The State Journal says that there is no law on the statute book giving one man an advantage over another.

Industrial despotism is the most terrible of all despotisms. A corporation master has more power and can use it more swiftly than any monarch or tyrant of old.

The schools of Lincoln and of the state of Nebraska must stand high in the opinion of other cities and states.

We have no votes to spare this fall or next. It will take our best men to win for us.

Why is it so many of the big papers of the east, edited by big Americans, are turning the cold shoulder to McKinley?

PHYSICIAN UNDER CONTRACT... FREE

May 13 in your leading editorial you do the governor of Nebraska a great injustice. The article contains but half the truth...

The republicans have two governors who seem to be working in the interest of the common people on many lines.

We had five boy friends; yes there were six of us always together. We hunted, fished and swam in the millpond together.

The Manila "Freedom," which also assumed the criticism of the governor as correct in the following manner: It says: "We are in receipt of a communication from L. S. Burnham, (Beatrice) of the old reliable First Nebraska, in which he takes exception to an editorial note which appeared in the 'Freedom' May 10."

TRUSTS AND PRICES

The prices of wire nails have been advanced about 100 per cent since the trust was formed, and some mills have been closed.

have closed all of the factories in the place. The effects upon the workingmen, however, will be more manifest when business prosperity begins to slacken and demand for goods to fall off.

ORIGIN OF PROPERTY

The Independent has often, in its discussion of socialism stated the origin of property. It has stood by the expression in the Omaha platform "that wealth belongs to him who creates it," and not to the community at large. The following statement is taken from the Kansas Commoner:

"Any man who thinks about it will see at once that the only rightful origin of property is in labor. It is the power to create which makes the right of property. For instance, if a man take a piece of rough lumber of no value and out of it carve a chair every one can see that he has a right to the result of his labor-the chair-and that he has a right to do what he pleases with it.
