

AMERICA'S NEWEST COLONY

The Stars and Stripes Float Over Porto Rico.

FROM HONOLULU TO SAN JUAN

General Brooke Notices the War Department That the Occupation of the Island is Now Complete—What the Spaniards Have Lost.

WASHINGTON, Oct. 19.—The United States is now formally in possession of the island of Porto Rico as sovereign.

"SAN JUAN, Porto Rico, Oct. 18.—Secretary of War, Washington: Flags have been raised on public buildings and forts in this city, and saluted with national salutes.

From Honolulu to San Juan; this is the leap made by the Stars and Stripes in two months.

For over 200 years Spain has guarded Porto Rico. In 1529 French pirates attacked the coast.

Porto Rico has been held by the Spanish crown since early in the sixteenth century in the days of Ponce de Leon, who was so delighted with its loveliness that he sought there the fountain of youth.

As early as 1820 the Porto Ricans attempted to gain their independence.

It was in 1868, the year of the great uprising in Cuba, that the most formidable outbreak in Porto Rico occurred.

Porto Rico is the easternmost of the Greater Antilles. On the east the Lesser Antilles sweep in a great bow toward Trinidad, inclosing on the westward the Caribbean sea.

Our new colony is a parallelogram, about 105 miles long and forty miles wide.

The chief town of the island is San Juan, the capital, with a population of 23,414 inhabitants.

The largest city is Ponce, with 37,545 inhabitants. San German, the second city in size, has 35,146 inhabitants.

Our agricultural transactions with the island during the last year amounted to $4,170,000, the least since the civil war, except in 1895.

The total exports of the island in 1895 amounted to about $8,000,000, with about $9,000,000 in imports.

The Republican Claim That "McKinley Prosperity" Caused the Increase in School Funds Exploded.

STATE TAXES PAID SHOW THE CONTRARY

A Comparison of Two Years 1894-5 with Two Years 1896-7 Shows More Counties Decreased Than Increased Their Payments.

A Net Decrease of Over $50,000.

If the republican campaign managers had possessed the fairness and honesty to come frankly up to the mark at the opening of the campaign and admitted that Bartley, Russell & Co. had mismanaged the school funds and that the great increase in school fund apportionments the past 18 months, was simply the result of honest business management, they would have bettered their standing with intelligent people all over the state.

Instead of doing this—instead of saying that there was nothing wonderful in the better apportionment because it was simply business, common sense applied to the collection and disbursement of the school funds they in one breath damn Uncle Jake Wolfe for cancelling leases on school lands on which, not a cent had been paid for six or eight years and re-letting the land to those who would pay and in the same breath declare that the increase in school apportionment is all due to McKinley prosperity that caused the people to pay in thousands of dollars more taxes than previously.

This paper has heretofore given the summary of facts showing that in the two years, 1896-7, there were actually collected and paid in over $50,000 less money into the state treasury than the previous two years.

This showing is now given by counties. It completely overthrows the whole republican theory that the increase in school funds was the result of the payment of delinquent taxes caused by McKinley prosperity. It confirms Treasurer Meserve's statement that the collection of delinquent taxes fluctuates according to the action of county treasurers. About half the counties increased their payments in 1896-7 over the previous two years and half decreased. The total decrease as shown is over $50,000.
