Worden, convicted of wrecking a mail train bearing a guard of United States soldiers near Sacramento, Cal., during the great strike in 1894, and in whose behalf the supreme court of the United States declined to take favorable action, in his plea for a new trial, has confessed his crime to Governor Budd, with a view to receiving a commutation of the death sentence from the executive of the state.

VON DER AHE OUT ON BAIL

Chris Henches Pittsburg and Is Released Temporarily. PITTSBURG, Pa., Feb. 10.—Chris Von der Ahe, the St. Louis base ball magnate arrived at the Allegheny county jail at 8:15 last night in the custody of Detective Nicholas Bendel, who made the sensational kidnap at St. Louis. When the party reached the jail they were met by United States authorities, who produced habeas corpus papers issued by Judge Huntington, and claimed the prisoner. Bendel refused to deliver his man until the United States marshal had given him a receipt. After considerable wrangling this was done, and Mr. Gamble took charge of Mr. Von der Ahe. J. Scott Ferguson, his attorney, then signed a bail bond for $2,500, which released the magnate until this morning at 10 o'clock, when a hearing in the habeas corpus proceedings will be had. Von der Ahe's attorney says the arrest of his client was clearly illegal, and that he will go back to St. Louis under protection, and not in custody.

TROOPS FOR ALASKA

Cabinet Decides to Give Protection to Dyea and Skagway. WASHINGTON, Feb. 10.—At the cabinet meeting yesterday it was decided to send two companies of troops to Dyea and Skagway, Alaska, immediately, for the purpose of preserving order and protecting life and property. New Republican Deal in Indiana.

INDIANAPOLIS, Ind., Feb. 10.—Charles S. Hervey, a lawyer of Newcastle, has been elected chairman of the Republican state committee for two years. Mr. Hervey announces his platform as: "The Republicans of Indiana must no longer be under the guardianship of an Ohio boss; the campaign in Indiana must be made on the sound money issue; General Harrison must be invited to return to the councils of the party and will be invited to sound the 'keynote' for the coming campaign."

The Money of Emergencies.

During the late war in this country gold disappeared as the dangers increased. It could not be coaxed or forced from its hiding until the use of the greenback began to threaten its supremacy. Then by a bribe of 80 to 100 per cent added to its price it could be had in limited quantities only. In view of the facts and the experiences of the past, including Rome, Venice and many later nations, it may be stated as a general proposition almost without exception that paper is the only available and reliable money capable of expanding and meeting the great and sudden emergencies of war. It saved the Roman empire after the disastrous battle of Cannae; it sustained the existence and the vast commerce of the republic of Venice for more than 600 years of almost continual warfare on sea and land without a panic or failure. It was the only available war money in the American and French revolutions, of England and the continent of Europe during the Napoleonic wars, of America in the time of the great rebellion and of France in time of peace after her defeat and humiliation in 1870. In all of these great emergencies gold and silver coin failed to meet the necessary requirements of the times and paper money was the only means of salvation.—John Davis.

FIGHT WITH STUDENTS

Two Thousand Chicago College Boys Battle With Forty Policemen. CHICAGO, Feb. 10.—Two thousand students of the Rush Medical college, the Chicago College of Dental Surgery and the Marquette school, engaged in a desperate conflict yesterday afternoon at Harrison and Wood streets with forty policemen. The battle raged with intermissions of peace, from noon until 6 o'clock in the evening. The police were compelled to send in the riot calls repeatedly, and in the early part of the scrimmage they were badly worsted. It was a free-for-all, rough and tumble fight. The trouble began by the students engaging in a snow ball fight, in which the policemen interfered, and then the students joined forces and attacked the officers. During the fight four students were badly clubbed and Officers Sullivan and Brennan were injured in a manner sufficiently severe to give them a lay off of one week or thereabouts.

A HOUSE CONTEST.

Debate in the Aldrich-Plowman Case Begins. WASHINGTON, Feb. 10.—The House yesterday entered upon the consideration of the Aldrich-Plowman contested election case from the Fourth Alabama district. The majority of the committee reported in favor of sending the Republican candidate on the ground of conspiracy, an allegation vigorously denied by the Democratic majority. Mr. Plowman's plurality, on the face of the returns, was 2,967. The majority revised the figures so as to give Aldrich a plurality of 242. Two speeches were made on each side, by Messrs Taylor, of Ohio, and Mann, of Illinois, and by Messrs. Fox, of Mississippi, and Settle of Kentucky, for the minority. It is expected that a vote will be reached to-day.

COLOR MARKINGS.

Ohio Method of Identifying Blooded Hogs That Change Hands.

The Ohio Poland-China Record company has adopted a method of identifying hogs beyond doubt by their color markings. In animals that have been bred pure for generations the different spots, stripes and splashes of color can be easily traced and described, as a white foot, white hairs on rump or spot on shoulder, etc. A chart containing such color description in addition to its pedigree given along with a hog when it is sold and accompanying it through every change of ownership would be a means of fixing its identity positively. Such charts the record company uses in connection with established earmarks.

Mr. L. N. Bonham describes in The Breeder's Gazette the card as follows: The secretary has prepared forms of pedigree on the back of which appear blank outlines of the right and left sides of a pig. These blank outlines are also on the stub of the pedigree kept by the breeder. He gives instructions for the breeder to "take this blank and while looking at the pig before shipping him or sending his pedigree for record mark on these outlines with pencil all the points and spots as they appear on right side and then on the left. Before sending the pedigree mark with ink, solid black, all these spots and points as they appear on the pig." It is believed that such a description will be more exactly expressed than is possible by words. Holders of sales of their produce can do buyers a service and themselves great credit not only by use of ear tags, but also by indicating the color markings on the outlines to be found on the back of the pedigree. This should all be done before the day of sale and the pedigrees filled out from their private records of breeding, so that on the receipt of payment or note for the animal there is nothing to add to the pedigree but the purchaser's name and address and number of animal. The breeder who will go even further and instead of so much highfaluting and misleading superlatives will use a simple outline of form and add to this the color markings, would close the door against many opportunities for fraud and give specific and reliable information. The idea is applicable not only to identifying pigs offered for record, but for accuracy and fullness of description. We believe it is an effort in the right direction. Its success depends largely on the carefulness of the breeder who may use it. He may think it a desirable thing and yet not be skillful enough with pencil or pen to show accurately the size and location of markings. He also may not be skillful in use of his pen as a letter writer, but he can find those who can do such work if he wishes to serve his customers as well as he ought. The average breeder can give on these outlines a better idea of the number, location and size of the animal's markings than he can in words. The identification of his produce can be secured and no shyster can appropriate the breeder's skill or pedigree for another pig.

Young Shorthorn Cow.

For a perfect model of the female Shorthorn we have seen nothing superior to the young cow in the illustration. Her back is as straight as an arrow, her color a fine red, splashed here and there with white. Any one at a glance would know she was not suited to the dairy. She does not have to be. Her mission is to produce beef, and nobly she fulfills it. She is of one of the famous American Shorthorn families.

Live Stock Points.

A breeder made the experiment of feeding some milk cows and some fattening steers the same ration as to materials. It consisted of bran, cornmeal and oatmeal. He wished to find out which it cost the most to produce—a pound of butter or a pound of beef. He noted each pound of gain made by the steers, likewise each pound of butter the cows produced. The result was that the cost was for the beef, 34 cents; for the butter, 3 cents. Thus it cost a trifle more with the above feed to produce a pound of beef than a pound of butter, which is worth at least four times as much. Still, if everybody went to making butter instead of beef the price of the butter would soon be lower than that of beef.

YOUNG SHORTHORN COW.

The price of $60,000 recently paid for the 2-year-old racing colt Hamburg, in Kentucky, does not look as though the trade in thoroughbreds was dead.

A pig is always ready for market at 10 months old, and it ought to be ready at 8 months.

At the Chicago fat stock show the heaviest 2-year-old steer was a Hereford that weighed 1,800 pounds; the second heaviest was an Aberdeen-Angus, 1,750 pounds; the third heaviest, a Shorthorn, 1,600 pounds. The Hereford won also the sweepstakes prize.
