REPUBLIC FACES A PROFOUND CRISIS

The Republic is confronted by a great national crisis-involving the perpetuity of the institutions founded by the fathers. For the first time in our country's history it has undertaken to subjugate a foreign people and to rule them by despotic power.

The president is waging war upon people of alien hirth for asserting the very principles for which the fathers of our own republic pledged their lives, their fortunes and their sacred honors.

The policy of the president offers the inhabitants of Porto Rico, Hawali and the Philippines no hope of independence, no prospect of American citizenship, no constitational protection, no representation in the Congress which taxes him.

This is the government of men by arbitrary power without their consent; this is Imperialism.

This is the issue which the Kansas City platform declares to be the paramount question in American politics.

There is no room under the American flag for subjects. The president and congress, who derive all their powers from the Constitution, can govern no man without

No nation can endure part citizen and part subject.

We have come as a people to the parting of the ways. Which shall it be-Republie or Empire?

Shall we remain true to the American Ideal or shall we adopt the sword? Is the Republic of Washington and Jefferson ready for this tremendous stride backward ?

KING GEORGE AND KING WILLIAM.

When the American colonies were in revolt against Great Britain, George III., then king, issued a proclamation as follows:

"I am d sirous of restoring to them (the American colonics), the blessings o' lann, which they have fatally and desperately exchanged for the calamities of war, and the arbitrary tyranny of their chiefs." -George III. of England, in 1776.

United States were chasing the patriotic Filipinos from their burning homes, President McKinlev assured them of his kind purposes as follows: "That Congress will provide for them (the Filipinos), a government which will bring them blessings, which will promote their material interests, as well as advance their

Jump In Sugar.

In 1988, just after the Sugar Trust was formed, the average price of raw sugar was the same as in 1885, but the average price of relined sugar advanced so that the difference between the price of raw sugar and the price of cellned sugar was 76 per cent more shan in 1985 and about 70 per cent more than in 1887, the year the trust was formed. Recently sugar has made nevances amounting to a total of 2 cents on the pound. #### Standard Oli Again.

.he Standard Oil is another monopoly that has kept prices form failing as much as the diminished cost of transportation and refining would have caused them to full in an open market, and at times it has afted prices absointely os well as relatively, in spite of the vast improvements in processes of monufacture, great cheapening of transportation by the pipe-line service, and the failing price of crude oil. From 1804 to 1897, for example, the prize of relined atl went up 14 per cent, | while the arice of crude oil declined i per cont. Oli rose at whulesale in New york from 3 cents in November. 197, to 6 cents in December, 1899, and it has gone still higher in 1900. One may charge the fair value of the services he renders without a monsinoly. But monopoly gives power to charge more than that value, in ether mords, monopoly confers the inentimalate privilege of demanding something for nothing.

BRYAN ON ARBITRATION (From Letter of Acceptance.)

"The platform renews the demand for arbitration between corporations and their employes. No one who has observed the friction which arises between great corjorations and their numerous employes can doubt the wisdom of establishing an impartial court for the just and equitable settlement of disputes. The demand for arbitration ought to be supported as heartily by the public, which suffers laconvenience because of strikes and lockonts, and by the employers themselves, as by the employes. The establishment of arbitration will secure friendly relations between labor and capital, and render obsolete the growing practice of calling the army to settle labor troubles."
