papers have to say about the printing ink trust? Well they will hardly squeal for they are too servile.

Now that the assessors have finished their labors in most of the states their work falls to show wherein old General Prosperity has been blooming...

It is no disgrace, in this country at least, for a man to be poor, to be in debt, or even to be unable to pay his debts...

This cannot possibly be a government of the people, by the people, so long as the veto power is vested in the vacillating possession of men who are easily swayed by battery or hoodle.

There is not a rich tax-shirker in the land but favors the petty system of blackmail and robbery called a "poll-tax," which is still levied in the back number districts...

Of course by means of the gold standard the monopoly is made more complete. Were the mints open to silver, too, the monopoly would be partially broken...

SCHOOL LANDS.

As soon after the first of July as practicable I will hold public auctions for leasing about 695,000 acres of school land under the provisions of the new law...

These lands are in the best stock growing portions of the state, where cattle, sheep and horses can be produced at less expense, and therefore at greater profit, than anywhere I know of...

Notice of the auction will be duly given in the local papers. Send stamp for a copy of the new school land law under which the lands will be offered.

A PRIVILEGED CLASS

The Republican Party has Created a Great Many of Those Who Constantly Prey Upon the People.

The policy now held so tenaciously by the republican party and a policy which has until very recently received the united support of the democratic party...

Without taking space to quote authorities, I will simply assert that the function of issuing money is a governmental function. Will anyone controvert the proposition, I think not.

Can the government delegate this power to loan money? I will not now discuss this constitutional question.

conferring governmental powers and privileges upon individuals and corporations? Gen. Jackson answered the question once by destroying the national bank monopoly...

The national banks possess special privileges conferred upon them by the people. These privileges belong to government to the people. Why should bankers be a favored class?

In Jackson's time the national banks will seem all the paper and control all the gold, silver being already disgraced, gold will be king, and the bankers will manipulate the king like a jumping-jack.

So it is with the protective privileges conferred upon manufacturers. These, too, are governmental privileges. The theory of protection is to enable the manufacturer to tax the people to enrich him.

So with patents or inventions. All that the owner of a patent receives for his product or commodity, over and above a reasonable profit is a tax which he is enabled to levy upon consumers...

So with transportation companies. High judicial authority has decided that the tariffs levied by railway companies upon shippers and passengers is a tax; that the right to levy the tax comes solely from the government...

To break this monopoly we must have a purely national financial system, whereby the government will coin all the money, gold and silver on an equality, issue all paper money, do its own banking for the people, owned and operated by the government.

ATTEND THE PRIMARIES

I desire to make a specific application of some of the democratic principles I have been discussing. First of all the management of party affairs, as parties are now constituted, ought to be actually, not in name only, in the hands of the rank and file of the party.

If the rank and file of the populist party fail to turn out to caucus and attend faithfully to party affairs, "machine" politics will surely take control and the result will be a wrecked party.

that the other districts in this state are represented by lawyers. This position is unassailable and I hope the farmers of the district will rally to the support of the farmer candidate...

WHOSE COUNTRY IS THIS

Over Three Billions Paid to our Tax-Masters in 37 Years of Republican Rule.

In nearly all of the thirty-seven years of republican rule from June 30, 1861 to June 30, 1898, according to republican official figures of the treasury department, the people of the United States exported merchandise to the value of $2,108,629,164 more than they imported.

According to like figures the people of United States in the same time above stated, exported specie (gold and silver) to amount of $1,129,478,867 more than they imported.
