CITY OF ROBBERS

J. Sterling Morton Proposes to Rob Washer Women and the Mayorasks the Attorney General Not to Prosecute Him

Nebraska City has placed an indelible blot upon its reputation by the action of its mayor and other citizens. It has petitioned Attorney General Smyth to allow Morton to operate a trust in this state in violation of law, in order that the citizens of that place may have a portion of the boodle. That is the exact position taken James B. Howard Found Guilty and the Notary Public. by the mayor of Nebraska City and a number of its citizens. They do not deny that Morton has organized a rob washerwomen, but they say that they will reap great advantages from the operation of the trust and the robbery that it will commit, so they don't punishment at death.

They ask the attorney general to violate his oath of office. They want the courts to allow the violation of law that they may profit thereby.

There was never a meaner, more dishonorable, selfish, despisable, criminal organization on the face of the death penalty. earth than Morton's starch trust, for it proposes, after having destroyed all competition, to rob the weakest and most heipless portion of the population of this state. The women who wash use starch. As they bend over their millionaire associates. And now comes the mayor of the city of Nebraska City and because he and some of the citizens of that town will share in the robberies of the trust ask that it be Clothing Store, a few door's west of
