to make a note of every visit he made with an observation as to whether or not he was offered liquor.

Panle on the Benches.

A Maine schoolmaster said with stern emphasis, the other day: "I saw the person who was whispering then. I am looking at that person now. Will that person arise before the school without obliging me to call names?" Two boys and four girls stood up blushing. The master is cross-eyed and wears glasses.

Cinderella.

The English tale of Cinderella is found in the Servian tale of Papaluga, in the German tale of Aschenputtel and in the fable of La Fontaine about the milkmaid and her pail. The legend of Beauty and the Beast is also found in the myths of the Hindoo, Greek and Norseman. All of these tales had a common origin in Central Asia.

Ben Takes a Ride.

A hen jumped on the fender of a Brockton & Taunton electric street car in Massachusetts, and taking a comfortable position rode to Taunton, she created a sensation on her way through the city and many thought he was dead until the car stopped and they saw her get up, shake herself, and walk leisurely up the street, where he was lost sight of almost immediately.

Christmas in England.

I fancy an English Christmas is too well known to need much description. English novels have described it fully, and the English illustrated papers at Christmas time give a good idea of the festivities. Every one who has a country place goes there for Christmas. There is generally a large house party, and dancing and skating help to pass the time. The houses and churches are decorated with holly and greens, and "mistletoe hangs on the castle wall."

In other respects it is kept very much as the American Christmas.—British Consul in Chicago Tribune.

Even the Court Knew About It.

One of the worst breaks heard in the court-room for many a day was that made by a bumptious attorney in Meadville, Pa., who declared that a certain principle of law was "so well known that even your honor must be familiar with it." Some of the smiles which greeted this assertion were distinctly audible.

These Three.

Diggs—I am a victim of faith, hope and charity. Biggs—How so? Diggs—When I started in business a year ago I had hopes that I should succeed, but no one seemed to have faith in me, and now I am an object of charity.

'Tis Then We Smile.

Some girls do up their hair at night in papers for a curl. And others let it fall around their shoulders in a whirl. Still others tie it in a knot. At them we do not scoff; But we snicker when we see the girl Who simply takes it off.

Value, $1.

"Do you know the value of an oath?" asked the judge of an old dorky who was to be the next witness. "Yes, sah, I does. One ob dese yeah lawyers done gib me foah dollars foh to swear to suffin. Dat's de value of an oath. Foah dollars, sah."

Explaining the Item.

Client—You have an item in your bill: "Adv. Jan. 8, '95." That was a day before I was born. Lawyer—I own it. But don't you remember the 8th I told you you'd better let me take the case for you? Client—Yes. Lawyer—Well, that's advice.

NOTICE TO NON-RESIDENTS.

First Pub. Dec. 21, '97. Last Pub. Jan. 28, '98.

Ella T. Noble, H. E. Noble, his first name unknown, Fanny M. Shaw and H. H. Shaw, his first name unknown, Virginia M. Daggett and H. S. Dalton & Co., defendants, will take notice that on the 21st day of December, 1897, John E. Davis, plaintiff herein, filed his petition in the district court of Lancaster county, Nebraska, and delivered by the said Joseph K. Marley, Florence N. Aron, Henry B. Aron, Fred E. Marley, Carlton C. Marley and H. S. Dalton & Co., defendants, the object and prayer of which are to foreclose a certain mortgage, executed and delivered by the said Joseph K. Marley and Mary E. Marley, his wife, to the Union State Banking Company, and for a valuable consideration duly assigned to the plaintiff, upon the following described real estate, situated in Lancaster county, Nebraska, to-wit: Lot number one (1), block number seven (7), in Hillside addition to the city of Lincoln, to secure the payment of one certain promissory note, dated July 15th, 1895, for the sum of $1,500.00 and due and payable August 1st, 1897, with the interest thereon according to the ten per cent coupon notes thereto attached and the ten coupons thereon given for a renewal of said amount on an extension of the time of payment of said principal sum for the sum of $25.00 each, payable August 1st, 1900, and every six months thereafter until the whole are paid, and further to correct the name of the payee in said last mentioned coupon, and to substitute the name of plaintiff, John E. Davis, as payee, so as to conform to the contract of this plaintiff with said Joseph K. Marley and Mary E. Marley, the name of H. S. Dalton & Co. having been inserted in said renewal coupons through a mistake.

There is now due upon said note and mortgage, the sum of $1,500.00 and ten per cent interest thereon from August 1st, 1897, and the further sum of $25.00 and interest thereon, paid by plaintiff, to protect his mortgage lien. Default having been made in paying the interest on said note, for more than one year, the plaintiff desires the whole amount of principal and interest to be now due and payable. The plaintiff prays that said mortgage may be foreclosed, and the proceeds may be paid to satisfy the amount due plaintiff thereon; and that the name of plaintiff may be substituted in the renewal coupon notes of that of H. S. Dalton & Co. and for general relief. View and copy of note, are required to answer said petition, on or before the 15th day of January, 1898. Dated this 21st day of December, 1897. JOHN E. DAVIS, Plaintiff. BY Wm. LESEE, his Attorney.
