Senator Hanna entertained twentyfive leading business men at luncheon at the Union league club after which he made a short speech. The drift of the senator's talk was that the business men of the country were as much interested in this election as they were in 1896, and they should take as active a part in it as they did four years ago. He cautioned them that the only danger to the republican success was over-confidence and apathy on the part of men who are not accustomed to take an active part in politics and as much a free silver man now as he was four years ago Mr. Hanna's appeal was that his auditors wake up and go to work.

Griess Doing Good Work

Hor. Theo. Griess, candidate for auditor, is getting around over the state at a pace which makes it certain that he will see most if not all the many thousands of German-American voters. He made a tour of the North Platte at hustings and rallies he gave the glad nand to thousands and received conditions indicative of a sweeping fusion victory. His trip along the Republican Valley and other localities confirms the most sanguine hopes of fusionists. Mr. Griess' visits make him friends wherever he goes.

"Straws show which way the wind blows," is an old saying, and a true one. If there were any doubt as to the attitude of the German-Americans this year on the questions of imperialism and militarism, that doubt would vanish after a glance at the personnel of the fusion legislative tickets in the different districts. The German-Americans are determined that two anti-imperialist United States senators shall represent Nebraska for the next four and six years. They are also well pleased with the business-like admnistration of state affairs by the fusionists. Accordingly, some of the best farmers and business men in the state, of German birth or parentage and American to the core, have been induced to accept fusion nominations for legislative honors. Following are brief sketches of a few of these candi-
